For the fourth year in a row, Newsies in the St. Joseph area shattered their previous year's selling record, and in the process boosted the St. Joseph Area Good Fellow fund over the annual goal of $5,000. A total of $3,794.82 was brought in during yesterday's 24th Newsie sale, nearly $300 over last year's all-time Newsie total. The sale total combined with $1,317.06 in advance gifts received to date pushed the Good Fellow fund total to $5,111.88 as of last night.

Ex-BCA Director Bound Over

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

Mrs. Helen Ford, former director of Berrien County Action, Inc. (BCA), was bound over to Circuit court Friday on a charge of using false pretenses to obtain $5,900 in back wages from the BCA board of directors.

Berrien District Judge Ronald J. Taylor also took under advisement a second indictment, also from the Berrien citizens' grand jury, charging a similar offense: obtaining over $100 under false pretenses.

The second charge was filed in connection with a $3,500 auto loan that her attorney admitted she received from Inter-City bank, of Benton Harbor.

During yesterday's hearing it was stated that Mrs. Ford had repaid the auto loan before her indictment.

And Taylor said previous witnesses indicated that new federal funds which could have been used for the salary increase were received a month after Mrs. Ford's pay raise was approved.

During the examination Taylor heard conflicting testimony about what uses the BCA funds could be used for.

Regarding the BCA charge, Prosecutor John Smetanka alleged that Mrs. Ford rustled the board on Jan. 21, 1976. He said she got a pay raise from $15,000 to $20,000 a year, with $5,900 to be paid retroactively, by claiming the money in the BCA treasury contained funds earmarked for salaries. In fact, Smetanka said, Mrs. Ford knew money for this use was not available.

Defense Atty. Benjamin Logan countered by saying that Mrs. Ford didn't control the board and shouldn't be held accountable for possible mistakes.

Further, Logan said that the action involved "juggling" procedures that many governmental agencies practice.

The only witness who testified yesterday during the third day of Mrs. Ford's preliminary examination was Benton Harbor City Manager Melvin Farmer, Jr. He said he was BCA's treasurer on Jan. 21, 1976, the date of the meeting the alleged

BH Newsies Ring Up $5,000-Plus Collection

By JIM SHANAHAN
City Editor

Exchange club Newsies cracked the $5,000 mark Friday for the fourth time in 47 years of Christmas newspaper sales and put the Benton Harbor Area Good Fellow fund over the top.

The Newsies rang up $5,000.65 by 8 o'clock last night. A few precincts were still unreported, so there was a possibility the 1976 Newsie sale total could soar close to the all-time record of $5,296 set in 1962.

The tremendous effort by the Exchange club shot the total of the Benton Harbor Area Good Fellow fund to $7,864.72 — more than $100 over goal a week before Christmas.

How did it happen that the Newsies brought in their highest total (with more still expected) since 1962 when $5,189 was collected.

Santa Claus can explain it. "First, it's the willingness of people to respond to a worthy cause. But just as important is the organization representing that cause."

Fifteen teams of Exchange members and their helpers went out yesterday. They were about 75 strong, not the largest corps ever assembled; but perhaps never before had the Newsies been so well organized and determined.

They also got a break from something no one can control — the weather. The temperature hung in the mid-30s with no snow or rain.

"It helped give us staying power," said Exchange President Don Peters. "We had to move to keep warm, but it wasn't cold enough to blow us off the streets."

Don teamed with his wife, Rheta, as one of the top sales combinations, bringing in $241.98.

Atty. Jim Straub had plenty of responsibility as sale chairman for Exchange, but he checked in with $215.28 for the Good Fellow fund.

Ed Miller was champion salesman for the seventh straight year with a whopping $486.02. A four-man team of Gene Brooks, Jim McIntyre, Jack Huffman and Merlin Bushert worked the Riverview area for $377.41. Old faithful Frank Daniels sold $310.72 of the mini Good Fellow editions.

Other Newsies near the top of the ledger were:

Cliff Anderson-Les Miner $228.19; Don Boerna $201.09; Fred Peden $190.60; Dave and Liana Ohman $188.58; Ermine Umphrey $184.33; Karen Kesterke $146.82; Jack Pepple $140.14; Bruce Schadler $114.89; Hugh and Ella Ball $111.14; Marvin Rendel $108.31; Ray Backus $107.85; Coach Joe Rogers $98.64; Dr. R.C. Conybeare $86.25; Ken Wolman $82.68; John Kubizna $81.42; Jerry Tooley $80.76.

Many checks were stuffed into the Newsies' bags and the most surprising was $150 from the Benton Harbor high school class of 1966 — very generous Tigers.

Among other checks were: Whirlpool Corp. $250; Modern Plastics Corp. $100; Richard E. Willard $75; Michigan Standard Alloys $50; Pearson Construction Co. $35; Hugh E. Ball $30; Benton Harbor Awning & Tent Co. $25; Marvin R. Rendel $25; Sandvik, Inc. $25; Industrial Electric Co. $25; Vandenberg Leasing, Inc. $25; Martin Brothers Mill and Foundry Supply Co. $25; Fenner Roofing & Sheet Metal, Inc. $25; Herkner, Smiths, Miksill & Merrifield $20; Peden's Excel Pest Control $20; Jeffrey S. Schrudt, DDS. $20; B.A. Peters & Sons $20; Dave Goldbaum $20; Kaywood Division $20.

And many, many more both as sellers and givers who made Newsie Sale '76 a huge success and will provide Christmas for the needy elderly and deserving families of the Benton Harbor area.

Believe LaSalle's Winter Milder

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

The weather a group of 23 voyagers is facing in re-enacting the historic expedition of French Explorer LaSalle is far worse than the original explorers encountered in 1681 and 1682, according to the leader of LaSalle Expedition II.

"History books tell us LaSalle had a relatively mild winter when he made his voyage," said Reid Henri Lewis, an Elgin, Ill., high school teacher and leader of the group. "This winter, when we are trying to recreate the voyage, is predicted to be the worst in the last 96 years."

The LaSalle expedition was holed up Friday at Whiting, Ind., west of Gary, with lake conditions that wouldn't permit canoeing.

"It's a combination of the wind and the ice on the lake," Lewis said. "The waves on the lake are just too big for canoeing and the ice, which appears to accumulate on the south end of Lake Michigan, is just too treacherous." Lewis said the group is waiting for a change in the direction and speed of the wind before attempting to continue canoeing.

Although the expedition is three days behind schedule, Lewis said they will keep program commitments by busying the voyagers to program sites.

Lewis said the group intends to keep program commitments at New Buffalo high school at 8 p.m. tonight and St. Joseph tomorrow. Sunday's schedule calls for a public mass at 7:30 p.m. in St. Joseph Catholic church, preceded by a program at 7:15 with choral music and readings in French.

On Monday, the voyagers are scheduled to appear at noon before a joint meeting of Twin City Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs. David Upton, chairman of the Berrien county LaSalle II committee, said if the voyagers are still behind schedule then they might not be able to keep the noon date.

In that event, a LaSalle expedition program will be presented by the expedition's advance crew, Upton said.

However, Monday night's activities in St. Joseph will be held with voyagers in attendance at a dinner at 6:30 in St. Joseph high school cafeteria and program in the high school auditorium at 8. Upton said they will definitely be busied to these events if unable to paddle.

REID HENRI LEWIS

If the voyagers camp in St. Joseph, it will be along the river bank below Lakeview Terrace apartments, Upton said.

The group is retracing the voyage of LaSalle who claimed the Mississippi valley for France. They started in LaSalle, Quebec, in August and it is all expected to end April 15 when the explorers reach New Orleans.

Members of the party include 15 high school students from Elgin, Ill., six educators, a playwright and a priest. They have duplicated the clothing, food and tools of the original 17th century journey.

Libertowski Freed Of Murder Charge

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

After seven months in jail on charges that he killed two former girlfriends, Gerald Libertowski walked away from the last of the charges yesterday, a free man.

His only show of emotion as he left the courtroom of Berrien District Judge Ronald Taylor, who had just dismissed the last murder charge late in the afternoon, was to embrace and kiss his fiancée, hug his sister, and exchange handshakes with his attorneys.

Libertowski was acquitted last summer in Indiana on a charge of murdering a South Bend woman. Yesterday a murder charge involving a Niles woman was dismissed. No bodies have ever been found in the two cases.

He was first arrested in April of this year and charged in Indiana with murder in connection with the disappearance of Janeke Langs. An Indiana jury in August found him innocent of the murder charge and in September he was ordered extradited to Michigan to face a murder charge in connection with the disappearance of Janis

Kay Sanders of Niles. Libertowski yesterday told reporters he had no immediate comment as he walked towards a tunnel which would take him to the Berrien county jail to pick up his belongings.

He said he had no immediate plans, but indicated he intended to go to South Bend or visit his parents in Buchanan.

The dismissal of the murder charge was quick and direct — a sharp contrast to the lengthy and often complicated legal proceedings which have surrounded Libertowski's case since his arrest on the Michigan charge last August. Libertowski, 34, a South Bend building contractor, was charged with murder in the disappearance of Mrs. Sanders who

Oil Exporters Raise The Ante Once More

Somewhat reminiscent of the steel companies raising prices on certain products by five per cent for the stated reason that sales are slow, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries got around Thursday to establishing a higher price for their product.

Eleven of the 13 OPEC members agreed upon a 10 per cent increase after January 1st, to be followed by a five per cent boost six months later.

Casting a nay vote of sorts, Saudi Arabia and one of the Emirates announced a five per cent jump only two weeks hence.

OPEC emerged in 1960 as a cartel to obtain more money for its major natural resource.

Venezuela, the only non-Arab member, is thought to be the prime mover in the organization.

Through the years it has successfully squeezed more income from the consumer industrialized nations through a combination of expropriating the oil fields from foreign ownership, establishing production quotas, and setting a floor pricing structure.

Its 1975 increase of 10 per cent added greatly to the woes of a sluggish U.S. economy and came close to wrecking those of several European nations.

It followed a similar increase in 1974 which came after a 1973 embargo to customers suspected of extending too many favors to Israel.

The effect in our country was to send electricity bills jumping, to increase the cost of home heating, and in many areas to create waiting lines at the gas pumps for the privilege of paying a substantially higher price for what some CB operators call "motion lotion."

This month's gathering opened at Doha, the capital of the Qatar Emirate, on a note of going up 15 per cent.

The spurious reason offered was the claim the OPEC members were losing last year's 10 per cent increase in the inflation of what they pay for imports from the industrialized nations.

Taking their logic at face value, three per cent would be more in line.

OPEC as an entity produces over 30 million barrels of crude petroleum a day.

Saudi Arabia's share of that production is 8.5 million barrels. The country is thought to have the capability to raise that to 11 million barrels.

The effect of Thursday's increase depends considerably on the Saudis' course of raising or lowering their production and whether they stick to the five per cent figure.

Two years ago the Saudis publicly denounced an OPEC decision to raise royalties and extraction taxes; then quietly fell in line with the majority's action.

Substantially, the effect rests on the Saudis creating a two-tier market or duplicating their 1974 maneuver.

U.S. Petroleum experts forecast the 10 per cent increase will boost gasoline prices a penny a gallon, possibly a shade more.

It would seem questionable, if this negligible result would hold for home heating and electricity.

Down the line from January 1st there are deeper implications.

Project Independence launched by Nixon before his Watergate resignation to find other energy sources to make Uncle Sam free from OPEC manipulations has been a complete failure.

Prior to the 1973 embargo our country imported 29 per cent of its petroleum requirements.

Today it stands at 42 per cent, of which 34 per cent comes from OPEC wells.

This retrogression which is bad enough can turn for the worse when Russia comes to the world market for oil. Geologists feel her wells are a steadily diminishing asset and in the early 1980s the Soviets will be bidding for foreign oil.

Project Independence has lagged because the Washington power structure finds it more delightful to chasing will-o-the-wisps such as re-examining the Kennedy assassination than coming to grips with nitty questions which left unanswered will give Uncle Sam more than what seasoned travelers refer to as Montezuma's revenge.

Jimmy Carter has made jobs his first priority when he takes over the White House.

Rather than fiddling around with patchwork remedies in the nature of reviving the WPA, he better get on with Project Independence lest everyone find himself out of work.

Too Long A Gap Between Election, Taking Office

There may be a flaw in the gap between an early November election of a President of the United States and his mid-January inauguration. Some time is required for an orderly change of administrations, but two and a half months may be too much.

As has been demonstrated during the current transition, a prolonged interval can prove embarrassing to both the outgoing and incoming presidents, and it also can serve as a point of contention between the two administrations.

Gerald Ford remains President until January 20, but each major decision he makes, each policy pronouncement, each reaction to a world event is colored by the fact his days in office are drawing to a close and everyone from members of Congress to heads of other capitals knows it. Yet decisions have to be made fairly. What has been properly called the world's toughest job cannot simply remain vacant for 10 weeks.

Jimmy Carter is faced with a similar problem. The President-elect is bombarded constantly in person and through his aides for his views on unfolding events. Important diplomats want to see him to sound out his foreign policy views. Should he comment, either favorably or otherwise, on Ford administration actions?

Compounding all that; one of the first assignments a new president is handed is to review the work just completed by his predecessor — such as the next fiscal budget — and immediately begin making changes to suit his goals and priorities.

Much of the confusion and friction could be avoided if the interval between the vote and the installation were not so long.

BERRIEN RENEWAL PROGRAM WANTED

Editor, Berrien County has an abundance of people willing to work in any job paying enough to ward off starvation, however, there is an acute shortage of jobs for unskilled workers.

Not all of the unemployed are receiving unemployment compensation, nor do they qualify for welfare. They are the nucleus of the forgotten multitude; those displaced through machine technology.

The United States will soon enter the third century of independence and it's 370th year of carving a nation through a vast wilderness. Many of today's forgotten multitude are the descendants of plantation workers and others who entered this nation in bondage; others are descendants of the pioneers who migrated to Michigan territory in the mid 19th century.

Whenever our nation was in trouble in recent years, many members of the forgotten multitude were there to fight on the side of democracy. To these people and those who accepted the jobs no one else wanted, we owe a debt.

It is hoped the near future will see a huge urban renewal program in Berrien County — so vast that it will restore the Twin Cities to their former glory and put regular pay checks in the pockets of a remembered multitude.

Some Cities Point The Way

WASHINGTON — If President-elect Carter wants ideas for getting people involved in government and in improving services, he should look at what's happening in some of our cities.

Mt. Pleasant in South Carolina interviews all municipal employees quitting their jobs to find out what they think is wrong with the way things are run.

In Independence, Mo., neighborhood councils elect representatives to keep in close touch with specific city departments. Cleveland Heights, Ohio, achieves the same end through street associations.

Plainfield, N.J., has organized a citizens group which makes recommendations to the mayor in preparing and reviewing the annual city budget.

A Worcester, Mass., steering committee seeks out executives in private industry who will volunteer their services to the city part time. Major contribution thus far has been in developing a financial control and reporting system.

Madison, N.J., has compiled a list of citizens expert in specific fields. They're called in, when needed, to come up with solutions to persistent municipal headaches. Scottsdale, Ariz., holds regular sessions aimed at finding new ways to handle nagging problems, invites private professionals, academic types and the officials concerned.

Fond du Lac, Wis., has held citizen meetings in school cafeterias to get the views of low-income residents on community needs and on priorities for investing federal development funds.

Worthington, Ohio, used volunteers, including architects, for planning, financing and constructing major improvements in a public park.

Fairfield, N.J., has set up an ombudsman office to help residents deal with city agencies. The deputy city administrator analyzes the complaints, and when he finds a pattern, identifies policy changes necessary to prevent recurrence of the problems.

Lancaster, S.C., requires city employees to turn in something called a ix-A-Gram whenever they note potholes, missing stop signs and other problems in their daily work, whether concerned with their own department or not.

Liv. Mich., has a joint servistaffed by 30 volunteers, each of whom has gone through an intensive five-week training program covering each city department, social agencies, local recreation programs and clubs and organizations which offer service to citizens.

Greenville, S.C., has set up suggestion boxes at convenient points through the city to encourage citizen suggestions and complaints.

With the cooperation of the National Science Foundation and a number of high-technology industries, a California non-profit organization has placed science advisers in 11 California cities to discover ways in which new technology can be used to improve efficiency and services.

Recent reviews of efficiency studies seem to indicate that feedback, both positive and negative, is perhaps the prime essential in improving productivity. And in fact, those city and county departments known to this reporter which have set up systems which encourage citizen response have, in my humble best records of efficiency. By contrast, the closed systems, more often than not, end up as hopeless quagmires. Shortchanged citizens are shunted from official to official and clerk to clerk until they give up in despair.

Carols Banned, But Sex Is In

The residents of the New England school district in which I live have just had a good whiff of the Spirit of the Age. The district is slightly atypical in that it is in the neighborhood of Dartmouth College and therefore academic - professional class in character, but it is also diverse and certainly not removed from the mainstream of American life. The following two items go together. They are opposite sides of the same coin.

Item One: Any recognition of Christmas, such as carol singing, has been effectively banned this year from the local elementary school, despite considerable protest from the citizenry.

Item Two: A program in sex education, beginning in the early grades, has actually been made compulsory, again despite considerable protest from the citizenry.

The symbolic displacement of one culture by another could not be more dramatic. I note that until this year the children in the elementary school did sing Christmas carols at festivities enjoyed by the community. Now such goings-on are verboten.

School officials have instituted this symbolic revolution without any sense of hypocrisy or internal contradiction. Thus, an objection to Christmas carols, raised by a small minority of parents, provides the official rationale for banning them. On the other hand, when a much larger group of parents objects to the sex education course, this changes nothing.

School officials like to point out that a variety of opinions regarding religion exist in the community, therefore no Christmas carols. When it is pointed out to them that a variety of opinions regarding sexual behavior also exist, including the opinion that it is not the province of the public schools, this completely fails to register with school officials. The message is clear enough: Sex is Christmas Now.

During the 18th century, of course, religious instruction of various kinds was commonplace in the public schools. Now, in the 20th century, sex instruction is compulsory while religion is proscribed.

What could better epitomize the spirit of the age, at least in "enlightened" circles, the spirit of what sociologist Pitirim Sorokin called a Sensitive Culture? The public schools put their stamp of approval on the shift, essentially a shift in perception of ultimate meaning. More than their stamp of approval, indeed; they become mechanisms of inculcation and enforcement.

Not surprisingly, school officials take a self-righteous view, sometimes to the point of piousness, about their new mission. Some students, they point out, are "offended" by Christmas carols. The word "offended" in this context is beautiful, as if a Christmas carol were a sort of dirty joke, giving "offense." Anyway, school officials explain further, religion belongs "in the home."

Okay, you reply, a lot of people think sex belongs "in the home" too. The effect of that reactionary thought is nil.

Many elementary school children, explain school officials, have "chosen to be sexually active." Another beautiful formulation. It is customarily announced in tones appropriate to a Victorian clergyman pleased by a spate of early vocations.

Oil Exporters Raise The Ante Once More

Somewhat reminiscent of the steel companies raising prices on certain products by five per cent for the stated reason that sales are slow, the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries got around Thursday to establishing a higher price for their product.

Eleven of the 13 OPEC members agreed upon a 10 per cent increase after January 1st, to be followed by a five per cent boost six months later.

Casting a nay vote of sorts, Saudi Arabia and one of the Emirates announced a five per cent jump only two weeks hence.

OPEC emerged in 1960 as a cartel to obtain more money for its major natural resource.

Venezuela, the only non-Arab member, is thought to be the prime mover in the organization.

Through the years it has successfully squeezed more income from the consumer industrialized nations through a combination of expropriating the oil fields from foreign ownership, establishing production quotas, and setting a floor pricing structure.

Its 1975 increase of 10 per cent added greatly to the woes of a sluggish U.S. economy and came close to wrecking those of several European nations.

It followed a similar increase in 1974 which came after a 1973 embargo to customers suspected of extending too many favors to Israel.

The effect in our country was to send electricity bills jumping, to increase the cost of home heating, and in many areas to create waiting lines at the gas pumps for the privilege of paying a substantially higher price for what some CB operators call "motion lotion."

This month's gathering opened at Doha, the capital of the Qatar Emirate, on a note of going up 15 per cent.

The spurious reason offered was the claim the OPEC members were losing last year's 10 per cent increase in the inflation of what they pay for imports from the industrialized nations.

Taking their logic at face value, three per cent would be more in line.

OPEC as an entity produces over 30 million barrels of crude petroleum a day.

Saudi Arabia's share of that production is 8.5 million barrels. The country is thought to have the capability to raise that to 11 million barrels.

The effect of Thursday's increase depends considerably on the Saudis' course of raising or lowering their production and whether they stick to the five per cent figure.

Two years ago the Saudis publicly denounced an OPEC decision to raise royalties and extraction taxes; then quietly fell in line with the majority's action.

Substantially, the effect rests on the Saudis creating a two-tier market or duplicating their 1974 maneuver.

U.S. Petroleum experts forecast the 10 per cent increase will boost gasoline prices a penny a gallon, possibly a shade more.

It would seem questionable, if this negligible result would hold for home heating and electricity.

Down the line from January 1st there are deeper implications.

Project Independence launched by Nixon before his Watergate resignation to find other energy sources to make Uncle Sam free from OPEC manipulations has been a complete failure.

Prior to the 1973 embargo our country imported 29 per cent of its petroleum requirements.

Today it stands at 42 per cent, of which 34 per cent comes from OPEC wells.

This retrogression which is bad enough can turn for the worse when Russia comes to the world market for oil. Geologists feel her wells are a steadily diminishing asset and in the early 1980s the Soviets will be bidding for foreign oil.

Project Independence has lagged because the Washington power structure finds it more delightful to chasing wil-o-the-wisps such as re-examining the Kennedy assassination than coming to grips with nitty questions which left unanswered will give Uncle Sam more than what seasoned travelers refer to as Montezuma's revenge.

ORIE BIRDSLEY MAKES OWN BREW FROM CORN

Berrien Man Beats High Coffee Prices

Staff Writer
BERRIEN CENTER — Orie Birdsley believes he has the answer to the high price of coffee. He brews his own "corn coffee" from corn.

Birdsley takes kernels of corn and roasts them on top of the stove until they're "fairly black, but not burnt." Then he puts the roasted kernels into a blender and grinds them into a fine powder. The powder is mixed with water and boiled for about five minutes. After filtering, you have a cup of "corn coffee."

"In many ways, corn gives the coffee bean a real run for the money," Birdsley says. Corn definitely comes out ahead in price — coffee now sells for around $2 a pound, while corn can be purchased for about four cents a pound.

Born on an Illinois farm, Birdsley, 72, said he heard of farmers "parching" corn for coffee as a means of economizing. "A lot of old-timers probably still remember it."

It was the recent hike in coffee prices that led Birdsley to the corn brew.

"The coffee companies raised the prices because they can get it," he said. "This is one way you can do something about it."

Birdsley says there's little difference between the taste of regular coffee and "corn coffee" because the taste comes from the way the bean is roasted.

"Ninety-nine per cent of the flavor of coffee comes from the way the bean is roasted," he said. "It's just another green little bean until it's roasted." Any type of bean or grain could probably be used to make coffee, Birdsley said, but corn seems to be the most available and the cheapest.

There are several differences between regular coffee and corn coffee besides the price, according to Birdsley. Corn coffee has no caffeine and does not seem to be as acidic as the regular brew, he said.

"Regular coffee tastes uniform because coffee companies always roast the coffee at the same scientifically-selected temperature," he said. He said he is "still experimenting" with his corn coffee.

Now retired, Birdsley formerly built drainage systems for farmers. He and his wife, Joan, live on Huckleberry road in Berrien township. She has five grown children by a previous marriage and he has eight by a previous marriage. One son remains at home.

While Birdsley has succeeded in converting his wife to his corn coffee, one holdout remains. His stepson, Kenneth, 22, buys his own regular coffee. "After buying a few pounds, I think he'll come around," Birdsley said.

Ambulance Service Manager Is Sought

By MIKE WYNGARDEN

Staff Writer
The Community Emergency Service (CES) ambulance corporation is seeking applications for a manager of a proposed publicly-owned ambulance company to provide ambulance service for the Twin Cities area.

Isidore DiMaggio, secretary-treasurer of the corporation that serves five Twin Cities municipalities, said a steering committee decided at a meeting yesterday to begin taking applications for a manager to run an ambulance company on a day-to-day basis similar to the manager of the Twin Cities airport board.

A publicly-owned ambulance service would replace a commercial service now subsidized by Twin Cities area municipalities. The contract with the commercial firm, Action ambulance, expires in February.

DiMaggio said the committee set a salary ranging from $12,000 to $15,000 for the job, depending on the applicant's qualifications. CES is looking for a "proven manager with experience in leadership, business and accounting principles," he said. Previous experience in the health field is helpful, he said, but not mandatory.

Announcement of applications for manager is the one of the first moves the CES has made in forming a publicly-owned ambulance company. DiMaggio said the CES has set a meeting Thursday morning to review cost estimates of starting an ambulance company.

The five municipalities in CES — the City of St. Joseph and the Townships of St. Joseph, Lincoln, Sodus and Royalton — recently voted 5 to 0 not to renew the corporation's present contract for ambulance service with Action ambulance.

Currently, CES provides a monthly subsidy of $3,007 to Action. The corporation's one-year contract with Action ends Feb. 23.

DiMaggio said CES has asked Benton township and Benton Harbor to join the CES under the proposed ambulance company. Those two municipalities currently are provided ambulance service by Rampart ambulance company.

DiMaggio said applications for manager should be sent to Dick Kiesel, chairman of CES, at St. Joseph city hall. Kiesel is also St. Joseph city assessor.

Members of the CES steering committee are DiMaggio, Kiesel, R.A. Bradburn, administrator at Memorial hospital in St. Joseph, and Mike Kashner, director of technical services at Mercy hospital in Benton Harbor. DiMaggio said the steering committee will review the applications and present them to the full CES board for a final vote.

READY FOR TASTE TEST: Orie Birdsley pours mixture of ground roasted corn kernels and water he has boiled for five minutes. "Corn coffee" requires two spoons of roasted corn to one cup of water, he said. Corn coffee is boiled on wood stove Birdsley built by welding together oil barrel and old furnace door. Stove heats entire house during winter, he said.

Salvation Army Drive Halfway Toward Goal

Richard Seel, chairman of the Salvation Army Advisory Board, has reported $6,500 has been received in the current Tree of Lights campaign. This campaign is being conducted to raise approximately $12,000 to provide food, clothing and gifts for approximately 1,000 shut-ins and needy this Christmas. "It is vitally important we reach this goal since the number of people requesting assistance from the Salvation Army has increased 20 percent over last year and our goal this year is the same as in 1975," Seel said.

Campaign funds are being received through mail solicitation as well as the traditional Salvation Army kettles throughout the Twin City areas. The following service clubs have volunteered to man kettle locations: Benton Harbor Kiwanis, Benton Harbor Lions, Twin City Rotary, and St. Joseph Kiwanis. Seel said, "Such support from service clubs has traditionally helped make this campaign a success."

Gobles Teacher Pact Reached

GOBLES — Guy Leversee, superintendent of the Gobles public school system, announced Friday afternoon that a tentative agreement had been reached on a new master contract for the district's teachers.

Leversee said the tentative agreement was for a two-year period instead of the usual one year. Details of the pact were not released pending formal ratification of the proposal by the school board and the Gobles Education association, which represents the teachers.

The board is scheduled to meet next on Jan. 10. The agreement left only two districts in southwestern Michigan. New Buffalo and Buchanan, without a settlement for this school year.

The Gobles district has 55 teachers. The 1975-76 school year salary schedule ranged from $8,950 for a first-year teacher with a bachelor's degree to $14,682 for a teacher with a master's degree and at least 12 years experience.

The tentative agreement was worked out by bargainers for the school board and the GEA.

Schools have been operating normally since they were opened in September despite the lack of a new contract.

BH Insurance Agent Arrested

By JOHN FENNELL

Staff Writer
A Benton Harbor insurance agent was arrested Friday for allegedly taking premium payment from a client and converting it to his own use.

Donald A. Holliday, 50, who operates an insurance company in his name at 306 West Empire avenue, Benton Harbor, pleaded innocent to a charge of larceny by conversion under $100, and was freed on $1,000 personal recognizance bond.

According to the warrant, Holliday, of 2359 Riverbend drive, St. Joseph township, did "embezzle or fraudulently convert to his own use... money which belonged to William and Clara Swift." More specifically, Holliday is charged with collecting the premium and not forwarding it to the Aetna Insurance Co. No trial date has yet been set.

Sheriff's Capt. Ronald Innamos said investigation began after another insurance company made an inquiry into an accident that allegedly involved a car owned by the Swifts, 131 Apple avenue, Benton Harbor.

Trash Haulers Ticketed

The Berrien county sheriff's department said four truck drivers hauling uncovered trash and brush were issued appearance tickets Friday afternoon in an effort to eliminate litter along roads leading to the Northwest Berrien landfill in Benton township.

Deputy Dan Gustafson said he issued the tickets at Red Arrow highway and Crystal avenue for alleged violation of a state law prohibiting transportation of solid waste with no cover. Gustafson said two of the trucks were owned by the City of Benton Harbor. One was reported loaded with trash, the other with brush. Drivers were identified as Thomas A. Maddron, 35, and Aubrey Clements, 53.

Gustafson said other tickets were issued to James Hooker, 29, operator of a truck owned by Junior Baggett, excavator, and James L. Roberts, 19, identified as a custodian for K-Mart.

The landfill off Smallidge road, north of Ross field airport, is approached from Red Arrow highway and Crystal avenue. The sheriff's department said there have been complaints of litter dropping off trash trucks.

SJ Township Eyes Drainage Grant

St. Joseph township board members Monday will consider applying for a federal grant to build a storm drain for the proposed industrial district southwest of the intersection of Niles avenue and I-94.

The board will hold a public hearing Monday at 7:15 p.m., before the regular meeting begins, to consider applying for a Community Development Act grant, according to Supervisor Orval Benson.

Consultant Tom Sinn will explain the grant program to the board and the public, Benson said. All eligible projects under the block grant will be discussed, but drainage will be one of "the big items," said Benson.

Sinn said storm drainage is one of many eligible projects under the Department of Housing and Urban Development grant. The township's total grant can't exceed $400,000, he said.

While Benton township and the cities of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph have applied for community development grants the past two years, St. Joseph township has not, Benson said. The grant application is being considered now chiefly because of the drainage problems in the township's southeastern corner, according to Benson.

The proposed industrial district would cover about 30 acres owned by Nye's Orchards. Since granting a building permit for the Herald-Palladium to erect a new plant on land purchased from Nye, the board has decided that nothing else will be built there until adequate storm drainage has been provided.

The moratorium on further construction resulted from complaints of nearby residents who say that barely adequate storm drainage would become worse with more buildings uplull of their homes.

Last month the board voted against a request by Nye's Orchards that would have allowed the industrial district to tie into the Royalton Heights drainage district. An engineering firm is now studying the drainage problems in the entire area. The report won't be ready for Monday's hearing, Benson said, but will be completed by the time a second hearing is held.

Items other than drainage will be considered by the board, he added.

ORIE BIRDSLEY MAKES OWN BREW FROM CORN

Berrien Man Beats High Coffee Prices

BY MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

BERRIEN CENTER — Orie Birdsley believes he has the answer to the high price of coffee. He brews his own "corn coffee" from corn.

Birdsley takes kernels of corn and roasts them on top of the stove until they're "fairly black, but not burnt." Then he

"In many ways, corn gives the coffee bean a real run for the money," Birdsley says. Corn definitely comes out ahead in price — coffee now sells for around $2 a pound, while corn can be purchased for about four cents a pound.

Born on an Illinois farm, Birdsley, 72, said he heard of farmers "parching" corn for coffee as a means of economizing. "A lot of old-timers probably still remember it."

It was the recent hike in coffee prices that led Birdsley to the corn brew. "The coffee companies raised the prices because they can get it," he said. "This is one way you can do something about it."

Birdsley says there's little difference between the taste of regular coffee and "corn coffee" because the taste comes from the way the bean is roasted.

"Ninety-nine per cent of the flavor of coffee comes from the way the bean is roasted," he said. "It's just another green little bean until it's roasted." Any type of bean or grain could probably be used to make coffee, Birdsley said, but corn seems to be the most available and the cheapest.

There are several differences between regular coffee and corn coffee besides the price, according to Birdsley. Corn coffee has no caffeine and does not seem to be as acidic as the regular brew, he said.

"Regular coffee tastes uniform because coffee companies always roast the coffee at the same scientifically-selected temperature," he said. He said he is "still experimenting" with his corn coffee.

Now retired, Birdsley formerly built drainage systems for farmers. He and his wife, Joan, live on Huckleberry road in Berrien township. She has five grown children by a previous marriage and he has eight by a previous marriage. One son remains at home.

While Birdsley has succeeded in converting his wife to his corn coffee, one holdout remains. His stepson, Kenneth, 22, buys his own regular coffee. "After buying a few pounds, I think he'll come around," Birdsley said.

Ambulance Service
Manager Is SoughtBy MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

The Community Emergency Service (CES) ambulance corporation is seeking applications for a manager of a proposed publicly-owned ambulance company to provide ambulance service for the Twin Cities area.

Isadore DiMaggio, secretary-treasurer of the corporation that serves five Twin Cities municipalities, said a steering committee decided at a meeting yesterday to begin taking applications for a manager to run an ambulance company on a day-to-day basis similar to the manager of the Twin Cities airport board.

A publicly-owned ambulance service would replace a commercial service now subsidized by Twin Cities area municipalities. The contract with the commercial firm, Action ambulance, expires in February.

DiMaggio said the committee set a salary ranging from $12,000 to $15,000 for the job, depending on the applicant's qualifications. CES is looking for a "proven manager with experience in leadership, business and accounting principles," he said. Previous experience in the health field is helpful, he said, but not mandatory.

Announcement of applications for manager is the one of the first moves the CES has made in forming a publicly-owned ambulance company. DiMaggio said the CES has set a meeting Thursday morning to review cost estimates of starting an ambulance company.

The five municipalities in CES — the City of St. Joseph and the Townships of St. Joseph, Lincoln, Sodus and Royallton — recently voted 5 to 0 not to renew the corporation's present contract for ambulance service with Action ambulance.

Currently, CES provides a monthly subsidy of $3,007 to Action. The corporation's one-year contract with Action ends Feb. 23.

DiMaggio said CES has asked Benton township and Benton Harbor to join the CES under the proposed ambulance company. Those two municipalities currently are provided ambulance service by Rampart ambulance company.

DiMaggio said applications for manager should be sent to Dick Kiesel, chairman of CES, at St. Joseph city hall. Kiesel is also St. Joseph city assessor.

Members of the CES steering committee are DiMaggio, Kiesel, R.A. Bradburn, administrator at Memorial hospital in St. Joseph, and Mike Kastner, director of technical services at Mercy hospital in Benton Harbor. DiMaggio said the steering committee will review the applications and present them to the full CES board for a final vote.

READY FOR TASTE TEST: Orie Birdsley pours mixture of ground roasted corn kernels and water he has boiled for five minutes. "Corn coffee" requires two spoons of roasted corn to one cup of water, he said. Corn coffee is boiled on wood stove Birdsley built by welding together oil barrel and old furnace door. Stove heats entire house during winter, he said.

The POWER of FAITH

THE BIBLE No. 270. God's Sword

The word of the Lord again came to Ezekiel. On this occasion, the prophet was commanded to warn both the Israelites and the Ammonites of their impending disasters.

"Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of his sheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked..." That all flesh may know that I the Lord have drawn forth my sword out of his sheath: it shall not return any more." (Ezekiel 21:3,5)

"And thou, son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God concerning the Ammonites, and concerning their reproach; even say thou, The sword, the sword is drawn; for the slaughter it is hushed, to consume because of the glittering: Whiles they see vanity unto thee, whiles they dilyne a lie unto thee, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are slain, of the wicked, whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end." ## The POWER of FAITH

By WOOD IISHMAEL

THE BIBLE No. 270. God's Sword

The word of the Lord again came to Ezekiel. On this occasion, the prophet was commanded to warn both the Israelites and the Ammonites of their impending disasters.

"Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of his sheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked. . . . That all flesh may know that I the Lord have drawn forth my sword out of his sheath: it shall not return any more." (Ezekiel 21:3-5)

"And thou, son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord God concerning the Ammonites, and concerning their reproach; even say thou, The sword, the sword is drawn: for the slaughter it is furnished, to consume because of the glittering; Whiles they see vanity unto thee, whiles they divine a lie unto thee, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are slain, of the wicked, whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end." (Ezekiel 21:28-29)

The special program to honor the Nichols will be held at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 19, at the church. The public is invited.

The couple will be honored for their work in bringing children and young people into the church and church-related activities.

NEW YORK — The "Good News Bible," a Bible as readable as the daily newspaper, has been released by the American Bible Society.

The new Bible is expected to break previous records in the publishing industry. The first press order totals 1.2 million copies.

Bible Society officials anticipate a distribution of 10 million copies of the "Good News Bible" during its first year. One million copies have already been published in Great Britain and are expected to be gone by Christmas.

One reason for the optimism is the unprecedented success of "Good News for Modern Man," the New Testament portion of the new Bible. When published separately by the ABS in 1966, it soared to the top of the best-seller list. In the past 10 years its circulation has exceeded 50 million copies.

"The 'Good News Bible' (the Bible in Today's English Version) is the first translation of the Bible in the English language ever produced by the American Bible Society," Dr. Laton E. Holmgren, the Bible Society's senior general secretary, has announced. "Since its founding in 1816, the American Bible Society has assisted in the translation of the Bible into hundreds of languages of the world, but never before has it published its own English version. It has instead always circulated the classic English translations such as the King James Version, the American Standard Version, and the Revised Standard Version, and will continue to do so.

"The 'Good News Bible' is not intended to take the place of these revered older translations," Dr. Holmgren said, "but is designed to attract people to Bible reading who have found these standard translations difficult or obscure in places. The 'Good News Bible' has been issued especially for use by the churches in reaching men and women who have either never read the Bible at all or have discontinued reading it because they couldn't easily discover its relevance for living in today's world."

The "Good News Bible" claims distinction as a common-language, dynamic-equivalent translation. It avoids both slang and "church" language, aiming instead at a level of written English readily understood in common by the 600 million English-speaking people in the world today.

By following principles of dynamic equivalence, the translators have translated accurately and clearly the meaning of the original Hebrew and Greek into expressions that convey the same meaning in today's English. The "Good News Bible" does not employ the loose wording of paraphrases, but rather uses the closest, natural equivalent in English to convey the original meaning.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. F. Donald Coggan, a renowned Biblical scholar himself, has commended its scholarship. A British reviewer of the translation, David Reid, has hailed it, saying, "It has a dignified simplicity. There is a crisp, terse, memorable quality about much that I have read. It passed the acid test of holding my attention during muggy, commuter-crammed train journeys."

The text is enriched by nearly 500 line drawings by Mile. Annie Vallotton, the Swiss artist who illustrated "Good News for Modern Man." Her drawings have won a widespread reputation for their emotional expressiveness while using a minimum of lines. Her featureless pictures of Jesus which leap across cultural barriers have been hailed as the "Jesus of a thousand faces."

The "Good News Bible" contains a variety of aids to help modern readers understand the Bible's message in its original context. These include a word list identifying important Bible names and terms, a chronological chart of Old and New Testament history, footnotes explaining alternative translations and readings, cross-references identifying other relevant passages, maps of the Bible lands, and an index of Bible subjects. Short introductions begin each book of the Bible.

At the request of several Roman Catholic bishops in overseas areas and of the recent General Convention of the Episcopal Church in the USA, the American Bible Society is undertaking the translation of the Deuterocanonical books, commonly called the Apocrypha, in Today's English Version. Special funding is being provided for this project by those churches requesting it. When completed, the Deuterocanonical books will be included in certain editions for use by those churches. The work is likely to be finished towards the end of next year.

ATTENTION! Future Brides

Brides-to-be planning engagement announcements and wedding stories in this newspaper are asked to observe the following rules:

Engagement and wedding forms are available in the women's department at The Herald-Palladium offices in Benton Harbor or St. Joseph. The pertinent information should be typed or plainly printed in filling out these forms to prevent errors.

Wedding forms should be picked up at least two weeks and turned in one week before the wedding is to take place.

When wedding information is sent within two months of the engagement announcement date, only ONE picture will be run. The bride-to-be may have her choice.

Use proper names — not nicknames. In wedding information, use husband's names for married attendants.

Only pictures of the bride in her wedding dress will be used. Formal glossy black and white portraits are preferred.

Engagement and wedding pictures are usually available at this newspaper office after publication for a short time.

Christmas Story To Be Told In Song And Word

'Glory To God In The Highest'

Candles will line the sidewalks leading to the Fairplain Presbyterian church, Benton Harbor, prior to the Christmas Eve candlelight and carol service Dec. 24, at 7:30 p.m.

"The Luminaria," meaning little fires, according to the Rev. Thomas D. Deizer, comes from an age-old Christmas custom begun in a colony along the Rio Grande River in Mexico, symbolizing the peoples' warm welcome of the Christ into the world.

The candles are set in sand and enclosed in a paper bag. The service will be led by young people of the church whose advisors are Mr. and Mrs. Jay VanDenBerg and the Rev. and Mrs. Keizer.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Teen Boozer Issues Warning

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing this in the hope that one potential teenage alcoholic will see the light before it is too late.

Two years ago I was a carefree, intelligent high-school student. As a matter of fact, I was near the top of my class. Then one day a close friend introduced me to beer. I thought it was great. After three beers I was high as a kite. A few months later, three beers wasn't enough. I turned to bigger and better things. First it was Harvey Wallbangers and Navy Grog. Then I turned to straight vodka and rum. Before long I was sneaking liquor from my parents' cabinet.

Now I'm 18 years old and sitting my college dorm room with a bottle of gin. I just found out I am being expelled because of a little hell-raising I did last weekend when I was turned. (Ruined some school property and totaled a friend's car.)

I hope a few teenagers who read this will realize that drinking is dumb. Quit NOW. — Messed Up

Dear Friend: So you blew it. But you're only 19 and there's a lifetime ahead if you really want to straighten up and fly right.

Look in the phone book under Alcoholics Anonymous. Give them a call and they'll send someone your age to talk to you about your problem. The person they send was probably in your shoes a few months ago. It could be the most important phone call you will ever make in your entire life. Do it today.

Music Headache
Dear Ann: You can see by the stationery that this letter is for real. Maybe the problem should be brought to the attention of the president of the bank, but as a lowly employee I haven't got the guts. Will you speak for us?

I'm sitting here with a miserable headache. Why? Because of the piped-in music that plays eight hours a day. I love my job but this continuous racket gets on my nerves.

I've discussed this with several employees. Everyone hates it. But the man in charge of our department likes the music and that's that.

I'm not old or sick or nervous — but I WILL be before long. Any ideas? — Head Busting

Dear Head: How many signatures can you get from fellow employees who want the music stopped?

If you can gather a large number, present them to the vice president in charge of personnel. I'll bet you'll get peace and quiet before long.

ANN LANDERS

have saved for six years to take this cruise. We don't want to look like yokels. Can you give us some suggestions on how to tip — and whom? Is it polite to talk to strangers? Is it OK to wear a sport shirt (no tie) to dinner?

We don't want to look like we've never been on a cruise before. Help! — A And B bureau or ticket office that sold you the transportation has loads of leaflets with answers to all your questions.

Dear A And B: The travel

If you should encounter a situation not covered in the leaflets, remember common sense and consideration for others are always in good taste. And don't worry about this being your first cruise. It will probably be the first one for 90 per cent of the people aboard the ship. Bon voyage!

Confused about what's right and what's wrong in today's "new morality"? You're not alone. If you want honest, down-to-earth information on your sex questions, read Ann Landers' new booklet, "High School Sex and How to Deal With It — A Guide for Teens and Their Parents." Send 50 cents in coin plus a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120.

Don't Let Christmas Spirit Relax Family's Safeguards

Hundreds of Americans lose their lives and property at Christmas time, and the anguish of the tragedy is often accompanied by self-doubt.

Did the holiday spirit relax the family's safeguards and permit carelessness?

Horatio Bond, former chief engineer for 30 years for the National Fire Protection Association, said annual holiday death toll due to fires from Christmas trees could be reduced if homeowners observed the following guidelines.

— Don't leave children alone when a Christmas tree is lighted.

— Make certain Christmas trees are green and not dried out.

— If using an artificial tree, be sure it is labeled flame-retardant.

— Install the tree in a pan of water to delay the drying out process.

— Unplug the Christmas tree before going to bed.

— Get rid of the tree before New Year's.

"These guidelines might conflict with the views of some people, but they might mean the difference between life and death," Bond said. "Usually, a family is totally unprepared for a fire in the house. A fire might smolder from an electrical failure for hours, but it's the smoke that usually kills, not the fire."

Bond also recommended that a smoke detector would be a highly appropriate gift to the family at Christmas.

He explained that the warning of smoke in the house can provide the necessary two to three minutes for a family to escape and one of the best warnings is a smoke detector on each floor.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today, there's no reason you can't fulfil your bank account. Don't be selfish, but look out for No. 1.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A surge of ambition is yours today. You'll reach out for something you once felt beyond your grasp. It isn't, if you're bold enough to try for it.

Dr. Lester Coleman

New and exciting drugs are being studied in laboratories all over the world. Many of them are still in experimental phases. Others are being supported with new evidence and are being critically evaluated by the Federal Drug Administration.

When all safety factors have been established and side effects understood, doctors everywhere will include them in their therapy kit.

A drug, minoxidil, holds great promise for the treatment of previously high blood pressure that has not responded to any of the other available forms of treatment.

Another drug, bethanidine, is also being studied because of its capacity to rapidly decrease blood pressure.

A drug, carbenoxolone, which is derived from licorice, seems to have a tendency to help in the healing of stomach ulcers.

Prostaglandins, often mentioned in these columns, are being studied for their effect on asthma, ulcers, high blood pressure and a variety of other medical conditions.

The BCG vaccine, once thought to be important in the cure of tuberculosis, now seems to play some role in protection against cancer.

A whole array of drugs for the treatment of arthritis is under intensive study.

Special chemicals, one in particular, chemo-de-oxy-cholic, seem to hold great promise with their capacity to prevent, and even dissolve, gallstones. Should this come to be accepted, surgery for gallbladder disease may be reduced to a minimum.

Special drugs are now being tried to increase fertility in women. Inuputene in men, too, is the target of other studies. Brom-ergocryptine is receiving a great deal of attention in scientific studies.

A variety of processes are now making all kinds of soft, softer and softest contact lenses which can be safely kept in the eyes for long periods of time. In fact, there are some manufacturers who feel that before long, contact lenses, once put in, may never need to be removed.

Irregularities of the heart that cannot be controlled by the drugs presently available may soon be helped by a drug, verapamil. It has been suggested that the drug may also be of value in the treatment of anginal pain of the heart.

These are but a few of the exciting drugs that are on the horizon, waiting for definitive proof of their value before being released to the general public.

Rebekahs Elect

THREE OAKS — Miss Eleanor Stange has been elected noble grand of the Three Oaks Rebekah Lodge.

Other officers include Mrs. Thurber J. Becker, vice grand; Mrs. Mitchell B. Walinski, secretary; Mrs. William Gerwin, treasurer, and Mrs. Edward Dudeck, degree captain.

Officers will be installed at the Jan. 12 meeting.

'Enriched' Ensures Vitamins

Confused by the wide variety of bread available? According to Federal regulations, bread labeled "whole wheat" must contain only whole wheat flour.

Varieties such as cracked wheat, honey wheat, usually include a blend of whole wheat and white flour.

For the best nutritional buy, look for the word "enriched" on these varieties. This ensures that the essential B-vitamins — niacin, thiamin and riboflavin — and the important mineral, iron, have been added.

Today's hand decided a team of four match. At both tables East won the first trick with the queen of clubs and shifted to the queen of diamonds.

One South decided on a straight forward line of play. He started by losing the trump finesse. Later on he lost the spade finesse and finally had to concede a diamond trick in the cool of the evening to go down one.

The other South decided on a far more complicated line of play that was based on his feeling that East held the king of hearts.

At trick three he ruffed a club in dummy. Then he played ace and one trump. East was on lead with the king and led a high club whereupon South simply discarded dummy's last diamond.

Poor East was dead as a mackerel. He didn't have a second diamond to get off the hook with and had to either lead a fourth club to allow South to ruff in dummy while discarding a spade from his hand, or lead a spade into dummy's ace-queen-jack, which he did not want to do either.

He did that anyway, whereupon it was a simple matter for South to take a ruffing finesse against East's king of spades.

He was lucky but he also had been ingenious. His play would have failed if East held a second diamond and he would really have looked silly if West had held either major suit king.

For parties or late night snacks serve easy, tasty Crispy Walnut Dip.

Combine one cup cottage cheese and one cup dairy sour cream. Add one-half cup finely chopped, toasted walnuts and a package of onion-soup mix. Chill. Serve with chips or pieces of fresh vegetables like carrots, celery, cucumber and radishes.

Ask the Jacobys

A Massachusetts reader wants to know what is meant by the term "Deep-sea finesse."

A deep-sea finesse is one taken against more than two cards. Thus, with A Q 9 opposite x x x you finesse the nine. Once in a while you find that you have picked the jack-ten. If you haven't you still can take the simple finesse against the king later.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

Special chemicals, one in particular, chemo-de-oxy-cholic, seem to hold great promise with their capacity to prevent, and even dissolve, gallstones. Should this come to be accepted, surgery for gallbladder disease may be reduced to a minimum.

Special drugs are now being tried to increase fertility in women. Impotence in men, too, is the target of other studies. Brom-ergocryptine is receiving a great deal of attention in scientific studies.

A variety of processes are now making all kinds of soft, softer and softer contact lenses which can be safely kept in the eyes for long periods of time. In fact, there are some manufacturers who feel that before long, contact lenses, once put in, may never need to be removed.

Irregularities of the heart that cannot be controlled by the drugs presently available may soon be helped by a drug, verapamil. It has been suggested that the drug may also be of value in the treatment of anginal pain of the heart.

These are but a few of the exciting drugs that are on the horizon, waiting for definitive proof of their value before being released to the general public.

'Enriched' Ensures Vitamins

Confused by the wide variety of bread available? According to Federal regulations, bread labeled "whole wheat" must contain only whole wheat flour.

Varieties such as cracked wheat, honey wheat, usually include a blend of whole wheat and white flour.

For the best nutritional buy, look for the word "enriched" on these varieties. This ensures that the essential B-vitamins — niacin, thiamin and riboflavin — and the important mineral, iron, have been added.

U.P. Deer Hunt Prospect Dims

LAN- Mich. (AP) — A post-season Upper Peninsula deer hunt may be called off now that lawmakers have voiced opposition to the plan.

Natural Resources Commission Chairman Harry Whitley said Friday he has called a special meeting for next Wednesday "to give priority consideration to the mandate from the legislature."

In the waning days of the legislative session Thursday, lawmakers passed a resolution urging that the hunt scheduled for the Beaver Basin area north of Munising be postponed a year. The lawmakers' opposition is not binding on the commission.

Residents of Alger County have threatened to close their stores and motels to hunters taking advantage of the Jan. 16-March 1 special season.

The Department of Natural Resources ordered the limited hunt, saying the overpopulated herd would starve unless 300 deer are killed.

The DNR said the herd grew too large for its natural food supply because a private company which used to own the land carried out a winter feeding program.

Legislators Thursday asked state to continue feeding the herd this winter while the overpopulation problem is studied.

Area Rep. Dominic Jacobetti, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, introduced the resolution, threatening to cut the DNR budget unless the hunt was stopped.

Sen. Joseph S. Mack, D-Ironwood, co-sponsored the measure.

Whitley said he called the meeting for next Wednesday in Lansing at 1:30 p.m. after a conference phone call with other commission members.

Authorities Go After Shoebox

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — An admitted Southfield call girl who claimed her clients included high-ranking Michigan politicians was sentenced Friday to six months in jail.

Oakland County Circuit Judge William Hampton also ordered the attorney for Lois Herman, 33, to turn over to the court a shoebox filled with names of some 300 to 500 men she claims were her customers.

Mrs. Herman pleaded guilty to a felony charge of accepting the earnings of a prostitute. She was sentenced to two years' probation in addition to the jail term.

At the time of her arrest last April, Mrs. Herman claimed her clients had included Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and U.S. Congressman John Dingell, D-Trenton. Both men denied having been sexually involved with Mrs. Herman.

Mrs. Herman also claimed she had paid a bribe to have her case fixed.

Mrs. Herman originally was charged with three counts of prostitution, but prosecutors agreed not to press two of the charges if she would plead guilty to the third.

She also agreed to cooperate with an Oakland County Organized Crime Strike Force investigation into the bribe allegation.

Blast Rips Tanker Apart In Los Angeles Harbor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Divers and searchers cautiously inspected today the twisted metal remains of a huge oil tanker that exploded into fragments in Los Angeles Harbor, killing at least 11 and injuring at least 50. But authorities say it may be days before they know how many men died in the blast.

The 810-foot tanker was literally lifted out of the water and split into three parts by the force of the blast Friday night, eyewitnesses said. The middle two-thirds of the vessel sunk, while the bow — bearing the name Sansinena — was hurled ashore.

Officials were investigating the cause of the blast.

Chunks of steel 25 yards long slammed into the asphalt surrounding the ship's berth. Steel hatches three-quarters of an inch thick were twisted like bottlecaps and tossed hundreds of yards from the ship.

The Sansinena looked as though it had been hit by a fleet of bombers.

The Sansinena, Liberian-registered and chartered to Union Oil, had unloaded 512,000 barrels of crude oil and was preparing to head back to sea when the blast occurred. Authorities said it was likely that several crewmen had been trapped inside the mainmast tanker, but police Lt. Dan Cook said it would be late this afternoon before the ship would be cool enough to board to search for the charred bodies of the Italian crewmen.

So fierce was the blast of the Sansinena that windows were shattered along a street two miles from the scene. The shock was felt as far away as downtown Los Angeles, 25 miles to the north.

"That tanker was unloading, and I was at the store about a half-mile from here," said Juan Rodriguez, assistant manager of the terminal. "All of a sudden, that thing just blew like there was no tomorrow. It was like a shock wave. All the windows just gave out in the store."

Los Angeles Police called a full-scale tactical alert — the first since the 1965 Watts riots — to guard against looting. More than 200 police were on the scene and personnel from all 17 of the police department's divisions were ordered to stand by for emergency measures.

Peggy Tredko said she was waiting on a dock in the harbor area when "suddenly there was a flash and a boom. I was sitting down and it almost knocked me into the water."

At least 25 of the wounded were dock workers and other non-crewmen who were in the area of the blast, police said.

More than 200 persons were evacuated from the harbor's shopping center and a nearby residential district, Cook said.

A Union Oil spokesman said there was no way to estimate damages immediately or to ascertain the cause of the terrific explosion.

"We are stunned like everyone else," he said. "It's a terrible thing."

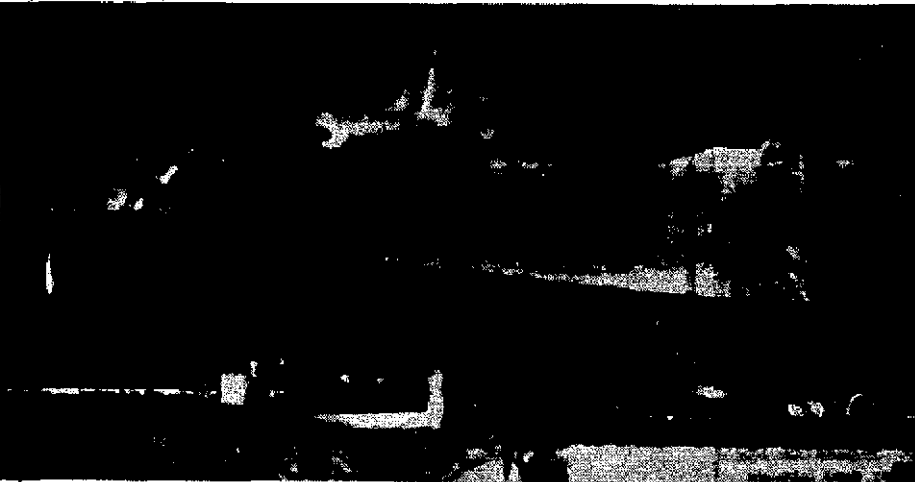

After the ambulances had carried away the last of the recoverable bodies, one eyewitness sobbed into his hands and said, "There were pieces of bodies flying everywhere."

Vince Perri, another witness, said he heard the blast "and thought it was an A-bomb. I thought it was all over, I swear. I thought it was the war."

Some small boats docked nearby received minor damages, authorities said, adding that damage from the spilled oil itself would likely be minimal. The U.S. Coast Guard sent a vacuum skimmer to the scene to scoop up the slimy ooze.

TANKER CRACKS: The aft section of the oil tanker Sansinena, lies at its dock in Los Angeles harbor Friday night after a huge blast set it afire and opened a 300-foot hole in the tanker's midsection. The ship was 810-feet long. (AP Wirephoto)

Blast Rips Tanker Apart In Los Angeles Harbor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Divers and searchers cautiously inspected today the twisted molten remains of a huge oil tanker that exploded into fragments in Los Angeles Harbor, killing at least 11 and injuring at least 50. But authorities say it may be days before here they know how many men died in the blast.

The 810-foot tanker was literally lifted out of the water and split into three parts by the force of the blast Friday night, eyewitnesses said. The middle two-thirds of the vessel sunk, while the bow — bearing the name Sansinena — was hurled ashore.

Officials were investigating the cause of the blast.

Chunks of steel 25 yards long slammed into the asphalt surrounding the ship's berth. Steel hatch covers three-quarters of an inch thick were twisted like bottle caps and tossed hundreds of yards from the ship.

The Sansinena looked as though it had been hit by a fleet of bombers.

The Sansinena, Liberian-registered and chartered to Union Oil, had unloaded 512,000 barrels of crude oil and was preparing to head back to sea when the blast occurred. Authorities said it was likely that several crewmen had been trapped inside the mammoth tanker, but police Lt. Dan Cook said it would be late this afternoon before the ship would be cool enough to board to search for the charred bodies of the Italian crewmen.

So fierce was the blast of the Sansinena that windows were shattered along a street two miles from the scene. The shock was felt as far away as downtown Los Angeles, 25 miles to the north.

"That tanker was unloading, and I was at the store about a half-mile from here," said Juan Rodriguez, assistant manager of the terminal. "All of a sudden, that thing just blew like there was no tomorrow. It was like a shock wave. All the windows just gave out in the store."

Los Angeles Police called a full-scale tactical alert — the first since the 1965 Watts riots — to guard against looting. More than 200 police were on the scene and personnel from all 17 of the police department's divisions were ordered to stand by for emergency measures.

Peggy Tredko said she was waiting on a dock in the harbor area when "suddenly there was a flash and a boom. I was sitting down and it almost knocked me into the water."

At least 25 of the wounded were dock workers and other non-crewmen who were in the area of the blast, police said.

More than 200 persons were evacuated from the harbor's shopping center and a nearby residential district, Cook said.

A Union Oil spokesman said there was no way to estimate damages immediately or to ascertain the cause of the terrific explosion.

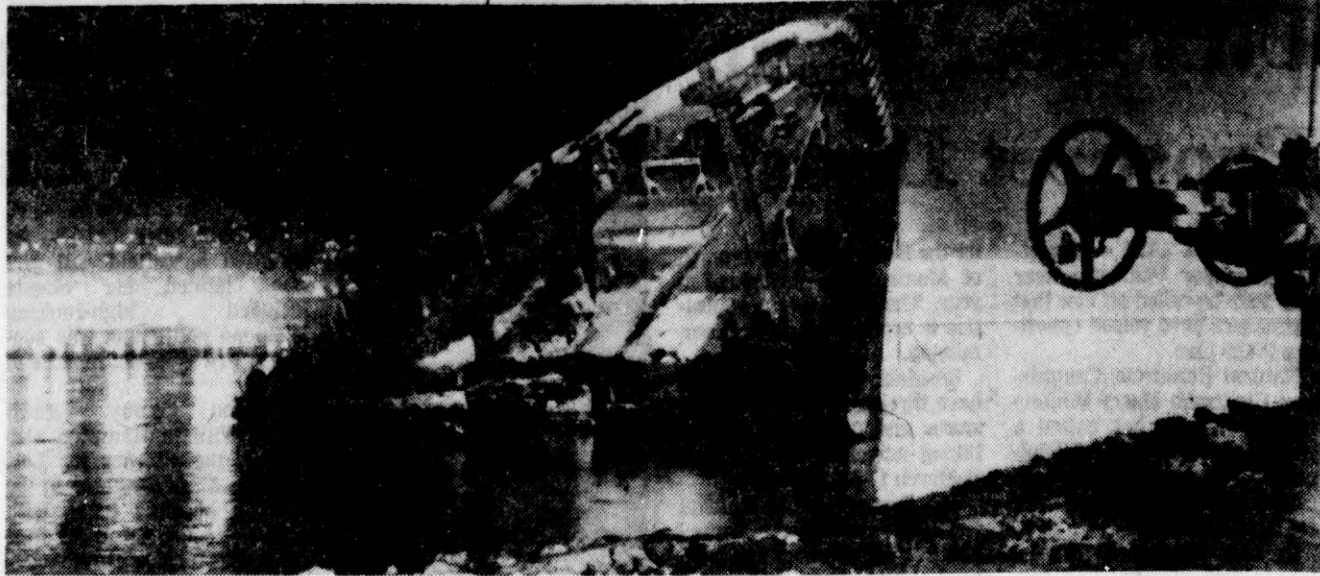

"We are stunned like everyone else," he said. "It's a terrible thing."

After the ambulances had carried away the last of the recoverable bodies, one eyewitness sobbed into his hands and said, "There were pieces of bodies flying everywhere."

Vince Perri, another witness, said he heard the blast "and thought it was an A-bomb. I thought it was all over, I swear. I thought it was the war."

Some small boats docked nearby received minor damages, authorities said, adding that damage from the spilled oil itself would likely be minimal. The U.S. Coast Guard sent a vacuum skimmer to the scene to scoop up the slimy ooze.

TANKER'S BOW: The bow of the oil tanker Sansinena protrudes from the waters of Los Angeles harbor late Friday night after an explosion and fire destroyed the 810-foot ship. The ship's midsection was destroyed and sunk. (AP Wirephoto)

Battered Tanker Still In One Piece

BOSTON (AP) — Despite three days of battering seas, a grounded Liberian oil tanker was still in one piece today, but weather conditions were expected to get worse and oil was oozing out into the Atlantic.

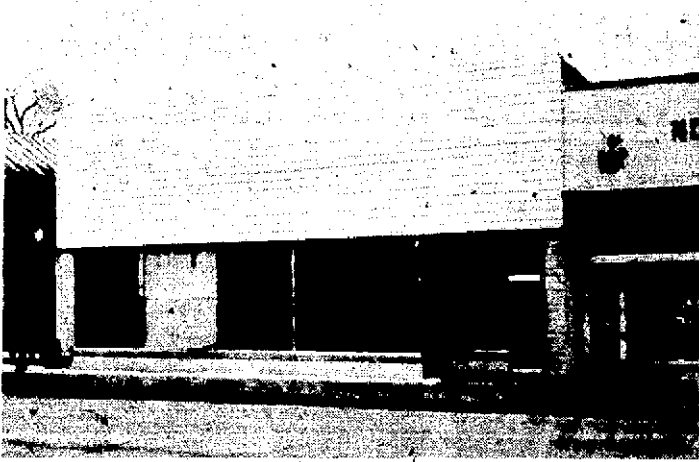

Northwest winds of 20 to 30 knots drove five-foot waves against the 640-foot Argo Merchant overnight. The National Weather Service predicted that waves would increase to eight to 12 feet in winds of 30 to 40 knots today.

The tanker still held most of its 7.6 million gallons of heavy industrial oil, but the Coast Guard said Friday that water had been found in 25 of the ship's 30 oil tanks, a sign that the hull had fractured.

A snaking oil slick could be seen behind the ship Friday, and a Coast Guard spokesman said it covered about 25 square miles.

Authorities have speculated that much of the slick may be just a thin sheen of oil, because there has been no major rupture of the ship's oil tanks.

The ship is grounded in shoals about 27 miles southeast of Nantucket. The Coast Guard

HARTFORD CITY HALL BUILDING: This building on Main street, Hartford, has been purchased by Hartford city for city hall. Mayor Wayne Nelson said officials hope to be able to get into building in spring. Financing for planned remodeling of interior and exterior is being considered along with city's 1977 budget, he said. Building was purchased for $27,000 and is to replace rented quarters now used as city hall. Rented quarters are on other side of street and about five doors removed from new building. (George Swift photo) said it was listing five to 10 degrees to starboard.

A Coast Guard oceanographer, Gary Hufford, warned after a flight over the tanker that he feared it was in danger of splitting apart.

"My opinion is that this thing will go," he said. "It will open up like a cracked walnut, and that will really be sad because there's a lot of oil on that ship."

A major oil spill could threaten the nearby Georges Bank, one of the world's richest commercial fishing grounds, as well as the beaches and shellfish beds of Cape Cod and the offshore islands.

Coast Guard Rear Adm. James P. Stewart said the leaking tanker is "a catastrophe which poses potential great threat" to the area.

Members of two Coast Guard teams specializing in oil spills and grounded ships are at the Coast Guard Air Station on Cape Cod, awaiting friendlier weather.

Two cutters, two tugs and a barge were in the area of the tanker, and a buoy tender was carrying flotation collars to the scene, to be used to contain spilled oil.

Authorities said the oil slick was moving southeastward away from land, but the Gulf Stream or a change in wind could push it toward Georges Bank.

Joseph Deaver, who is part of the Coast Guard ocean current mapping team, said he felt Nantucket also was being threatened.

OIL FIRMS TAKE NEW LOOK Rules May Kill Superports

By JAY PERKINS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The oil companies that have permission to build the nation's first two superports may take another look at their plans in light of limitations placed on them by Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman Jr.

Coleman announced Friday that he was granting permission for two consortiums of oil and chemical companies to build two superports in the Gulf of Mexico to handle the massive oil tankers that cannot get into conventional ports.

The secretary, however, imposed several major economic restrictions on the way the ports must be operated. Those restrictions, designed to make certain that the port owners do not discriminate against oil tankers owned by competitors, will reduce the profits that the consortiums hoped to make from the ventures.

Early reaction from the consortiums was inconclusive, with most oil companies involved in the projects still studying the decision. There were signs, however, that Coleman's ruling was a far cry from what the superport owners wanted.

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said Coleman's conditions "especially those dealing with potential antitrust problems, may have the effect of killing the (Texas) project."

Coleman acknowledged that the consortiums may now decide not to go ahead, but he expressed hope that other groups might come forth if the current applicants bow out.

The consortiums may also face court battles. Florida already has asked a federal court to grant it the authority to veto the superports — an authority the deep water port act of 1974 gives to states adjacent to the ones where the ports are built.

Florida claims it should be designated an adjacent coastal state to Louisiana and Texas, where the superports will be constructed, because the oil tankers that will unload at the superports must pass by Florida on their journey. Coleman ruled last March that Florida was not an adjacent state, and it is this ruling that Florida is appealing.

One of the superports approved by Coleman will be located 18 miles off the coast of Grand Isle, La., while the other will be located 26 miles southeast of Freeport, Tex. When completed, the Louisiana port is expected to cost $738 million. It will be able to unload 3.4 million barrels of oil per day from tankers.

The Texas facility will cost $665 when completed and will be capable of unloading 4 million barrels daily.

The ports must be constructed out in the Gulf because the water near shore is too shallow to allow the massive oil tankers to operate.

Syndrome Victims: Illness Frightening

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nancy Williams says she wants to encourage people who suffer Guillain-Barre syndrome not to abandon hope.
Michigan's former first lady had the ailment, sometimes called French polio, 18 years ago. It is now being mentioned as having a possible link with swine flu vaccine.
There is no evidence swine flu shots cause the disease, but inoculations in Michigan and across the nation have been halted pending further study.
"It is very, very frightening to have this," said Mrs. Williams, wife of former Michigan Gov. G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams.
"I have recovered," said Mrs. Williams. "I play tennis, and I play golf now. You have to have that physical therapy, though."

Mrs. Williams, whose husband is now a Michigan Supreme Court justice, said she would be willing to speak to victims of the syndrome or their families.
"We're listed in the Grosse Pointe Farms phone book," she said.
State health department officials said Friday two deaths and a number of other cases have been reported by state officials. Seven persons reportedly had received swine flu shots, including one of those who died.
A spokesman refused to confirm or deny a health department employee's statement that the number of suspected cases had reached 19.

"We want to confirm the diagnoses with the attending physicians," said Dr. Maurice Reizen, state health director.
Reizen said there is no apparent age or geographic pattern among the Michigan victims. Cases have been reported in nine counties. The victims range in age from 20 to 72.
Scientists say 80 per cent of the victims of Guillain-Barre recover fully. The syndrome usually affects the muscle system but is seldom fatal.
But other Michigan residents have suffered in the past from the syndrome.
One of those who contracted the disease before it gained national attention is 13-year-old Mary Grain of Ferndale.
She said Friday that she'd "always have a fear of getting it again, especially at Christmas, because it started Christmas night when I passed out in the shower." Miss Grain is currently recovering from the ailment.
"It hurt all the time. If someone dropped something in my room in the hospital, it would hurt," said Miss Grain. "And then at night when everything had quieted down, it hurt even worse."
Miss Grain said it appeared at first that her ailment was influenza. The first doctor she saw sent her home, saying it was just a virus.
After the disease worsened and she could no longer walk, Miss Grain was taken to a hospital, where the condition was diagnosed correctly. Soon her face became paralyzed, and she no longer could feed herself.
"I was sure I was going to die," she recalled.
But it could have been worse.
Eric Bases, 41, of St. Clair Shores, spent 12 weeks in intensive care hooked up to a respirator because he was unable to breathe.
"The pain was unbelievable," he said. "Someone who hasn't had it can't understand what it is like."

FIGHTING A MEMORY: It's the pain that Mary Grain, 15, of Ferndale, Mich., remembers and the fear of it still haunts her. Mary is recovering from Guillain-Barre syndrome. "I'll always have a fear of getting it again, especially at Christmas, because it started Christmas night when I passed out in the shower," she said. (AP Wirephoto)

'FRENCH POLIO' VICTIM: A week after Janet Osmun, 35, had her swine flu shot she couldn't walk, use her arms or swallow. Her neurologist says the Endicott, Wash., woman, has Guillain-Barre disease, sometimes called French polio. There's a national moratorium on the swine flu program because of a possible connection between temporary paralysis and swine flu shots. From left are Sharon Boroski and Barbie Anderson, two nurses in Sacred Heart Medical Center, at Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Osmun. (AP Wirephoto)

French Polio In Allegan

ALLEGAN — Two Allegan county residents have had cases of the paralysis that has prompted national health officials to shut down swine flu immunization programs across the country, according to Karl Zimmerman, acting director of the Allegan county health department.
Zimmerman said both people, one a youngster and the other a 60-year-old man, have recovered from confirmed cases of Guillain-Barre paralysis. Zimmerman, contacted by The Herald-Palladium this morning, said he did not know the names of the two.
The disease sometimes is called French polio.
He said the youngster contracted the disease in July of this year and did not have a swine flu vaccination. The 60-year-old man came down with the paralysis in November, three weeks after he received a swine flu shot, according to Zimmerman.
Zimmerman said the cases were learned of yesterday when his department contacted area hospitals at the request of the state health department to see if any cases of the paralysis were reported. He said the case involving the 60-year-old man was reported by a Kalamazoo hospital while the case involving the youngster was found in an Allegan county hospital.

Associated Press reported the number of suspected Guillain-Barre paralysis cases in Michigan continued to climb Friday, prompting state health officials to put a lid on further disclosures until diagnoses are complete.
John Orris, coordinator of the state's swine flu immunization program, said those who died of the syndrome in Michigan were a 22-year-old woman in Wayne County and a 72-year-old man in Grand Traverse County. Their identities were not disclosed.
Orris said 3 cases of the syndrome have been recorded in Oakland County, 2 in Wayne County, and 1 each in Washtenaw, Muskegon, Clinton, Grand Traverse, Lapeer, Saginaw and Allegan counties.

Syndrome Victims: Illness Frightening

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nancy Williams says she wants to encourage people who suffer Guillain-Barre syndrome not to abandon hope.

Michigan's former first lady had the ailment, sometimes called French polio, 18 years ago. It is now being mentioned as having a possible link with swine flu vaccine.

There is no evidence swine flu shots cause the disease, but inoculations in Michigan and across the nation have been halted pending further study.

"It is very, very frightening to have this," said Mrs. Williams, wife of former Michigan Gov. G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams.

"I have recovered," said Mrs. Williams. "I play tennis, and I play golf now. You have to have that physical therapy, though." Mrs. Williams, whose husband is now a Michigan Supreme Court justice, said she would be willing to speak to victims of the syndrome or their families.

"We're listed in the Grosse Pointe Farms phone book," she said.

State health department officials said Friday two deaths and a number of other cases have been reported by state officials. Seven persons reportedly had received swine flu shots, including one of those who died.

A spokesman refused to confirm or deny a health department employee's statement that the number of suspected cases had reached 19.

"We want to confirm the diagnoses with the attending physicians," said Dr. Maurice Reizen, state health director.

Reizen said there is no apparent age or geographic pattern among the Michigan victims. Cases have been reported in nine counties. The victims range in age from 20 to 72.

Scientists say 90 per cent of the victims of Guillain-Barre recover fully. The syndrome usually affects the muscle system but is seldom fatal.

But other Michigan residents have suffered in the past from the syndrome.

One of those who contracted the disease before it gained national attention is 15-year-old Mary Grain of Ferndale.

She said Friday that she'd "always have a fear of getting it again, especially at Christmas, because it started Christmas night when I passed out in the shower." Miss Grain is currently recovering from the ailment.

"It hurt all the time. If someone dropped something in my room in the hospital, it would hurt," said Miss Grain. "And then at night when everything had quieted down, it hurt even worse."

Miss Grain said it appeared at first that her ailment was influenza. The first doctor she saw sent her home, saying it was just a virus.

After the disease worsened and she could no longer walk, Miss Grain was taken to a hospital, where the condition was diagnosed correctly. Soon her face became paralyzed, and she no longer could feed herself.

"I was sure I was going to die," she recalled.

But it could have been worse. Eric Rases, 41, of St. Clair Shores, spent 12 weeks in intensive care hooked up to a respirator because he was unable to breathe.

"The pain was unbelievable," he said. "Someone who hasn't had it can't understand what it is like."

FIGHTING A MEMORY: It's the pain that Mary Grain, 15, of Ferndale, Mich., remembers and the fear of it still haunts her. Mary is recovering from Guillain-Barre syndrome. "I'll always have a fear of getting it again, especially at Christmas, because it started Christmas night when I passed out in the shower," she said. (AP Wirephoto)

'FRENCH POLIO' VICTIM: A week after Janet Osmun, 35, had her swine flu shot she couldn't walk, use her arms or swallow. Her neurologist says the Endicott, Wash., woman, has Guillain-Barre disease, sometimes called French polio. There's a national moratorium on the swine flu program because of a possible connection between temporary paralysis and swine flu shots. From left are Sharon Boroski and Barbie Anderson, two nurses in Sacred Heart Medical Center, at Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Osmun. (AP Wirephoto)

French Polio In Allegan

ALLEGAN — Two Allegan county residents have had cases of the paralysis, that has prompted national health officials to shut down swine flu immunization programs across the country, according to Karl Zimmerman, acting director of the Allegan county health department.

Zimmerman said both people, one a youngster and the other a 60-year-old man, have recovered from confirmed cases of Guillain-Barre paralysis. Zimmerman, contacted by The Herald-Palladium this morning, said he did not know the names of the two.

The disease sometimes is called French polio.

He said the youngster contracted the disease in July of this year and did not have a swine flu vaccination. The 60-year-old man came down with the paralysis in November, three weeks after he received a swine flu shot, according to Zimmerman.

Zimmerman said the cases were learned of yesterday when his department contacted area hospitals at the request of the state health department to see if any cases of the paralysis were reported. He said the case involving the 60-year-old man was reported by a Kalamazoo hospital while the case involving the youngster was found in an Allegan county hospital.

Associated Press reported the number of suspected Guillain-Barre paralysis cases in Michigan continued to climb Friday, prompting state health officials to put a lid on further disclosures until diagnoses are complete.

John Orris, coordinator of the state's swine flu immunization program, said those who died of the syndrome in Michigan were a 22-year-old woman in Wayne County and a 72-year-old man in Grand Traverse County. Their identities were not disclosed.

Orris said 3 cases of the syndrome have been recorded in Oakland County, 2 in Wayne County and 1 each in Washtenaw, Missaukee, Clinton, Grand Traverse, Lapeer, Saginaw and Allegan counties.

'Fringe Tax' Doomed For Now

By EDMUND PINTO
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — For the time being, the clothing salesman who gets a price cut on purchases from his employer's store, and the airline worker who flies at less than full fare may not have to worry about paying income tax on the value of those discounts.

The Treasury Department had been considering a change in rules that would tax these and similar fringe benefits, but sources said Friday the proposal has been vetoed by Treasury Secretary William E. Simon.

The total value nationwide of such untaxed fringes has been estimated at $100 million.

What doomed the plan may have been heavy protests from beneficiaries of the untaxed fringes and concern that the change might create a monstrous record-keeping burden for the affected taxpayers, their employers and the Internal Revenue Service.

Still, it could be revived, either by Treasury or IRS since nothing in tax law specifically exempts many fringe benefits from taxation. They are permitted by an administrative ruling that could be revoked at any time.

There was no explanation why Simon killed about a dozen proposed revenue rulings that would have required many individuals who receive such fringe benefits to pay taxes on them. Simon also dropped plans for a general statement of principles calling for exemption from taxation of only those benefits that are available to all employees and do not cost their employer anything.

The fringes include such diverse things as discounts that sales clerks receive on purchases in their own stores, free use of demonstrator automobiles by car salesmen, and cut-rate and free fares for airline workers and travel agents.

Not affected by the decision is a previous proposal by the IRS to tax free or reduced tuition given to the children and spouses of university professors. That proposed change comes up for a public hearing Jan. 7.

Rep. James G. Martin, R-N.C., a member of the tax-writing

House Ways and Means Committee, had said earlier this week that the sweeping fringe benefits proposal would cause serious burdens on taxpayers and the IRS.

Russia, Chile Trade Dissidents

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Unwanted in their homelands, two of the world's foremost political prisoners headed for neutral Switzerland today and a unique international exchange the United States helped arrange.

The Soviet Union was trading the freedom of dissident Vladimir Bukovsky for the release of Communist leader Luis Corvalan by Chile's right-wing government.

Bukovsky, 35, in confinement for more than a decade, was reunited with his mother, sister and nephew, and all were put aboard a plane that took off from a military airport near Moscow early today.

Suffering from various ailments, Bukovsky was to be met at Geneva airport by an ambulance and by exiled Soviet dissident Anatoly Levitin-Krassnov, who has been living in Lucerne since 1974. Bukovsky was expected to stay in Switzerland for a time.

His bed-ridden nephew, Mikhail Ivanov, underwent an operation Thursday for a blood disease and will go to a Swiss hospital.

Corvalan, 60, jailed since Chile's military coup in 1973, was to arrive later in Zurich and was expected to leave soon for Moscow. He and his wife, Lide, boarded a Lufthansa flight in Santiago on Friday night amid tight security and official silence.

Under the prisoner swap, the two were not required to go to specific countries.

Swiss officials said neither man had a visa, and both would probably be questioned before being admitted.

In the past, the Soviets engaged in such exchanges only for captured spies. Dissidents in Moscow said they could not recall any previous swap of political prisoners.

Diplomatic sources in Moscow said the negotiations had been under way for about a month with the United States acting as intermediary.

"We can confirm that the U.S. government provided good offices and assistance with arrangements at the request of both sides," a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy in Santiago, Chile, said.

Soviet civil rights advocate Andrei D. Sakharov and his Denmark-based committee first suggested the trade in October.

Bukovsky, a biology student and activist expelled from Moscow University in 1961, had been incarcerated in prison camps and hospitals for his civil rights agitation. He began serving a seven-year term in 1972 for "anti-Soviet activities."

He is credited with calling the world's attention to the Soviet practice of putting dissidents in mental hospitals and was one of the prime movers behind the fledgling dissident movement in Moscow in the 1960s.

Bukovsky's mother said in Moscow on Friday that after years in Soviet camps and hospitals he suffers from a rheumatic heart condition, a liver ailment and ulcers.

Mrs. Bukovsky said she learned of the exchange from a secret police agent who came to her apartment. Officials in Moscow would not confirm the trade.

Corvalan was a primary school teacher in rural Chile and a reporter and editor of a leftist newspaper before becoming a senator in 1960 and general secretary of the Communist party in 1962. Barely 5 feet tall, his ready smile and honey speaking style won him popularity even among political adversaries.

Armed with a $444-a-month pension and 30-day tickets good for unlimited travel along Greyhound routes, Boyle set out. By Thursday, he reckoned that since March he had traveled more than 85,000 miles, plus about 16,000 by train.

Childs' Letter To Santa Opens Hearts Of Seattle

By WENDY WALKER
Associated Press Writer
SEATTLE (AP) — A child's letter to Santa never reached its destination, but it found its way into hearts all over the city. Its author is unknown, so the food, toys and Christmas decorations being donated because of it will go to other needy kids.

"Dear Santa," the letter says, "momma said you got lost last year and couldn't find your way to our house. we willy mist you aspehly my little sisters. Please come this year Santa. we are beaing very good. momma sais youll get lost agian mybe so hear is a map."

It's signed, "love craig," but people are assuming that the real name of the haphazard speller is Craig.
A postscript says, "ps. don't leav any thing for dady becuse he isn't hear anymore."

Craig forgot to enclose the map for Santa to follow. His letter bore no return address.
Officials said the letter apparently fell out of the "North Pole" mail pouch the Postal Service maintains at Christmas time and was delivered by mistake to Francisco's Restaurant.

"I don't mind telling you, when I read that letter there were tears," said Arthur Grinbaum, who works at the restaurant.
"We took Craig's letter to the FBI," Grinbaum said. "They said they would trace the postmark and then go through lists of names of kids in the schools in the area. But unfortunately, we had thrown the envelope away."

FBI Special Agent John Reed said he read the letter but could do nothing. "It's beautiful in its childish simplicity. It's a real tear-jerker," he said.
Then Grinbaum decided to organize a holiday drive for needy families in the Seattle area.

"We figured we'd just start helping a family here and a family there, and sooner or later, we'd have to hit Craig's," Grinbaum said. "We thought it would have a snowballing effect." He said the names of children who might go without presents this year have been gathered from "people we talk to have a neighbor or know someone in need."

At another restaurant, the Edgewater, bartender Scotty Randall joined the impromptu campaign. He collected $140 from customers in one night.
"I make them pay me $10 to read the letter," Randall said.
Grinbaum said the Seattle Fire Department and police have volunteered to help deliver the goods.
"We're going to contact other places, too," Grinbaum said. "We show the people the letter and they give us money."
"I'm so pged and so exed — it's mag," he said.

BEACH BUILDING PROJECT: George Miller and Sons, St. Joseph, are hauling 180,000 tons of beach sand for "feeder beach" project in south St. Joseph. U.S. Army Corps of Engineers awarded $308,600 contract to Miller and Sons to complete two feeder beach projects built along 3,000 feet of Lake Michigan shoreline between Hawthorne avenue in St. Joseph and Brown School road in Shoreham village. Miller is hauling sand from Bridgman to lake bluff where it is dumped to beach. Two other feeder beach projects have been constructed along Lake Michigan shoreline here, one at Silver Beach and one at Lions Park. Total cost of all four projects is $975,000. Object of feeder beach is to deposit new sand on beach and allow lake currents to "feed" the sand to badly-eroded areas. (Staff photo)

Warrant Names Investor

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — A warrant was issued Friday by Traverse City District Court for the arrest of a wealthy Ann Arbor investor who already has been charged with sexually molesting a 14-year-old Port Huron boy.
Leelanau County authorities say they are seeking Francis Sheldon on a charge of second-degree criminal sexual conduct involving another young boy.
State Police say the alleged incident occurred last July on North Fox Island, an 800-acre island Sheldon owns in Lake Michigan off Charlevoix.
State Police in Port Huron said they still are seeking Sheldon under a warrant issued several weeks ago in connection with allegations made by the 14-year-old Port Huron boy.
The 48-year-old Ann Arbor investor is "out of the country," according to his father.
Sheldon and two other men facing similar charges were directors of Brother Paul's Children's Mission, which published literature promoting an island boys' camp.

An Adopt-A-Wife Plan

WESTERLY, R.I. (AP) — They didn't want to get married, but they wanted to live together respectably. So Joseph Connolly 3rd, 33, adopted Elaine Tattersall, 32, as his daughter.
"The daughter can use the name of the father," said their lawyer, Aram K. Berberian.

"People will believe they are married because they use the same name. They obtain respectability in the eyes of their peers."
According to town records, Miss Tattersall's parents are still alive. A spokeswoman at the town clerk's office confirmed that the adoption had taken place, and said it was legal because Miss Tattersall "is of age and can be adopted by whomever she chooses."

She added, "Isn't it their own business what they do? I don't understand why newspapers are so interested in this."

Calls to the couple's home were not answered.
"The major factor is here we have two people 'living in sin,'" said Berberian. "To legitimize the cohabitation, they became related."
Berberian said he used the tactic himself three years ago and later married the woman he adopted as his "daughter." He said the arrangement can offer benefits other than respectability.

For example, he said, in the event of a breakup, "The daughter can never force the father to pay alimony." And the "father" gets an added tax deduction if he pays more than half the cost of supporting the "daughter," Berberian said.
He said that when he used the adoption process with his girlfriend, it protected him from charges of immorality leveled by his wife. "The male can legitimize a relationship with his paramour, and the wife can't tell the Family Court her husband is being immoral," he said.

Tell It To The Judge

SPARKS, Nev. (AP) — When John Morrison appears in Municipal Court here on a charge of using obscene language in public, the usual judge won't hear the case. The usual judge is Morrison. The charge stems from an October dispute between Judge Morrison and Richard Goza, 24, a service station attendant. Each made a citizen's arrest on the other, charging public use of obscene language. Goza pleaded guilty in Morrison's court and was fined $100 by another judge who heard the case because of Morrison's involvement.

Idaho's Governor Gets Interior Post

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Carter has chosen Gov. Cecil Andrus of Idaho to be his secretary of the interior — the fourth cabinet member he has picked since he began announcing his choices Dec. 3.

Carter convened his third nationally broadcast news conference in five days to formally disclose the selection.

The choice of Andrus, who is chairman of the National Governors' Conference, was hardly a surprise. When he arrived in Plains Friday afternoon he told reporters it was "pretty obvious" he was interested in the interior post.

And Carter Press Secretary Jody Powell took the governor to dinner Friday night at a restaurant in neighboring Americus frequented by the press corps, where Andrus accepted congratulations and said he would see reporters in the morning.

Carter had a busy schedule arranged for after the news conference. He set up meetings with:

—Former Defense Secretary James Schlesinger, who may be in line to head a new department of energy and natural resources that would grow out of a planned amalgamation of the Federal Energy Administration and the Energy Research and Development Administration.

—Theodore R. Sorenson, one-time aide to President Kennedy, mentioned as a potential director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

—Griffin Bell, an Atlanta attorney and retired judge of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, who met with Carter and Sen. James Eastland, D-Miss., earlier this week.

Carter, who continues to seek at least one woman for his cabinet, also met Friday with Joan Manley, vice president in charge of the book division of Time, Inc., and Juanita Kreps, an economist and vice president of Duke University.

Mrs. Kreps has been mentioned as a potential secretary of labor or commerce and has met with Carter here twice this month. As she left Plains, she told reporters she had neither been offered nor accepted a position in the Carter administration. When asked if she was available for an appointment, she responded "it's too soon to speculate."

Mrs. Manley entered and left Carter's guarded compound with Vice President-elect Mondale and Lane Kirkland, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO. She and Kirkland came and left without talking to reporters.

The AFL-CIO hierarchy is supporting John T. Dunlop to return to his former post as secretary of labor, which he resigned a year ago in a dispute with President Ford. Some women's groups and representatives of minorities, however, have opposed him on grounds that he was unenthusiastic about blocking discriminatory hiring practices.

Spokesman Powell, asked whether Carter had given Kirkland any names as an alternative to Dunlop, said, "I'm not in a position to deny it. It's a very delicate situation here."

Another cabinet post that remains unfilled, although it was high on Carter's priority list for a decision, is that of secretary of defense. The AFL-CIO opposes Harold Brown, a high Pentagon official in the Johnson administration, although Brown reportedly has been the President-elect's top candidate.

Powell said that at his meeting with Carter, which ran twice as long as scheduled, "there were no objections raised by Mr. Kirkland to any specific individuals."

Before today's news conference was scheduled, Powell had told reporters to expect such a session Sunday. There were conflicting indications whether more top appointments would be forthcoming at a second news conference Sunday conference would be in two days, or whether the

Hillsdale Sheriff Must Explain Delay

HILLSDALE, Mich. (AP) — Hillsdale County Sheriff E.O. Webb faces contempt of court charges unless he can explain a few things, says Second District Court Judge James Hayne.

The judge said Friday he wants to know why a Hillsdale man was jailed for 52 days before being brought to court. He also wants Webb to explain why he showed up late for the man's court appearance Friday.

"I can't even begin to explain to you how many constitutional rights this appears to violate," Hayne said.

Hillsdale attorney Al Neukom obtained a writ of habeas corpus for the release of James Cole Tuesday. Cole had been held in the county jail since Oct. 24 for allegedly receiving and concealing stolen property.

He was taken to district court Tuesday after Neukom received the writ. Friday, Judge Hayne freed Cole on personal recognizance.

Webb was also scheduled to appear at Friday's hearing. The sheriff on Friday declined to comment on the case.

Two Women Sue Country Singer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Country music singer George Jones has been accused in a lawsuit of hitting a woman after forcing her to drink liquor and striking her companion.

The suit, filed Friday in Davidson County Circuit Court by Joyce Jones and Sonja Northern, asked $51,000 for each plaintiff.

'Blues' Won't Pay

DETROIT (AP) — Starting Jan. 1, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan will not pay claims for outpatient emergency treatment unless the subscriber's life or bodily functions are in danger. Blues President John McCabe said the move was meant "to contain the costs of health care." Emergency medical treatment for Blues subscribers after Dec. 31 will be covered only if the condition or symptoms occur suddenly and unexpectedly and doctors confirm a threat to life or bodily functions, McCabe said. Treatment must be given within 72 hours of the onset of the condition, he added. Some of the 5.3 million Blues members statewide will be exempt from the new policy, he added. These include members of groups with limited or no medical emergency benefits in their contracts, and some in national group plans which have unique and specific outpatient benefits. McCabe said outpatient hospital claims for Blues members climbed from $54,000 in 1966 to 1.6 million last year.

The judge said Friday he wants to know why a Hillsdale man was jailed for 52 days before being brought to court. He also wants Webb to explain why he showed up late for the man's court appearance Friday.

"I can't even begin to explain to you how many constitutional rights this appears to violate," Hayne said.

Hillsdale attorney Al Neukom obtained a writ of habeas corpus for the release of James Cole Tuesday. Cole had been held in the county jail since Oct. 24 for allegedly receiving and concealing stolen property.

He was taken to district court Tuesday after Neukom received the writ. Friday, Judge Hayne freed Cole on personal recognizance.

Webb was also scheduled to appear at Friday's hearing. The sheriff on Friday declined to comment on the case.

'Blues' Won't Pay

DETROIT (AP) — Starting Jan. 1, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan will not pay claims for outpatient emergency treatment unless the subscriber's life or bodily functions are in danger. Blues President John McCabe said the move was meant "to contain the costs of health care." Emergency medical treatment for Blues subscribers after Dec. 31 will be covered only if the condition or symptoms occur suddenly and unexpectedly and doctors confirm a threat to life or bodily functions, McCabe said. Treatment must be given within 72 hours of the onset of the condition, he added. Some of the 5.3 million Blues members statewide will be exempt from the new policy, he added. These include members of groups with limited or no medical emergency benefits in their contracts, and some in national group plans which have unique and specific outpatient benefits. McCabe said outpatient hospital claims for Blues members climbed from 554,000 in 1966 to 1.6 million last year.

Ex-BCA Chief Is Bound Over

Farmer testified he was absent from the board meeting of Jan. 21. The next day he balked at signing a $5,000 check which he was told had been approved by the board to make the pay increase retroactive. Farmer told the court.

He said he was unwilling to issue the check because he thought that without a waiver, the federal funds in BCA's treasury couldn't be used to pay salaries. More than once Mrs. Ford had attempted to get such a waiver but had been turned down, he told the court.

Farmer said he issued the check after talking with Mrs. Ford, who assured him that adequate funds in the treasury were in fact earmarked for salaries. And she assured him that she'd pay back the amount if there were a future problem, said Farmer.

Then-Benton Harbor mayor, Charles F. Joseph, a BCA board member, told Farmer "it's OK" to issue the check because the board had voted to pay the wages, Farmer said.

In his ruling, Taylor discussed a contention by defense attorney Benjamin Logan to the effect that Farmer should never have issued the check if he thought it was wrong.

Said Taylor: "Mr. Farmer's possible lack of diligence was in part precipitated by the defendant and by Chuck Joseph, who gave what this court believes to be erroneous information to Farmer."

Taylor said that the board's action stipulated that the pay increase be granted "if funds are available." As of Jan. 21, funds were not available, said Taylor. According to Farmer's testimony, neither Mrs. Ford nor Joseph mentioned the stipulation.

The official minutes of the Jan. 21 BCA board meeting were admitted into evidence. According to the minutes, Joseph made the motion to pay the $5,000 to Mrs. Ford. The motion passed with three board members dissenting.

Logan, of Grand Rapids, quoted from the minutes of the meeting. He said the minutes stated that Mrs. Nora Jefferson, BCA chairperson, also assured the board that the money in the treasury could be used for Mrs. Ford's salary.

He also reminded the court that witness Albert Benson, from the state Bureau of Community Services, testified Thursday that some of the money in BCA's treasury could legally have been used for the salary supplement.

However, Taylor said that since the additional money that could have legally been used for a pay increase wasn't received by BCA until the month after Mrs. Ford got the raise, the fact had nothing to do with the case.

Smietanka and Logan gave final arguments yesterday in the second charge against Mrs. Ford. According to the indictment, Mrs. Ford did, "with intent to defraud . . . claim (a 1973 Cadillac) was free of encumbrances, which was false, bogus or spurious."

Taylor said "one issue and one issue alone will decide this case." The issue is whether Taylor, as examining magistrate, can amend a grand jury indictment as he can amend a prosecutor's warrant. He wouldn't say what, specifically, he had in mind when interviewed about his statement outside of court.

Smietanka told the court that ICB officials wouldn't have granted Mrs. Ford a $3,500 loan on Dec. 10, 1975, if they had known that she already owed some $2,000 on the car to Victor Greer, of Benton Harbor.

Logan pointed out that Mrs. Ford has repaid the loan to the bank and asked Taylor "What harm was done?" by her action. Taylor asked the prosecution and defense to submit briefs to answer the question of whether he can amend the grand jury indictment. Those briefs will be received within 15 days, the attorneys promised.

Mrs. Ford, who was fired as director of BCA by the board on July 12, remained free on $2,000 bond. Formerly of Benton Harbor, she is now a resident of Chicago, according to court records.

Lawmaker Wants 'Fun' Money Back

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The head of an appropriations subcommittee says if it's legal, he'd like to take back state money community colleges are spending for "leisure time" classes.

"Considering Michigan's serious financial problems, I find the use of state funds for such classes both shocking and ridiculous," said state Sen. Thomas Guastello, D-Sterling Heights.

Guastello said Friday he'll seek an attorney general's opinion on whether money paid to community colleges to subsidize such classes as "pottery for children" and "all about booze" can be recovered.

Libertowski Is Freed By Court

has not been seen since she disappeared in July, 1975.

Taylor, in dismissing the charge, ruled the prosecution "at this point has failed to establish a crime or that the defendant committed a crime."

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Jeffrey Lang said the decision would not be appealed.

Taylor's ruling came about three hours after Berrien Circuit Judge Julian E. Hughes had denied an appeal by the prosecution which sought to overturn an earlier ruling by Taylor. Taylor on Nov. 10 ruled the prosecution's key witness could not testify because the prosecution had not proved a murder had been committed, nor had the state proved that Mrs. Sanders is dead or that her death was the result of a criminal act.

Libertowski's preliminary hearing was then adjourned to allow Long to take the appeal to circuit court. When Hughes upheld Taylor's ruling, the case was remanded back to district court to finish the hearing. When Long offered no further evidence, Libertowski's counsel, Atty. Stanley White of St. Joseph, moved to dismiss the case, and it was over. The defense was also represented by St. Joseph Atty. David Peterson.

"I'm very pleased about the decision and feel it's correct," White said outside of court. Libertowski did not voice his feelings, but said he may issue a prepared statement at a later date.

In Hughes' oral opinion from the bench, the judge noted: "It would appear to me that . . . Judge Taylor has reached the conclusion that based on the evidence before him, no jury composed of reasonable people could find beyond reasonable doubt that either or both of the elements of murder — death and death by a criminal means — had been established."

"This court concludes that Judge Taylor was well within his discretionary limits. In this case I feel constrained to add that had I been sitting in place of Judge Taylor, my ruling would have had to have been the same."

Hughes also said: "This opinion is not to be interpreted as criticism of the prosecutor's office. They have in good faith proceeded with the matter in accordance with the law as is their duty and responsibility. The people have been ably represented."

Taylor's initial ruling prohibited the state's key witness, Myron Hunsberger, from testifying about alleged conversation between him and Libertowski in which Libertowski supposedly admitted killing two women who are missing. But under Michigan law, no statements of a confidential nature attributed to a defendant can be allowed into testimony until it has been established that a crime has been committed.

Long's appeal sought to allow Hunsberger's testimony into district court.

Libertowski has already won a default judgment in Indiana for malicious prosecution against Hunsberger, a former business associate. However,

Libertowski must return to court and prove damages to obtain an award. He has accused Hunsberger of killing both women.

Libertowski has also filed suit in court in South Bend and seeks $5 million damages from Berrien Prosecutor John Smietanka, claiming Smietanka was negligent in signing an affidavit that led to the extradition warrant on Libertowski's Michigan charge.

Kazoo Man Indicted In Ford Threat

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — A 24-year-old Kalamazoo man was indicted Friday by a federal grand jury on charges of threatening to kill President Ford.

The indictment said Robert Allen Lowm told a Kalamazoo businessman during an Oct. 26 telephone conversation that "I am going to kill President Ford."

Lowm was arrested Oct. 29 and has been jailed ever since because he cannot furnish $10,000 bond, federal officials said.

Conviction on the charge carries a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Woman's Purse Snatched

SOUTH HAVEN — City police said a South Haven woman reported she was the victim of a purse snatching last night as she walked in the central business district.

Evelyn Calkins, 424 Huron street, told police she was walking on School street near the Consumers discount store when a man grabbed her purse and fled.

The incident occurred at about 6:20 p.m., police said. The victim, who was not injured, said the purse contained $44 and identification papers.

Tot Hurt

SOUTH HAVEN — A South Haven child suffered minor injuries yesterday after he fell out of his mother's moving car in the parking lot of a grocery store.

Brett Patulski, 22 months, son of Mrs. Sandra Patulski, route 3, South Haven, was released after treatment at South Haven Community hospital for a sprained ankle and bruises on the head.

State police reported that Mrs. Patulski said she was driving about five miles an hour in the lot when her son opened the car door and fell out.

Widow Sues City For $4 Million

DETROIT (AP) — The widow of a businessman who was fatally shot in a city-operated parking lot near Olympia Stadium last month has sued the City of Detroit for $4 million.

David Jones, 31, an executive from Farmington Hills, was shot Nov. 6 after he left a reception for two tennis players who had been in a tournament at the stadium, located on the city's near west side.

(Jones was formerly of Fairplain, a suburb of Benton Harbor. His widow is the former Catherine Beal, also a former Twin Cities area resident. Her mother, Mrs. Helen Beal, now resides at 5141 Roosevelt road in Stevensville.) Mrs. Jones, 29, filed suit Friday in Wayne County Circuit Court charging that the city's negligence was responsible for her husband's death.

A 17-year-old Detroit youth was arraigned Nov. 14 on murder and armed robbery charges in the slaying. Rutherford Masonburg stood mute at his arraignment and a plea of not guilty was entered for him. His trial is underway.

The suit blames the city for: —Leaving the parking lot unattended while cars were still in the lot and the stadium event was continuing.

—Letting its employees turn off the lot's lights early.

—Failing to provide adequate police protection in a high-crime area.

—Failing to make sure the parking lot attendants stayed on duty while the lot was in use.

—Not keeping unauthorized people out of the lot.

Mrs. Jones told police Jones had parked their car in the city-owned lot across the street from the stadium because Olympia's main lot was full.

When the couple left the reception, Jones told his wife to wait for him inside the stadium while he went to get the car. Mrs. Jones said it was shortly after midnight.

A few minutes later, someone drove up in a car and told her, "Someone is screaming for help over there and someone is on the ground," she said.

Police found her husband's body in the parking lot. They said he had been shot in the back and robbed of about $4.

The city's parking department later suspended the lot's three attendants, who admitted they quit work at 9 p.m., more than two hours before their normal quitting time.

Sex By The Book

SEATTLE (AP) — Almost every youngster knows that girls carry books on their hips close to the chest while boys tote theirs slung at the side. But why? Mary A. Jenni, a graduate psychologist, and her husband, Donald, a zoology professor, speculate in the Journal Science that carrying styles stem from a difference in body builds and social modeling. Social modeling means that boys try to be like boys and girls try to imitate others of their own sex. Not only is the female hip relatively wider than a male's, but extra fat gives it a more "shelf-like quality," the Jennis reported. The study, based on the couple's observations in several countries, showed that most girls carry books in "boy fashion" until grade school, when they switch to the more typical female style.

THE DIFFERENCE: How to tell boy and girl students apart? Mary A. Jenni took look at students and came to the conclusion that they can be figured out by how they carry their books. According to Jenni, female students wrap one or both arms around their books while boys carry books at their sides. (AP Wirephoto)

Ex-BCA Chief Is Bound Over

Farmer testified he was absent from the board meeting of Jan. 21. The next day he balked at signing a $5,900 check which he was told had been approved by the board to make the pay increase retroactive, Farmer told the court.

He said he was unwilling to issue the check because he thought that without a waiver, the federal funds in BCA's treasury couldn't be used to pay salaries. More than once Mrs. Ford had attempted to get such a waiver but had been turned down, he told the court.

Farmer said he issued the check after talking with Mrs. Ford, who assured him that adequate funds in the treasury were in fact earmarked for salaries. And she assured him that she'd pay back the amount if there were a future problem, said Farmer.

Then-Benton Harbor mayor, Charles F. Joseph, a BCA board member, told Farmer "it's OK" to issue the check because the board had voted to pay the wages, Farmer said.

In his ruling, Taylor discussed a contention by defense attorney Benjamin Logan to the effect that Farmer should never have issued the check if he thought it was wrong.

Said Taylor: "Mr. Farmer's possible lack of diligence was in part precipitated by the defendant and by Chuck Joseph, who gave what this court believes to be erroneous information to Farmer."

Taylor said that the board's action stipulated that the pay increase be granted "if funds are available." As of Jan. 21, funds were not available, said Taylor. According to Farmer's testimony, neither Mrs. Ford nor Joseph mentioned the stipulation.

The official minutes of the Jan. 21 BCA board meeting were admitted into evidence. According to the minutes, Joseph made the motion to pay the $5,900 to Mrs. Ford. The motion passed with three board members dissenting.

Logan, of Grand Rapids, quoted from the minutes of the meeting. He said the minutes stated that Mrs. Nora Jefferson, BCA chairperson, also assured the board that the money in the treasury could be used for Mrs. Ford's salary.

He also reminded the court that witness Albert Benson, from the state Bureau of Community Services, testified Thursday that some of the money in BCA's treasury could legally have been used for the salary supplement.

However, Taylor said that since the additional money that could have legally been used for a pay increase wasn't received by BCA until the month after Mrs. Ford got the raise, the fact had nothing to do with the case.

Smietanka and Logan gave final arguments yesterday in the second charge against Mrs. Ford. According to the indictment, Mrs. Ford did, "with intent to defraud... claim (a 1973 Cadillac) was free of encumbrances, which was false, bogus or spurious."

Taylor said "one issue and one issue alone will decide this case." The issue is whether Taylor, as examining magistrate, can amend a grand jury indictment as he can amend a prosecutor's warrant. He wouldn't say what, specifically, he had in mind when interviewed about his statement outside of court.

Smietanka told the court that ICB officials wouldn't have granted Mrs. Ford a $3,500 loan on Dec. 10, 1975, if they had known that she already owed some $2,600 on the car to Victor Greer, of Benton Harbor.

Logan pointed out that Mrs. Ford has repaid the loan to the bank and asked Taylor "What harm was done?" by her action. Taylor asked the prosecution and defense to submit briefs to answer the question of whether he can amend the grand jury indictment. Those briefs will be received within 15 days, the attorneys promised.

Mrs. Ford, who was fired as director of BCA by the board on July 12, remained free on $2,000 bond. Formerly of Benton Harbor, she is now a resident of Chicago, according to court records.

Lawmaker Wants 'Fun' Money Back

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The head of an appropriations subcommittee says if it's legal, he'd like to take back state money community colleges are spending for "leisure time" classes.

Considering Michigan's serious financial problems, I find the use of state funds for such classes both shocking and ridiculous," said state Sen. Thomas Guastello, D-Sterling Heights. Guastello said Friday he'll seek an attorney general's opinion on whether money paid to community colleges to subsidize such classes as "pottery for children" and "all about booze" can be recovered.

Libertowski Is Freed By Court

has not been seen since she disappeared in July, 1975.

Taylor, in dismissing the charge, ruled the prosecution "at this point has failed to establish a crime or that the defendant committed a crime."

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Jeffrey Long said the decision would not be appealed.

Taylor's ruling came about three hours after Berrien Circuit Judge Julian E. Hughes had denied an appeal by the prosecution which sought to overturn an earlier ruling by Taylor. Taylor on Nov. 10 ruled the prosecution's key witness could not testify because the prosecution had not proved a murder had been committed, nor had the state proved that Mrs. Sanders is dead or that her death was the result of a criminal act.

Libertowski's preliminary hearing was then adjourned to allow Long to take the appeal to circuit court. When Hughes upheld Taylor's ruling, the case was remanded back to district court to finish the hearing. When Long offered no further evidence, Libertowski's counsel, Atty. Stanley White of St. Joseph, moved to dismiss the case, and it was over. The defense was also represented by St. Joseph Atty. David Peterson.

"I'm very pleased about the decision and feel it's correct," White said outside of court. Libertowski did not voice his feelings, but said he may issue a prepared statement at a later date.

In Hughes' oral opinion from the bench, the judge noted: "It would appear to me that... Judge Taylor has reached the conclusion that based on the evidence before him, no jury composed of reasonable people could find beyond reasonable doubt that either or both of the elements of murder — death and death by a criminal means — had been established."

"This court concludes that Judge Taylor was well within his discretionary limits. In this case I feel constrained to add that had I been sitting in place of Judge Taylor, my ruling would have had to have been the same."

Hughes also said: "This opinion is not to be interpreted as criticism of the prosecutor's office. They have in good faith proceeded with the matter in accordance with the law as is their duty and responsibility. The people have been ably represented."

Taylor's initial ruling prohibited the state's key witness, Myron Hunsberger, from testifying about alleged conversation between him and Libertowski in which Libertowski supposedly admitted killing two women who are missing. But under Michigan law, no statements of a confessional nature attributed to a defendant can be allowed into testimony until it has been established that a crime has been committed.

Long's appeal sought to allow Hunsberger's testimony into district court.

Libertowski has already won a default judgment in Indiana for malicious prosecution against Hunsberger, a former business associate. However,

Libertowski must return to court and prove damages to obtain an award. He has accused Hunsberger of killing both women.

Libertowski has also filed suit in court in South Bend and seeks $5 million damages from Berrien Prosecutor John Smietanka, claiming Smietanka was negligent in signing an affidavit that led to the extradition warrant on Libertowski's Michigan charge.

Benton Harbor Rally Falls Short At Traverse City

TRAVERSE CITY — A fourth-quarter Benton Harbor surge fell short here Friday night and the Tigers dropped a LMAC basketball game to Traverse City 68-63.

The Trojans, now 2-0 in the league and 3-1 overall, had a comfortable 59-47 lead with 4½ minutes left to play, but Benton Harbor cut the deficit to 61-59 with 2:01 remaining. After Traverse City took its last throw for the Trojans, a basket by Ronald Page, Benton Harbor's leading scorer with 19 points, then made it 62-61 with 1:33 left on the clock.

But that was as close as the Tigers could get, as Traverse City then got two free throws each from Chris Bramer and Keith Smith. Benton Harbor got its last points on a bucket at the buzzer by Steve McNutt.

Benton Harbor had held at 15-13 lead after the first quarter, but Traverse City was on top 29-27 at halftime and 43-37 after three periods.

McNutt and Keith Taylor added 14 points each to Page's effort as the Tigers slipped to 1-1 in the LMAC and 1-3 overall. Dave Mohr was the leading Traverse City scorer with 18 points. Bramer netted 15 and Tom Raymond and Dan Hintz 10 each.

Benton Harbor hit an excellent 28 of 56 field goals (50 per cent) and seven of 10 free throws (70 percent), but the Tigers also had a costly 25 turnovers.

Benton Harbor coach Earl McKee said his team also had "at least 25 mental turnovers" in the game.

"We had no sharpness at all on offense or defense," declared the Tiger coach. "We just haven't released and played. We have some ability, but we haven't used it....I can't put my finger on what it is."

McKee said he tried a zone, a half court press and finally a man-to-man defense Friday, but he really wasn't happy with any of the efforts.

But McKee said the Trojans "were as bad as we were." Traverse City had 22 turnovers. Traverse City also had a good shooting night, hitting 28 of 51 (55 per cent) from the floor. The Trojans had taken 92 shots against Manistee on Tuesday night.

Benton Harbor did salvage a split for the night, with the Tiger jayvees winning 77-71 in overtime. Andrew Hurst scored 33 points for the little Tigers, on 4-1.

With a starting lineup that averages almost 6-4, Hackett outrebounded Covert 54-35 to take away the Bulldog running game.

"It was a really good team effort," said winning coach Ozie Cavazos. "The first half it was strictly defense. We totally took away the inside, but the big difference was rebounding."

Center Mark Mindeman, at 6-8, topped the Hackett scoring attack with 28 points. Guard Joe Albertson (6-3) added 12, while forward Tim Matthews (6-4) had 11.

Albertson and Matthews also contributed seven and six assists, respectively.

"Albertson opened it up from the outside," Cavazos said. "And when they moved out to guard him we went to an excellent passing game inside."

Jerry Starks came off the bench to toss in 20 points for Covert. Robert Maggard added 15.

Hackett held a 38-23 halftime lead and Covert never got closer than 13 in the second half.

For the game Hackett blistered the nets on 32 of 56 from the floor for 57 per cent. The Bulldogs could find the range on only 25 of 77 for 32 per cent.

Mindeman led the Hackett rebounders with 15 and Matthews pulled down 12. James DeBoe came away with 10 caroms for Covert.

Lakeshore's 32 Points Record Low

RV Defense Tops Lancers

THREE OAKS — Even King Kong might have had a tough time penetrating River Valley's defenses here Friday night.

Valley's defenders drove Lakeshore bananas as the hosts didn't monkey around in clawing the Lancers 38-32 in a Blossomland defensive epic.

Jerry Schaffer's Mustangs, always noted for their tenacious defensive play, outdid themselves Friday as they held Lakeshore to its lowest point total in its school history.

The 32 points by Lakeshore also matched a Blossomland all-time record for fewest points. Coloma also scored only 32 points in a loss to Edwardsburg during the 1973-74 season.

"We've always taken pride in our defense here," stated Schaffer, whose Mustangs own the stingiest defense in southwestern Michigan this season. "We've emphasized defense and really worked hard on it. I call our defense a man-to-man with a lot of help. But I don't care what type of defense you use...you've got to have team work."

River Valley, which has held foes to an average of 45.7 points per game, shot a miserable 27 per cent from the floor but its defense and Lakeshore's careless ball handling (27 turnovers) saved the day.

"It's great to win when you don't shoot very well," Schaffer added. "This is the first game we've really shot poorly."

"It was a very loosely played game. But I think we outshined them. We kept the pressure on defensively and I thought did a good job of disrupting their offense."

Ironically, Lakeshore also came up with a superior defensive game. The 38 points are the fewest given up by the Lancers in eight years.

"I really can't fault our defense...both teams played exceptional defense," voiced Lakeshore Coach Lloyd MacTavish. "This was our best defensive effort of the year, but our worst offensive performance."

"Jager (Tom) got half of our points. Ridiculous! We just didn't provide any support for him. We simply have to execute better on offense. And we had exceptionally poor ball handling tonight...it had been improving the last two games."

Jager dumped in 16 points and pulled down 13 rebounds, both game-high totals. Steve Nash with 11 points was the lone Mustang to reach double figures. Werner Maak, a lanky 6-7 center, contributed eight points but more impressive were his five blocked shots and seven rebounds.

A string of 13 straight points at the end of the first half and at the start of the second half broke a 10-all deadlock and gave Valley a lead it never relinquished. Lakeshore, which scored two points in the second quarter, went scoreless for 7:40 over that span.

The Mustangs hit four straight shots early in the third period for their only hot shooting of the night. "That spurt was really the game," offered Schaffer.

The Lancers, who have lost three straight, fall to a near-fatal Blossomland mark of 1-3 and 1-5 overall.

"We finally got hot outside for about four minutes. Then it was back to alley ball."

Valley meshed 15 of 55 shots for 27 per cent and Lakeshore 14 of 44 for 32 per cent. The Mustangs connected on eight of 13 foul shots, seven of 10 in the final period. Lakeshore made four of eight from the foul lines.

River Valley, which held a 39-25 margin in rebounding with Dave Rieth topping collecting seven caroms, upped its league record to 3-1 and 4-2 overall.

"Naturally we would have liked to have beaten Brandywine but I feel we're in good contending position in the league race," observed Schaffer.

The Lancers, who have lost three straight, fall to a near-fatal Blossomland mark of 1-3 and 1-5 overall.

"I guess we're real long shots now," commented MacTavish of the Lancers' title hopes. "We could share the title with only three losses since there is no much balance in the league. Don't forget we get a second chance against these teams on our own floor."

The Lakeshore jayvees upped their mark to 5-1 with a 53-40 win. Joe Shafer paced the Lancers with 16 while Dave Zebell hit 10 for Valley, now 3-1.

"We got the rebounds and moved the ball much better than we have been on offense. We were hustling up and down the court."

The Rams put four players in double digits with Mike Grimes collecting 18 points, William Gamble and Perry Palanca 14 each and Ken Cullum 12.

"Gamble played probably his best all-around game ever," added White of the 6-3 standout forward. "He really hit the boards and had 14 rebounds and only played about a half. And Grimes had an outstanding game too...four assists, no turnovers and 10 rebounds."

The Rams hit 41 of 82 shots for 50 per cent and eight of 22 free throws. Gull Lake, playing without leading scorer Jack Nuyven (out with a knee injury), was 19 of 58 for 32 per cent and eight of 25 in foul losses.

Grimes made eight of 11 shots and Palanca seven of 11 to pace the red-hot Ram gunning.

South Haven, which is idle until Jan. 4, made 34 turnovers but most came from the reserves.

Gull Lake drops to 2-2 in the league and 3-3 overall.

South Haven won the jayvee game 78-70 with Leon Cunningham sinking 28, Jerry Perry 17 and collecting 13 rebounds and Paul Dulik 10 points.

Benton Harbor Rally Falls Short At Traverse City

TRAVERSE CITY — A fourth-quarter Benton Harbor surge fell short here Friday night and the Tigers dropped a LMAC basketball game to Traverse City 66-63.

The Trojans, now 2-0 in the league and 3-1 overall, had a comfortable 59-47 lead with 4½ minutes left to play, but Benton Harbor cut the deficit to 61-59 with 2:01 remaining.

After Traverse City took its last time out, Mark Spencer hit a free throw for the Trojans. A basket by Ronald Page, Benton Harbor's leading scorer with 19 points, then made it 62-61 with 1:23 left on the clock.

But that was as close as the Tigers could get, as Traverse City then got two free throws each from Chris Bramer and Keith Smith. Benton Harbor got its last points on a bucket at the buzzer by Steve McNutt.

Benton Harbor held at 15-13 lead after the first quarter, but Traverse City was on top 29-27 at halftime and 45-37 after three periods.

McNutt and Keith Taylor added 14 points each to Page's effort as the Tigers slipped to 1-1 in the LMAC and 1-3 overall.

Dave Mahn was the leading Traverse City scorer with 18 points. Bramer netted 15 and Tom Raymond and Dan Hintz 10 each.

Benton Harbor hit an excellent 28 of 56 field goals (50 per cent) and seven of 10 free throws (70 percent), but the Tigers also had a costly 25 turnovers.

Benton Harbor coach Earl McKee said his team also had "at least 25 mental turnovers" in the game.

"We had no sharpness at all on offense or defense," declared the Tiger coach. "We just haven't released and played. We have some ability, but we haven't used it....I can't put my finger on what it is."

McKee said he tried a zone, a half court press and finally a man-to-man defense Friday, but he really wasn't happy with any of the efforts.

But McKee said the Trojans "were as bad as we were." Traverse had 22 turnovers. Traverse City also had a good shooting night, hitting 28 of 51 (51 per cent) from the floor. The Trojans had taken 92 shots against Manistee on Tuesday night.

Benton Harbor did salvage a split for the night, with the Tiger jayvees winning 77-71 in overtime. Andrew Hurst scored 33 points for the little Tigers, ow 4-1.

SOUTH HAVEN — When South Haven puts everything together, watch out!

The Rams, expected to be a Class B giant this season, regained their form here Friday night by polishing off Gull Lake 90-46 in a Wolverine conference lauder.

South Haven, now 3-2 in the league and 4-2 overall, couldn't do anything wrong. The Rams hit 50 per cent from the field and out rebounded the visitors 61-28 while posting huge quarter spreads of 28-7, 51-15 and 77-26.

"This was our best game of the year," stated Ram Coach M.H. White. "The kids played with a little togetherness tonight. "We got the rebounds and moved the ball much better than we have been on offense. We were hustling up and down the court."

The Rams put four players in double digits with Mike Grimes collecting 18 points, William Gamble and Perry Palanca 14 each and Ken Cullum 12.

"Gamble played probably his best all-around game ever," added White of the 6-3 standout forward. "He really hit the boards and had 14 rebounds and only played about a half. And Grimes had an outstanding game too...four assists, no turnovers and 10 rebounds."

The Rams hit 41 of 82 shots for 50 per cent and eight of 22 free throws. Gull Lake, playing without leading scorer Jack Nuyuen (out with a knee injury), was 19 of 59 for 32 per cent and eight of 25 in foul tosses.

Grimes made eight of 11 shots and Palanca seven of 11 to pace the red-hot Ram gunning.

South Haven, which is idle until Jan. 4, made 34 turnovers but most came from the reserves.

Gull Lake drops to 2-2 in the league and 3-3 overall.

South Haven won the jayvee game 76-70 with Leon Cunningham sinking 28, Jerry Perry 17 and collecting 13 rebounds and Paul Dulik 10 points.

Coloma Loses In Double Overtime

COLOMA — Jim Case tossed in 27 points here Friday night as Edwardsburg nipped Coloma 70-64 in a double overtime Blossomland conference basketball thriller.

The Comets overcame a 10-point Eddie lead in the fourth quarter to tie the game and rallied again in the first extra period to again knot the score. But Edwardsburg held Coloma scoreless in the second overtime to up its Bud record to 2-2 and overall slate to 4-3. Coloma fell to 0-4 and 1-5, respectively.

Best As Lefty

Shortstop Larry Bowe of the Phillies is a switch hitter but does better average-wise from the left-handed hitting stance.

"I think we are coming," Coloma coach Sam Wright said. "It's just a matter of time. We were able to fast break well. Our big weakness now is rebounding. We don't have the size."

Case was able to take advantage of Coloma's lack of size on numerous occasions, working inside for easy baskets. The 6-3 junior center tossed in 10 of his points in the third quarter when the Eddie opened up a 50-40 lead.

But Joe Jones poured in eight points in the final quarter as the Comets fought back to tie the score at 60-60.

Edwardsburg grabbed a quick lead in the first extra period on a basket by Case. Rich Scherer tied the game with a pair free throws but Kevin Dycus put Edwardsburg back on top with a bucket. Penoyar tied it at 64-64 with a last-minute layup.

In the second overtime it was all Edwardsburg. Case hit three free throws, Scott Hammontree scored a basket and Dycus hit a free throw for the final count.

In the two overtimes, the Eddie were perfect from the floor, hitting three of three attempts. Coloma could find the range on only one of nine during that time.

Besides Case, the Eddie also got double digit scoring from Hammontree with 13 and Dycus with 11. Joe Jones and Scherer each tossed in 14 and Keith Penoyar and Don Arent scored 12 apiece for the Comets.

The difference in the game was at the foul line where Edwardsburg hit on 16 of 31 to eight of 15 for Coloma.

For the game, Coloma hit 28 of 63 from the floor for 44 per cent. Edwardsburg found the range on 27 of 65 for 42 per cent.

The Eddie held a 42-35 board advantage with Case pulling down 14. Bruce Dings topped the Comets with 10.

Edwardsburg won the junior varsity game 74-61, handing Coloma its first setback.

New Buffalo Wins On Last-Second Shot Miller's Heroics Defeat Lakers

BY PAUL MORGAN

Staff Sports Writer

Coach Al Nixon is getting to wonder what it takes to win a basketball game these days.

Even though Catholic is 0-7 overall and 0-4 in the league, it has been outscored by just 47 points.

"That is getting to be an emotional drain on our team," commented Nixon. "We're losing confidence in ourselves when we lose the close games."

Miller's last-second heroics overshadowed the performance turned in by forward Jim Wold.

The junior poured in 23 points and pulled down 20 rebounds in leading the Bisons to their second win in six games. They are 2-2 in the Red Arrow.

"He really controlled the inside for us," grinned happy Bison coach Tom Miller.

"We had poise and really hustled tonight," he added. "The kids really played consistently."

One of the big keys in the tight clash was free throw shooting. New Buffalo, a 40 per cent shooting team, hit nine of 14 for 64.3 per cent while the Lakers hit 11 of 22 tries, a 50 per cent clip.

"That was a big key for us," Miller said. "It's a lot better than hitting 40 per cent."

The Bisons' coach was happy with his team's defensive effort.

"I was very happy with the man-to-man — Catholic runs a nice shuffle offense."

"I liked our half-court pressure, too."

It's not like the Lakers have been blown out of many games this season. They have led in the last minute of four games and been behind by two points in one other. "I really couldn't be more proud of the way they have been coming back this season," Nixon commented.

"With the effort we have been giving, I'm convinced we can get some people in the second half."

Mike Masini has been a mainstay all year, and he turned in another fine performance against the Bisons. The junior notched 22 points and pulled down 13 rebounds.

"Mike just did a heck of a job underneath," Nixon said.

Tim Gentry added 12 points as the only other Laker in double figures. Besides Wold's 23 points, Mark D'Amato scored 14 and Miller had 12, including six in the last quarter.

The Bisons held a 23-19 lead at the end of the first quarter, but hit only one field goal in the second and trailed 34-32 at the intermission.

The Lakers increased that to a 52-46 margin after three quarters and pulled out to a 54-46 lead with 6:27 left in the game. New Buffalo then scored the next 10 points to gain a 56-54 lead with 2:25 remaining.

After the Bisons took a 61-57 lead with 1:49, Masini scored the next four points to tie the game at 61-apiece with 1:23 left.

Both teams then squandered golden opportunities to put the game away. Catholic had a man at the free throw line with 59 seconds left, but he missed the front end of a one and bonus. The Bisons then brought the ball down and put up a long bomb from the cheap seats with 40 seconds left.

The Lakers missed a layup with 28 seconds but New Buffalo was called for double dribble five seconds later. Catholic tried to work for one shot, but was called for over-and-back when a pass went awry with three seconds left.

Miller's set up to John Miller worked. "Miller was the man we wanted to shoot," he said. "We wanted to set a double pick to free him."

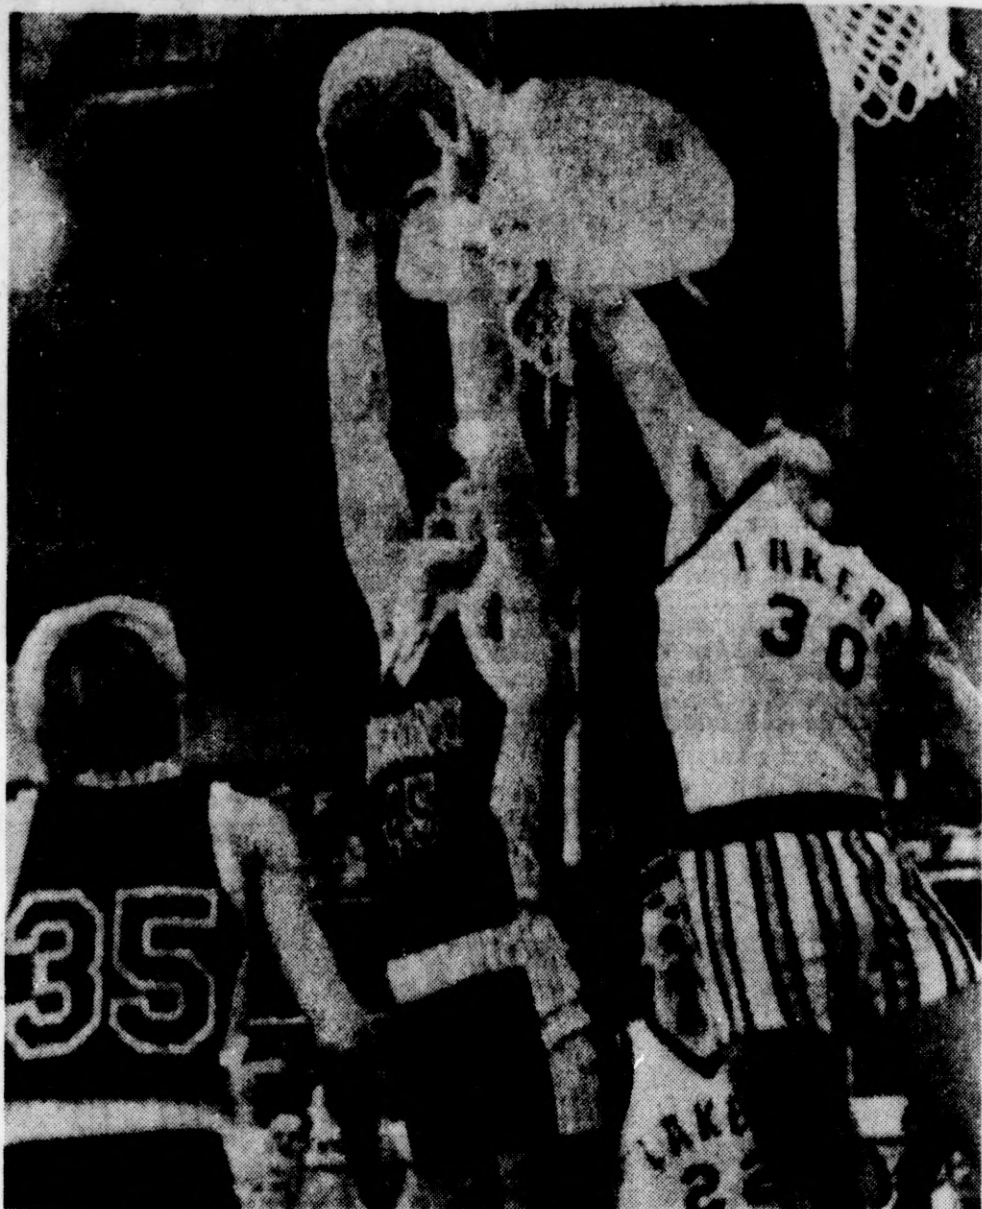

The Bison's hit 27 of 63 floor shots (42.9 per cent) while Catholic made 25 of 64 (39.0). New Buffalo held a 49-46 rebounding edge.

In another close one, New Buffalo won the junior varsity game 51-50 with James Smith leading the winners with 20 and Bradley Wheeler scoring 16 for the Lakers.

Rebounding was about even, with Martin having 50 and Lawrence 49.

PAW PAW — Free throws were the difference here Friday night as Paw Paw rallied to edge Allegan 51-41 in a Wolverine conference basketball game.

The victory kept the Redskins in the thick of the Wolverine basketball race with a 3-2 league mark. Paw Paw holds the same overall record. Allegan fell to 2-2 in the league and 3-3 overall.

The Redskins trailed 33-28 going into the final quarter, but outscored Allegan 23-8 to take the win. In that decisive fourth quarter, Paw Paw hit on 11 of 14 free throw opportunities.

The Bucks scored 10 consecutive points to take a 28-22 lead in the second quarter. But the unbeaten Rangers then got the last 11 points of the first half and first eight points of the second half to take a healthy 41-28 margin. Buchanan went scoreless for 6:07 during that stretch.

Hot shooting and rebounding also played vital roles in the Ranger victory. Cass' fifth straight of the year. The Rangers ended up hitting 33 of 61 shots for 54 per cent, including 20 of 31 for 64 per cent the last half.

Cass held a 38-28 command on the boards.

"Rebounding was a big key for us," stated Ranger Coach

Bob Follett. "Buchanan outrebounded us 12-4 in the first quarter. But then we outrebounded them 34-14 the rest of the game."

Kevin Loder again paced the Rangers with his 22 points and 19 rebounds. Tim Hartzell was a surprise star for the Rangers as he contributed 14 points off the bench. He had scored only 15 points in four previous games. Glen Hawkins added 18 points and Marshall Sinclair 16.

"Hartzell was just at the right place at the right time all night," stated Follett. "He's only 5-10 but he challenged Buchanan inside and really took to the boards."

Gerald Busby was a standout for the Bucks with his career-high 29 points. Kevin Vandebush contributed 13 along with Greg Frazier while Joe Kyles had 11.

"We did a good job on defense on every one except Busby," added Follett. "And we held our poise even though we had a lot of mistakes."

Buchanan hit 29 of 67 from the floor for 43 per cent. The Bucks were 12 of 14 at the foul lines, Cass 16 of 21. Cass made 26 turnovers, Buchanan 23.

second quarter, before Brandywine took charge. The Bobcats were on top 33-30 at halftime and 45-37 entering the last period.

"The thing that hurt us was their jumping ability," declared Dowagiac coach Larry Crandall. "They've got super leapers and were getting the second and third shots."

"Brandywine also shut off McLaughlin in the second half. He had 10 of his points at halftime."

Brandywine posted a 34 to 25 rebounding edge, with Mulder having 14 for Dowagiac.

They went out and pressed the whole ball game. We got some steals, but more than the steals, it upset their momentum. It seemed to keep them off balance the whole night."

Dowagiac did get a split for the night by winning the junior varsity preliminary 45-41. The little Chiefs are now 5-1.

Bridgman, Watervliet Remain Atop Arrow Standings

Unbeaten Bees Overcome Galien Slowdown

Panther Offense In High Gear

By JACK WALKER
Staff Sports Writer
BRIDGMAN — A stall is not the way to beat Bridgman's Bees.

Galien was the latest to find that out. Bridgman overcame the Gael slowdown in the second half here Friday night to post a 65-47 Red Arrow conference basketball win.

The victory was the fifth straight for the unbeaten Bees and kept Bridgman atop the Red Arrow with a 3-0 record, the same as Watervliet's. Galien, which lost its third straight, fell to 1-3 and 2-5, respectively.

"It's awfully nice to be 4-0, I know that," Bee coach Doug Hendricks said. "We've played five games and four of the opponents have tried to slow it down against us."

Galien had beaten Bridgman

eight straight times going into the game and for a while Hendricks thought the Gael was going to haunt him again.

"The jinx put a little more pressure on the kids," he said. "It added to the pressure because we wanted to beat them badly. I'm really pleased with the way we played under pressure, though. It was nice that we could play as hard as we did at times and still have the composure to come back and win."

Leading the Bridgman attack was 6-6 forward Bob Linke, who tossed in 18 points and pulled down nine rebounds. Howard Mutz and Wolfgang Wolf each added 11 points and guard Tom Meredith tallied 10.

Center, Nick Kuntz scored 16 for Galien and forward Matt Kusiel chipped in 13, all in the first half.

The Gael stall was effective in the first half and Bridgman held only a 27-26 edge at halftime. The Bees grabbed a 20-12 lead at one point in the first 16 minutes, but Galien fought back.

"Our press at one stretch in the first half gave us the opportunity to take care of them," Hendricks said. "But we didn't do it."

After Doug Barnett's basket opening the third quarter gave Galien its last lead of 28-27, the Bridgman press finally took its toll. The Bees scored the next 10 points and the game was never in doubt after that.

"We used the press to try and speed them up," Hendricks said. "We didn't get too many steals off of it, but we speeded them up a little bit and it helped speed us up too."

Galien coach Mike Heckathorn had nothing but praise for his team's effort.

"We gave them all they wanted," he said. "They just had too much size. I thought our kids played commendably. If we had hit some free throws and had a couple of shots go down inside it would have been quite a ballgame."

Indian Cagers May Get Back On Winning Track

HARTFORD — Hartford's basketball program may finally be back on the winning track.

The Indians, who posted only a 14-38 record over the past five years, won their second game in the last three outings here Friday night. Hartford put on a splendid defensive display in the first half in toppling Eau Claire 71-58.

It marked Hartford's first win in the last 10 games against Eau Claire and upped the Indians' Red Arrow record to 2-2. Hartford is 2-4 overall. Eau Claire has lost three straight to fall to 1-3 and 2-3, respectively.

"It's the best first half we've played all year," said a jubilant Hartford coach Dick Pfeiffer. "Our press bothered them and we took advantage of it. We used our quickness to our full advantage."

"We just started getting the ball and going. The first quarter alone we had nine layups off the press. We got very good balance. The first six kids did a super job, especially in the first half."

Hartford raced out to a commanding 37-14 first-half lead and coasted to the win. In that first 16 minutes, the Indians hit on 17 of 35 from the floor (49 per cent) and forced the Beavers into 17 turnovers.

Leading the balanced Hartford attack was center Duane Toney, who tossed in 21 points and pulled down 11 rebounds.

"I was especially pleased with Toney," Pfeiffer said. "He really excelled. He played like Duane Toney did last year and that's what we really need."

"Duane contributed a lot on the boards and also had four or five steals off the press. We needed a big game from him and we got it."

Ken Lawe added 15 points, while Kirk Daniels had 13 and Dave Gailhouse 10.

Chuck Hunter poured in 24 for the Beavers and Randy Grandberry added 10.

For the game, Hartford meshed 30 of 65 for 46 per cent. Eau Claire could find the range on only 22 of 58 for 38 per cent.

and Thompson both ended with seven caroms for Fennville.

Fennville did turn in an excellent floor game with only nine turnovers but it couldn't make up for the lack of on-target shooting.

Panther Offense In High Gear

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

BRIDGMAN — A stall is not the way to beat Bridgman's Bees.

Galien was the latest to find that out. Bridgman overcame the Gael slowdown in the second half here Friday night to post a 65-47 Red Arrow conference basketball win.

The victory was the fifth straight for the unbeaten Bees and kept Bridgman atop the Red Arrow with a 3-0 record, the same as Watervliet's. Galien, which lost its third straight, fell to 1-3 and 2-5, respectively.

"It's awfully nice to be 5-0, I know that," Bee coach Doug Hendricks said. "We've played five games and four of the opponents have tried to slow it down against us."

Galien had beaten Bridgman

eight straight times going into the game and for a while Hendricks thought the Gael hex was going to haunt him again.

"The jinx put a little more pressure on the kids," he said. "It added to the pressure because we wanted to beat them badly. I'm really pleased with the way we played under pressure, though. It was nice that we could play as bad as we did at times and still have the composure to come back and win."

Leading the Bridgman attack was 6-5 forward Bob Linke, who tossed in 18 points and pulled down nine rebounds. Howard Mutz and Wolfgang Wolf each added 11 points and guard Tom Meredith tallied 10.

Center Rick Kuntz scored 16 for Galien and forward Matt Koziel chipped in 13, all in the first half.

The Gael stall was effective in the first half and Bridgman held only a 27-26 edge at halftime. The Bees grabbed a 20-12 lead at one point in the first 16 minutes, but Galien fought back.

"Our press at one stretch in the first half gave us the opportunity to take care of them," Hendricks said. "But we didn't do it."

After Doug Barnett's basket opening the third quarter gave Galien its last lead of 28-27, the Bridgman press finally took its toll. The Bees scored the next 10 points and the game was never in doubt after that.

Galien coach Mike Heckathorn had nothing but praise for his team's effort.

"We gave them all they wanted," he said. "They just had too much size. I thought our kids played commendably. If we had hit some free throws and had a couple of shots go down inside it would have been quite a ballgame."

Galien hit only 11 of 28 charity tossed, including a poor eight of 20 in the final quarter. Bridgman, on the other hand, cashed in on 17 of 25.

Heckathorn's strategy going into the game was simple.

"We wanted to control the tempo," he explained. "We wanted to work for the shot we wanted to take, not have them force us into shooting. We had trouble with their press because we weren't hitting the weak side man. And when we did make mistakes, they were good enough to capitalize."

Bridgman hit on 24 of 60 from the floor (40 per cent), including a red-hot 15 of 30 in the second half. Galien found the range on just 18 of 62, a poor 29 per cent.

Bridgman held a narrow 38-35 board edge as Wolf added eight caroms and Mutz six to Linke's total. Koziel came away with 10 and Kuntz eight for Galien.

Bridgman turned the ball over 17 times to 19 for Galien.

The schedule doesn't get any easier for Bridgman after a 10-day break from action for the holidays. The Bees host unbeaten Cassopolis (5-0) Dec. 28, heading off a six-week slate which includes 12 games. Among those games are contests with once-beaten Covert and undefeated Watervliet.

The Bees also won the junior varsity game 61-59 in overtime. Bill Howard scored 20 and Joe Jones and Kurt Weber had 10 apiece for Bridgman. Bill Hobbs poured in 24 and John Dalrymple chipped in 21 for the Gaels.

Kurt Bale and Mike Thompson were the lone double figure scorers for the losers, both collecting 10 points.

Tom Pawloski led Hopkins, 1-0 in the league and 4-1 overall, with 18 points.

Hopkins, which canned 15 of 21 free throws to only one of six for Fennville, also hurt the hosts on the boards. Kurt Bale

McGuire Resigns At Marquette's Cage Coach

By TIMOTHY HARPER
Associated Press Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Al McGuire is not a college basketball coach who marches to a different drummer. He gambles to an orchestra of strings.

That's part of the reason McGuire was able to announce Friday that he is resigning as coach and athletic director at Marquette University at the end of the current season.

Something like that might be easy if he was a loser. But McGuire's Warriors have won an average of 25 of more games while he has become one of the winningest coaches in college basketball over the last decade.

His teams have "gone up-town," as he likes to say, to 10 straight post-season tournaments. His career record early in his 18th season at Marquette is 274-73, a .790 winning percentage.

His team is 4-0 and ranked second in the country going into tonight's game against highly touted Louisville. "Fast out of the gate" is McGuire's term for the start.

To know McGuire's language is to know the kind of 47-year-old free spirit who one week claims to be the highest-paid college basketball coach in the country and the next week quits to take a lesser-paying job in business.

Next May 1, McGuire will forsake all his duties at Marquette to become vice chairman of the board of Medalist Industries, Inc., a Milwaukee sporting-goods firm he has been associated with for six years.

He said the break is permanent. Long ago he vowed he'd never coach at any other college than Marquette, and he said his ego could not stand to coach professional basketball.

"I would never coach a team that had someone who was paid more than me," he said.

He'll also give up innumerable unofficial jobs such as bustling uniforms for the band, giving pep talks to the cheerleaders, checking to make sure each Marquette game is a sellout and coming players into singing the pregame national anthem.

To him, every game is "show time," every tipoff is "curtain time."

How can he quit, especially after never winning the big one, the NCAA title?

"There's always a time in everyone's life to move on to the next strata or level," said McGuire, who views the world of sports as a "merry-go-round."

"All merry-go-rounds must stop," he said. "It's time. All honeymoons come to an end sooner or later. And Marquette has provided me with an extended honeymoon. But now it's time."

He said Marquette officials allowed him out of the last year of his coaching contract, for the 1977-78 season, and he offered to help recruit for next season and help pick a new coach.

Super Pro Clash Sunday Steeler-Colt Victor Gets Favorite's Nod

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pro football critics often complain that the Super Bowl rarely lives up to its advance notices.

Well, if the National Football League is worried about another letdown this time around, there is a solution.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle might consider bottling Sunday's Pittsburgh-Baltimore AFC playoff and saving it for presentation in Pasadena, Jan. 9.

The post-season action got underway Saturday with Minnesota busting Washington in the NFC and New England playing at Oakland in the AFC.

The survivor of the Steeler-Colt collision will take a giant step towards Super Bowl XI.

"I've been saying from the beginning that Pittsburgh is the team to beat," said Colts' Coach Ted Marchibroda.

The beginning wasn't very promising for the Steelers. They dropped four of their first five games and seemed set to fade completely out of sight. But they recovered with a nine-game winning streak during which their defense surrendered just 29 points, an average of a field goal per game.

Their turnaround was reminiscent of the Baltimore's flipflop of a year ago when the Colts lost four of their first five and then zoomed into the playoffs with nine straight victories.

Ironically, the same two teams met in the first round last year with Pittsburgh ending Baltimore's Cinderella season.

by winning 28-10 after trailing in the third quarter, 10-7.

"We're better prepared to cope with the Steelers than we were last year," said linebacker Stan White. "We surprised ourselves last year by getting to the playoffs and we were pleased with ourselves for being there. Just getting there isn't enough any more."

Defensive end Joe Ehrmann, one of the leaders of the Colts' Sack Pack that decked quarterbacks 57 times this year, thinks Baltimore is ready this time.

Sunday's NFC playoff sends Los Angeles to Dallas in another rematch. A year ago, the wildcard Cowboys stunned the Rams 37-7. Now Dallas is cast as the favorite and LA is the underdog.

Defensive end Fred Dryer thinks the Rams can lay the Cowboys, Super Bowl finalists a year ago.

So far, the Rams defensive plan has paid off this season. Los Angeles allowed only 190 points.

Smith Gives Best Show On The Road

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
Yes, Virginia, there really is a Billy Smith.

Unfortunately, the New York Islanders' fans have this thing about Smith...and Smith has this thing about the team's home rink, the Nassau County Coliseum, so he rarely plays before the home folks.

"Sometimes I seem to play better on the road than at home," Smith said after turning aside 33 of 35 shots in the Islanders' 4-2 National Hockey League victory over the Atlanta Flames.

Defenseman Denis Potvin provided the offensive firepower with one goal and two assists as the Islanders, unbeaten in six contests with five victories and a tie, increased their Patrick Division lead to three points over the idle Philadelphia Flyers. Third-place Atlanta, suffering its second consecutive loss, fell seven points back.

In the only other NHL game, the Washington Capitals nipped the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-2.

In World Hockey Association action, the Birmingham Bulls ended the Houston Aeros' 16-game home unbeaten streak 4-3, the Indianapolis Racers edged the New England Whalers 5-4 in overtime and the Edmonton Oilers blanked the Phoenix Roadrunners 1-0.

Guy Charron scored a goal and assisted on another to lead the Caps. Washington's first goal came when Bill Collins' pass hit Toronto goalie Wayne Thomas' skate and deflected into the net. Toronto's Bob Neely evened the score but Charron put the Capitals ahead with less than three minutes left in the first period. They made it 3-1 when Charron fed a pass from behind the net to Hartland Monahan for a powerplay goal late in the second period.

Mark Napier's second goal of the game at 18:01 of the third period broke a 3-3. A pair of goals by Vaclav Nedomansky and one by Napier gave Birmingham a 3-0 lead in the first period but Houston tied it on goals by Gordie Howe, Ted Taylor and Terry Ruskowski.

A Buks goal by Bob Skirski at 5:31 of overtime provided Indianapolis with the victory. Skirski's 50-foot lob shot took a weird bounce over the right shoulder of New England goalie Cap Raeder and fell into the net. Tom Webster scored three goals by New England.

Bill Flett, acquired last week from the NHL Atlanta Flames, bounced the puck off a Phoenix defenseman's skate and through a meekie in the crease to score his first WHA goal while goalie Ken Broderick stopped 33 Phoenix shots.

Wildcats Humble Falcons

Coach Joe Hall suspended three of his Kentucky players, but it didn't help Bowling Green any.

With Mike Phillips, Jay Shidler and Truman Claytor sitting on the bench in civilian clothes, the Wildcats pulled up their socks, adjusted to a new tempo and ran away from the Falcons in the Kentucky Invitational basketball tournament.

"We got beat by a great ball club," said Bowling Green Coach John Weinert after a 77-59 loss to the nation's third-ranked team Friday night. "The suspension of the three Kentucky players probably hurt us because they beat us with quickness and finesse."

Phillips, the Wildcats' starting center who provides Kentucky with a powerful inside game, and Shidler — a starting guard — were suspended along with Claytor earlier this week for disciplinary reasons.

Utah, which defeated West Virginia 74-70 in another first-round game, won't be as easy a touch for Kentucky, according to Hall.

In other tournament action Friday night, 20th-ranked St. John's defeated SMU 87-71 and Tennessee trimmed La Salle 92-85 in opening-round games of the Volunteer Classic in Knoxville. Memphis State beat Penn State 77-69 and Florida downed Florida State 70-63 in the Big Sun tourney in St. Petersburg, Fla.; Alabama stopped Oklahoma State 70-61 and Virginia Tech nipped Dayton 76-75 in the Dayton Invitational and Toledo turned back Eastern Kentucky 76-62 and Mississippi tripped Marshall 65-63 in the Blade-Glass City Classic in Toledo, Ohio.

Also, Houston outscored Nevada-Reno 109-78 and California-Santa Barbara turned back Texas A&M 69-61 in the Bluebonnet Classic in Houston; Texas-El Paso edged Baylor 70-64 and Missouri beat Southern Cal 87-77 in the Sun Bowl Classic at El Paso, Tex.; Florida State defeated Santa Clara 94-80 and No. 5 San Francisco hammered Pacific 90-73 in the Cable Car Classic in San Francisco and South Alabama nipped New Mexico State 85-83 and Army defeated Samford 67-60 in the Birmingham Classic. In non-tournament games, No. 9 UCLA walloped Rice 107-40; No. 12 Nevada-Las Vegas whipped North Dakota State 112-81 and No. 16 Indiana beat DePaul 80-62.

With Phillips and Shidler out of the lineup, Jack Givens took the Kentucky scoring load on his shoulders, pouring in 28 points. Jeff Judkins scored 20 points to pace Utah over West Virginia. Glen Williams and George Johnson each scored 23 points to lead St. John's over SMU in the Volunteer Classic. A 31-point performance by Bernard King led Tennessee over La Salle in the other first-round game.

John Washington scored 22 points, had 10 rebounds and three blocked shots to lead Memphis State past Penn State. A 16-point effort by Richard Glaspar and a tenacious second-half defense led Florida over South Florida.

Reggie King poured in 20 points to power Alabama past stubborn Oklahoma State. Two free throws by Marshall Ashford with five seconds left provided Virginia Tech with its tense victory over Dayton.

Dave Speicher scored 18 points as Toledo defeated Eastern Kentucky before John Stroud's 17 points paced Mississippi over Marshall. Charles Thompson tossed in 22 points to lead Houston over Nevada-Reno and Wayne Stevenson's 18 points helped California-Santa Barbara defeat Texas A&M.

Tom Pauling and Ron Jones scored 14 points apiece and Pauling also grabbed 14 rebounds as Texas-El Paso trimmed Baylor. Missouri stopped Southern Cal as Kim Anderson scored 23 points. David Thompson and Harry Davis combined for 39 points and 26 rebounds, powering Florida State over Santa Clara. A 26-point, 18-rebound performance by Winford Boytes led San Francisco over Pacific.

Gridder Dies Of Stab Wounds

BOSTON (AP) — Andrew Puopolo, the Harvard football player stabbed in the heart one month ago died Friday at Tufts New England Medical Center, hospital officials said. He never regained consciousness.

Police scheduled an autopsy, and said results would be presented to a Suffolk County grand jury.

The 22-year-old defensive back was stabbed while with friends in Boston's Combat Zone Nov. 16.

Immediately after the stabbing, Puopolo underwent emergency surgery to stitch up the heart wounds. Officials said he was kept alive with a respirator and other life-sustaining measures.

Three Boston men were arrested in connection with the stabbing of Puopolo and a teammate, who suffered minor injuries.

Detective Sgt. Robert Hudson of the district attorney's office said the three, indicted earlier for assault with intent to murder, have been held at Charles Street Jail pending further action.

They were identified as Joseph Soares, 33, Leon Easterly, 41, and Richard S. Allen, 36.

According to police reports at the time, Puopolo and six other teammates visited a lounge in the downtown section. When they were returning to their van, they were followed by four women, who engaged them in conversation.

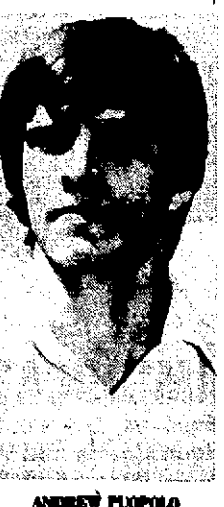

When the women left, one of the students discovered his wallet missing, and the seven men took chase. Police said they then got into a scuffle with six to eight men, during which Puopolo was stabbed twice, at least once in the heart.

A friend, Thomas Lincoln, 23, of Hingham, Mass., also was stabbed superficially in the scuffle.

By some standards, Puopolo was dead on arrival at the nearby hospital, but doctors managed to restore his breathing and pulse. One said that he literally had been brought back from death. He was kept alive by artificial means.

On Nov. 23, electrical tests showed he had no electrical activity in his brain.

Shortly after the stabbing, a surgeon on the case, Dr. Harold Rhinelander, said, "In retrospect, we might say, a month from now, that it was a mistake to resuscitate him. But I wouldn't want somebody in the emergency ward to make that decision. If we really feel it's possible to resuscitate, we do. You can't know."

South Blanks North In Annual Shrine Game

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — The South apparently had all the stars Friday night as it blanked the North squad 24-0 in an annual college football contest.

Missouri coach Al Onofrio, offensive coach for the triumphant South team, was exhilarated. "It's great to win — especially up here in the North," Onofrio grinned after the game, attended by 41,627 fans at the Pontiac Silverdome, home of the National Football League Detroit Lions.

The South squad dominated the game all the way, starting with two first-quarter touchdowns. Missouri quarterback Steve Pisarkiewicz passed six yards to Miami's Mike Adams for the first, and Missouri's Curtis Brown got the second on a two-yard run.

Midway through the second period, Tennessee State's Oliver Davis intercepted a North pass from Bob Graustein at the South 41 and returned to mid-field.

Nine plays later, Pisarkiewicz bootlegged the ball across from the three. Kinney Jordan's conversion put the South ahead 21-0 at the half.

"Pisarkiewicz played tonight the same way he played for me all season," Onofrio said. "He is the type of boy who can take over as the leader of the offense and the squad follows his lead."

Purdue's Mark Vitali, starting quarterback for the North, and Bob Graustein of Penn tried in vain to generate offense for their team.

"Mark couldn't get a passing game going early, so we decided to go for the ground. And we weren't too successful there either, when you look at the scoreboard," said North offensive coach Ben Martin of the Air Force Academy.

"Pisarkiewicz beat us," he added. "He showed he is a quarterback who executes well."

MSU Icers Upset New Hampshire

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State, near the middle of the pack in Western Collegiate Hockey Association standings, upset eastern powerhouse New Hampshire 3-2 Friday night in a nonconference college hockey game.

The Spartans, 9-8, led all the way in defeating New Hampshire, the nation's fourth-ranked team.

Marty McLaughlin put Michigan State on the scoreboard with a goal 35 seconds into the game. New Hampshire, 8-3, couldn't connect until 12:12 of the third period when Ralph Cux scored.

In the only WCHA conference game played Friday night, Michigan Tech edged Minnesota-Duluth 4-3 in a battle of the league's bottom teams.

Tech, 5-8, overcame a stand-out performance by Duluth goalie Bill Muen, who kicked out 56 Husky shots.

Gordon Salt had a goal and an assist for Tech, last year's NCAA runnerup which went on the skids this year.

Duluth dropped to 1-11-1, falling seven points behind ninth-place Tech in the standings. Minnesota, another WCHA powerhouse taking a nosedive this year, lost a 6-3 non-conference game to Lake Superior State.

The Gophers, last year's NCAA champions who have been hit hard by injuries to upperclassmen, went into the second period tied 2-2 with Lake Superior.

Scores 17 In Knicks' Win

McAdoo 'Flowing' In NY

BOSTON (AP) — Big Bob McAdoo, the National Basketball Association's scoring champion the last three years, feels comfortable in his new surroundings with the New York Knicks—and he looks it.

McAdoo, acquired with Tom McMillen in a deal which shipped John Gianelli and a reported $3 million to the Buffalo Braves last week, made an auspicious debut Friday night as the Knicks rolled to a 123-109 victory over Boston's defending NBA champion Boston Celtics.

"I wanted to flow," McAdoo said after scoring 17 points and grabbing eight rebounds while limited to 25 minutes because of early foul trouble. "I knew what I had to do but I was frustrated when I picked up three fouls early in the second period."

Wall Frazier and Spencer Haywood put on personal shows for the capacity crowd of 15,040 at Boston Garden. Frazier scored 32 points and had seven assists to go along with a flock of steals, although only two showed on the official score sheet. Haywood had 28 points, 11 rebounds, three assists and one steal.

In other games, the Golden State Warriors outlasted the Philadelphia 76ers 117-114, the Atlanta Hawks turned back the New Orleans Jazz 113-106, the Detroit Pistons beat the Indiana Pacers 113-104, the Washington Bullets outgunned the Buffalo Braves 99-88, the Chicago Bulls shaded the San Antonio Spurs 100-101, the Milwaukee Bucks trimmed the New York Nets 120-110, the Los Angeles Lakers drubbed the Phoenix Suns 118-106 and the Portland Trail Blazers trounced the Denver Nuggets 127-105.

Rick Barry, the game's high scorer with 34 points, dropped in two free throws with two seconds remaining to clinch the victory. The Warriors came back from a 33-78 deficit late in the third period. A basket by Phil Smith and a lay-up by Charles Dudley put the Warriors ahead to stay after a 111-111 tie.

Tom Henderson and Lou Hudson combined for 42 points to lead resurging Atlanta to its fourth victory in five starts. Henderson canned 22 points and Hudson got 20. Pete Maravich led the Jazz with 20 as New Orleans lost its second in a row under new Coach Elgin Baylor.

Marvin Barnes, plagued most of the season by troubles with the law and a sore ankle, triggered an 18-4 fourth period explosion that carried Detroit over Indiana. Barnes hit six of his 12 points as the Pistons wiped out a 32-57 deficit and took a 105-96 lead.

Elvin Hayes and Phil Chenier led a 13-point tear in the fourth quarter that brought Washington from behind. Buffalo led 78-72 with 8:30 left when Hayes scored seven points and Chenier six as Washington opened an 83-78 lead. Hayes had 37 points, hitting on 17 of 24 shots.

Artis Gilmore's dunk shot at the buzzer gave the Bulls their fourth straight victory. Gilmore's game-winning basket came after Chicago blew a 19-point lead and Larry Kenon's 20-foot jumper tied the score for San Antonio with eight seconds remaining.

Bobby Dandridge scored 36 points and ex-Nets Swen Nater collected a game-high 17 rebounds to go with his 17 points as Milwaukee broke a 10-game road losing streak. The Bucks, who have the worst record in the NBA at 3-25, also broke a seven-game over-all losing streak.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's 27 points and 15 rebounds led Los Angeles while Lucius Allen added 26 points and Cazzie Russell had 22. The score was tied at 83 when the Lakers scored six consecutive points to take command.

Bill Walton led Portland with 22 points and Maurice Lucas and Lionel Hillins added 20 apiece as Portland recorded its 10th consecutive home triumph this season and 22nd in a row over two years. Denver's David Thompson led all scorers with 24 points.

Texas Picks Fred Akers

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The surprise selection of Fred Akers of Wyoming as Texas' new football coach could signal the end of the Longhorns' wishbone offense that once rolled to 39 straight victories.

Akers, 38, replaces Darrell Royal, the winningest coach in Southwest Conference history.

Schutte Fight With Ali Off?

NEW YORK (AP) — The continuing confusion regarding Muhammad Ali's future reached a new dimension when the world's heavyweight boxing champion signed for a fight which promoter Don King says will not be held.

Ali, who announced his retirement in early October but since has issued conflicting statements, signed a contract with King Friday calling for a $2 million purse to fight against South Africa's Mike Schutte.

But King, the man who made the bout, said Friday that "it's true the fight is signed, but it will be waived to concentrate on (George) Foreman."

King said Ali told World Boxing Association President Dr. Elias Cordova that Ali would fight Foreman in his next fight. Last Tuesday, Ali was quoted by World Boxing Council President Jose Sulaiman as saying that "I want Foreman, and I want him any time."

That time, according to a report from Panama Friday night, will be before May 30. Cordova, at a news conference, said he had received a telegram from Ali dated Dec. 13 which announced that Ali would fight Foreman for the crown.

A fight with Foreman would present better economic opportunities for Ali, who is approaching his 35th birthday. Ali, according to a source, is troubled by an arthritic condition in his neck and a kidney problem.

POWERFUL NILES

defense. They got the breakaways and the second and third shots."

Niles dominated the boards through the first three periods, and especially in the second quarter when it scored time and again off offensive rebounds.

St. Joe managed to out-rebound Niles 14-7 in the last quarter, but for the game, the Vikings posted a 45 to 39 board edge, with Seitz having 17 and Garner 11. Wright led the Bears with 16.

St. Joe took its leads in the first quarter against Niles man-to-man defense, but when the Vikings switched to a zone, the Bears quickly fell behind for good.

After St. Joe had its last six-point lead at 15-9 with 1:08 left in the first period, Niles scored 34 of the next 45 points, including 12 each by Garner and Seitz.

Niles led 43-26 at halftime and 58-43 entering the last quarter. The biggest margin was 25 points at 76-51 late in the game.

"Once we got our composure and got going I was real pleased," declared Niles coach Dean Adams, who has the Vikings off to their best start in six years and headed for their eighth straight winning season.

Niles hit a deadly 34 of 71 field goals (48 per cent) and eight of 13 free throws (62 per cent). St. Joe connected on 22 of 60 from the floor (37 per cent) and 13 of 20 at the lines (65 per cent).

A key to Niles' rebounding and shooting advantage was its quickness and speed, a factor which Adams says is the key to his Vikings' success.

"That is our basketball team at this point," noted the veteran Viking mentor. "We are not going to beat any team inside the free throw lines. We are going to have to play them full court."

Garner is the third brother to be a standout for Niles, and Adams says he has the "potential to be the best of them all." The Vikings coach also credited Seitz with "playing a hell of a game."

Both teams played excellent floor games, with St. Joe having 11 turnovers and Niles 10.

St. Joe's losing margin was the largest since a Bear defeat 50 games ago at the hands of Niles 84-59 in the 1974 district tournament.

And there is probably more trouble ahead for St. Joe in its Christmas tourney Dec. 28 and 29. The event also includes Benton Harbor, Detroit Denby and Detroit Catholic Central, the defending state Class A champion.

Niles, which owns the largest winning margin in the area (24.2 entering the game), also has a biggie coming up. The Vikings go up against powerful Lansing Everett and two-time all-state Farvin Johnson Jan. 8.

St. Joseph did salvage a split Friday night, with the Bear jayvees whipping the previously unbeaten Niles junior varsity 73-61.

Carl Carr scored 32 for St. Joseph, now 2-4, while Jerry Jones netted 16 and Jeff Curry 14. Niles, now 5-1, got 18 from Gary Langer and 13 from George Allen.

which Adams says is the key to his Vikings' success.

"That is our basketball team at this point," noted the veteran Viking mentor. "We are not going to beat any team inside the free throw lines. We are going to have to play them full court."

Garner is the third brother to be a standout for Niles, and Adams says he has the "potential to be the best of them all." The Vikings coach also credited Seitz with "playing a hell of a game."

Both teams played excellent floor games, with St. Joe having 11 turnovers and Niles 10.

St. Joe's losing margin was the largest since a Bear defeat 50 games ago at the hands of Niles 84-59 in the 1974 district tournament.

And there is probably more trouble ahead for St. Joe in its Christmas tourney Dec. 28 and 29. The event also includes Benton Harbor, Detroit Denby and Detroit Catholic Central, the defending state Class A champion.

Niles, which owns the largest winning margin in the area (24-2 entering the game), also has a biggie coming up. The Vikings go up against powerful Lansing Everett and two-time all-state Earvin Johnson Jan. 8.

St. Joseph did salvage a split Friday night, with the Bear jayvees whipping the previously unbeaten Niles junior varsity 73-61.

Carl Czarr scored 32 for St. Joseph, now 2-4, while Jerry Jones netted 16 and Jeff Curry 14. Niles, now 5-1, got 18 from Gary Lünzer and 13 from George Allen.

FOR OUT-OF-DISTRICT VETERANS

LMC Offers Partial Tuition Grant

A reduction in college costs by way of a partial tuition grant awaits out-of-district veterans who enroll at Lake Michigan college.

The grant, authorized by the LMC board of trustees, allows eligible veterans living in Michigan but out of the LMC district (Berrien county and Covert township in Van Buren county) as well as veterans living out of Michigan to register at the college at resident tuition rates, a savings of $6 per credit hour.

Resident tuition at LMC is $12 per credit hour, compared to $18 per credit hour for non-district residents. A student veteran taking a full semester schedule of 12 or more semester hours of college work will save at least $72 when registering for LMC second semester classes.

"The only eligibility requirement necessary in order to receive the tuition grant is that the veteran student is receiving or is applying for Veterans Administration educational benefits," said Don Olivia, LMC veterans counselor.

Veterans who enroll for part-time college work — fewer than 12 semester hours — or who enroll at any of LMC's 10 off-campus extension centers are entitled to the same tuition grants, Olivia indicated.

Further information about the college-sponsored veterans tuition grants or other veterans educational benefits, including VA grants and educational loans, can be obtained by telephoning either Olivia at 927-3571, Ext. 217 or Paul Hunter, VA representative at LMC, at 927-3571, Ext. 411 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays.

Registration dates for LMC's second semester are: by mail for part-time students only, through Jan. 7; in-person at LMC for part-time students only, 4 to 8:30 p.m., Jan. 20; and in-person at LMC for still unregistered part-time students, 12:30 to 8:30 p.m., Jan. 20.

Blending Rock, Rag Is Cathy's Bag

By DOLORES BARCLAY Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — She's a tall, brash blonde who used to play in jug-band jam sessions with her family. Hers is a whole new sound with an oldtime beat.

She's Cathy Chamberlain and she calls what she's singing "The Rag 'n' Roll Revue." It's a blend of rag and jazz with hints of torch, the Depression and '30s-type rock.

"My group is very American," says the 28-year-old Miss Chamberlain, a native of Seattle. "What I'm doing is sort of evolved from blues and jazz. It's '70s but still has its roots in that old American music."

She's working on her first album with her band — pianist Rich Look, Howard Johnson with the tuba and drummer Moore. John Muranyi and Kenny DeVerne alternate as reed players and Warren Vache and Bob Stewart take turns with the group playing cornet.

Miss Chamberlain outfits herself in funky 1930s and '40s dresses with lacy, fingerless gloves. She belts out songs in a voice vaguely reminiscent of a young

Sophie Tucker with a hint of Bessie Smith. The material ranges from the rock feminist tune, "See Her Run," written by Miss Chamberlain and pianist

Look, to the moving Depression-era classic, "Brother Can You Spare A Dime."

The stopper is the group's honky-tonk theme, "Rag 'n'

Roll."

"This is all such a mish-mash of my life," she says, "because I was raised on rock on the radio and the home grown stuff at my home."

She studied opera at Stephens College, a small two-year school in Missouri.

"My grandmother was a classically trained pianist, and she gave me a lot of my musical background," Miss Chamberlain says. "I didn't take courses at Stephens to get into opera, but to train my instrument."

The jug-band influence is on her mother's side. The family used to get together in the summer and play away on jugs and scrub boards. Even today, she'll pull out the old jug during her act, sling it over a shoulder and blow a few notes.

"The music industry in the past few years has been imitation. That's bad," she says. "Rock music is stagnated. No one seems to be doing anything new with rock 'n' roll. Jazz is the only music that still has so much creativity in it."

Planning A Mexican Vacation? Tourists Urged To Be Careful

DEARBORN, MICH. — Michigan residents planning a Mexican vacation this winter should choose their activities carefully because of recent attacks on U.S. citizens in the country, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"While the vast majority of persons traveling to Mexico will encounter no problems, we are advising tourists to that country about the sharp rise in attacks by bandits robbing and terrorizing American visitors," explained Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

"The pattern of these incidents has involved tourists, cars being forced off the road, in each case by some vehicle whose occupants were armed," said Ratke, additing that cars, possessions and money were stolen and the victims left abandoned in the countryside.

Although attacks have been centered in the Mexican state of Sinaloa on the main north-south artery leading to Mazatlan, Guadalajara and Acapulco, one attack occurred near Acapulco.

"Auto Club is not discouraging travelers from going to Mexico, only advising them to plan trips carefully and stay near major population centers since nearly all attacks have occurred in isolated areas," Ratke pointed out.

"Auto Club members should check in at an AAA border office so they can be forewarned of any potential difficulties awaiting them," he added.

Among the things a U.S. citizen should carry is proof of citizenship, usually through a voter's registration card, birth certificate or passport. A driver's license does not constitute proof of citizenship.

Anyone planning to visit the interior of Mexico must obtain a tourist card in advance. U.S. automobile insurance is not valid in Mexico and full coverage must be arranged with a reliable Mexican insurance company. This can be done through AAA border offices and offices of other clubs near the border.

"Tourists should realize that in case of an accident, a motorist and his car are often held whether guilty or not until payment of the damages or claims," Ratke stated. "CB radio equipment also should not be brought into the country since foreign visitors cannot obtain permission to operate such equipment."

"The Mexican government is aware of the recent increase in attacks on tourists and has beefed up patrols, but the problem is Mexico is a big country and much of it is isolated and sparsely populated," Ratke said. "This makes enforcement difficult."

Ex-Student On Bond

DETROIT (AP) — A former Michigan college honor student who allegedly headed a $6 million cocaine smuggling ring has been freed from federal custody after he and his father posted $15,000 in bond money. Neil Ronald Ison, 27, and his father, Sewell Ison, of St. Clair Shores, deposited the money in U.S. District Court in Detroit this week to cover 10 per cent of his $150,000 bond. Ison, a former University of Michigan student, and his wife, Mary, 23, are charged with using U-M students as couriers to bring cocaine into this country from South America. A federal indictment Oct. 18 charged 24 persons, including three South Americans, with conspiracy to import, smuggle and distribute cocaine. Ison is charged with being the mastermind of the scheme. The Isons were arrested Oct. 26 in Puerto Rico. Mrs. Ison has been out on bond since last month, when she posted $2,500 to cover 10 per cent of her $25,000 bond.

Traditionalists Defy Pope With Own Seminary

By HARRY ATKINS
Associated Press Writer
ARMADA, Mich. (AP) — A handsome old red brick farmhouse near this rural town 35 miles north of Detroit has been converted into a traditionalist Roman Catholic seminary in defiance of Pope Paul VI.

The seminary, headed by the Rev. Anthony Ward, is the first in the U.S. to be set up by followers of Archbishop Marcel Lefebvre, the French priest who in 1970 founded the Society of St. Pius X.

Lefebvre, 71, has established two other seminaries, both in Switzerland.

The society rejects changes in Catholic practices which grew out of the Second Vatican Council in the early 1960s. Among other things, the society believes the Mass should still be said in Latin.

The 28-year-old Fr. Ward is a warm and articulate man who smiles easily but who shuns publicity. He welcomes visitors to the seminary but only grants interviews that are off the record.

But the Rev. Clarence Kelly, who heads the society's work in the U.S. from East Meadow, N.Y., does talk freely and on the record.

"Armada is our only seminary now," Fr. Kelly said. "But in January we're going to begin a campaign to raise $3 million to build a new and larger seminary, probably in central Lower Michigan."

When the new seminary is completed, Fr. Kelly said, the Armada seminary, called St. Joseph's House, will be converted into a training center for traditionalist nuns.

The 12 seminarians at St. Joseph's House stay pretty much to themselves, according to neighbors and townsfolk. "They don't mingle much," said Fr. Martin Erpelking at St.

Mary's Church in town, where most of the Catholics in Armada worship.

"They are a tightly knit, closed bunch," said a neighboring farmer hauling in corn from a frozen field.

The outbuildings, barns and land surrounding the farmhouse are still in use, apparently leased to neighboring farmers.

This past summer, a two-story concrete block building was erected and attached to the house. The church is on the upper floor and 16 rooms for students are on the lower floor.

Vern Lyle Pearl, supervisor of Richmond Township, said the value of the society's 3 1/2 acres is about $80,000. "Nobody's appraised it lately," he said, "because it's not on the tax rolls."

At St. Joseph's House, Mass is said daily. On Sunday, worshippers drive regularly from all over Michigan's Thumb region, some as far as 70 miles, to attend.

Also each Sunday, upwards of 500 traditionalist Catholics gather in the gymnasium of an elementary school in the Detroit suburb of Royal Oak, where either Fr. Ward or an 80-year-old retired Jesuit, the Rev. Oscar LaPlante, say Mass.

The priests celebrate the Mass in Latin with their backs to the worshippers, who kneel on pillows brought from home to say the Rosary. Women wear scarfs or hats.

Leo Marquard, of Detroit, said he attends the traditional services because in recent years the Mass in his parish had lost its "awe," especially when read in English.

Marquard said he would return to his parish if ordered, but said he didn't expect to be ordered back. "What's lacking in the new church," he said, is "authority."

Elaine Andreski, of Mariette, is a former catechism teacher who drives her five children 40 miles each way every Sunday to Mass at Armada.

"It's a sacrifice, but we feel it's worth it," she said. "I cried the first time I attended the Latin Mass."

When she can't get to Armada, Mrs. Andreski said she listens to tapes. She said she has taught her children catechism using materials she received from some nuns in Canada.

"It's all so confusing. It's mind-boggling," she said. "Jesus didn't mean for us to be frustrated. He said things simply."

Not surprisingly, money is tight at St. Joseph's House. But the mood is bright among the seminarians who take their meals together in a warm room paneled in knotty pine. A round little lady with rusey cheeks drives out from Armada — about three miles — to cook.

"We operate on a tight budget and every step is a struggle," Fr. Kelly said. "We have one or two big contributors, but most contributions are from the little, ordinary Catholic who has to deny himself to put $5 in the collection plate."

Besides Fr. Ward, there are four other American graduates of Bishop Lefebvre's seminary in Ecône, Switzerland. Two are on Long Island, one is in Houston, and one in San Jose, Calif.

The society is pretty much ignored by the Archdiocese of Detroit. Bishop Thomas Gumbleton said the archdiocese has been aware of the presence of the traditionalist followers since Lefebvre fell out with the pontiff six years ago.

"It's really a question of being loyal to the hierarchy of 2,000 years," Fr. Kelly said, "rather than the hierarchy of this generation."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — You may be saying "Bah! Humbug!" to Christmas specials by now, but we'd like to direct your attention to an unusually imaginative Yule show NBC has coming up Sunday night.

It's called "Christmas Around the World," runs from 8 to 8:30 p.m. EST, and deserves a look, particularly by young viewers. Narrated by William Conrad, late of "Cannon," it was two

It's also a study of various historical aspects of Christmas, from cards to carols, from the familiar Nativity scene to the transformation of St. Nicholas, a bishop in Asia Minor in the early years of Christianity, to that jolly fat man in the red suit and white whiskers all kids know as Santa Claus.

It isn't entirely reverential in tone, as witness an early part of the show in which comic Jonathan Winters, disguised as Maude Frickert, has at the classic "Twas the Night Before Christmas."

Maude reads it straight, but punctuates it with wild commentary, such as this thought on Santa's arrival via the chimney.

"The last person to come down my chimney was my stepbrother, Willis Munsford."

Maude observes. "He came down on the 14th of May."

Other entertainers check in to set the scene for Christmas in countries whence they or their ancestors came — Dick Van Dyke cites Holland, Vicki Carr takes Mexico, Gene Kelly has Ireland, Lat Uhlman has the Scandinavian countries, and so on.

It's quite a show, be the scene various choirs singing at Bethlehem or a West Indies steel band playing a lovely American pop tune. "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas."

The tour of Christmas around the world is entirely benevolent in nature.

I think the show could have been cut by 30 minutes without harming the concept of Christmas around the world, or some segments excised for more thoughts of average folks celebrating Christmas.

Overcrowding Increase Is Forecast By Builder

WASHINGTON (AP) — After several years of progress, a housing industry leader believes that the nation is losing ground in the effort to provide enough housing for its citizens. "I think when the figures for 1975 and 1976 come out... you're going to see an increase in overcrowding," said Leon Weiner, a Wilmington, Del., builder who is president of the National Housing Conference. The latest available figures, for 1974, show that 3.8 million households fit the official definition of overcrowded, with more than one person per room. They represent 5.3 per cent of the population. In 1970, 8 per cent of the people lived in overcrowded

Here's the Answer

Q. — We have a child who is still in the crawling stage. To avoid the possibility that he might push something into the electric outlets on the various baseboards, we bought those little inserts that fit into the outlets and must be removed before electric plugs can be put into the outlets. It helped for a while, but now he has learned how to take them out. Is there some other safety measure we can take?

A. — Buy the special outlets which must be turned by hand before plugs can be inserted into them. Of course, these will have to be installed in place of the old ones. Turning them requires a certain amount of strength which children of that age do not have. Nothing, though, will take the place of training the child to stay away from the outlets.

Q. — Here is a tip you can pass along to your readers. I have one of those spray guns for paint, the small type that is used around the house. I always found it difficult to clean the paint out of the tip until I discovered that it is easy to do if you use a straw from a broom. It works perfectly without any chance of damaging the equipment.

A. — Thanks.

Q. — Can I install mosaic tiles directly on a hardwood floor?

A. — Yes, if the floor is level and smooth.

Q. — In using a file, is the pressure applied on the forward or backward stroke, or both?

A. — Always and only on the forward stroke. When you pull the file back towards you, it should not touch the work. There is a special type of filing with a special file which cuts both forward and backward, but this something you are not likely to be doing for the time being.

Q. — I have had excellent success finishing the top of a coffee table with lacquer, which I put on after taking off all the old finish. I have heard that such finishes can be made more satiny by sanding with a water-proof sandpaper, which I had never heard of but which I now see is sold in our local hardware store. Is there anything I should know about using this sandpaper and will it work on lacquer?

A. — Yes, it can be used on lacquer. It can be used with either water or a light lubricating oil. Wrap the sandpaper around a rubber block, applying a little water or oil to the surface and sanding very lightly. Apply a bit more water or oil each time a different area is being sanded. Be sure you get a very fine grade of paper and — repeat — sand very lightly.

Q. — I tried using lacquer recently and found it somewhat difficult to spread. Is it supposed to be that thick?

A. — Not sure what you mean by "that" thick. In any case, lacquer should be thinned with lacquer thinner for best results. Try a 50-50 mixture until you get the hang of it, then vary the proportions as you wish.

(The techniques of using lacquer, varnish, shellac, stain, bleach, etc., are detailed in Andy Lang's booklet, "Wood Finishing in the Home," available by sending 30 cents and a long, STAMPED, self-addressing envelope to Know-How, P.O. Box 477, Huntington, N.Y. 11743. Questions can not be answered individually.)

Hiring Appraiser Is Good Idea

From SOUTHWESTERN MICHIGAN BOARD OF REALTORS

In this day of inflationary prices, it might be worth your while to hire a real estate appraiser if you are selling or buying a single-family residence.

There is a growing awareness by the general public that an objective opinion of value is a protection that should be ob-depends entirely upon the kind of appraisal you order, where you live and the appraiser. A full narrative report is the most complete and the most expensive. Less expensive is a relatively new uniform appraisal report form for single-family residences authorized by the Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae) and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (Freddie Mac). The Fannie Mae-Freddie Mac form has become very popular in recent months and provides the greatest amount of flexibility for future use by mortgage lenders. There are several other types of appraisal reports which cost less and provide less information.

If you should decide to hire an appraiser, determine in advance the kinds of appraisal you want and the amount of the fee. Also, set a deadline for delivery of the appraisal.

tained before undertaking a real estate commitment. A competent, professional real estate appraiser can provide you with a completely unemotional and impartial estimate of the value of the house in question.

When selling your home, it is very important to price it right. Homeowners tend to overprice their homes for numerous reasons. A house that is on the market too long could become a white elephant and very difficult to sell. Few real estate salesmen know how to make a sound appraisal of a residential property.

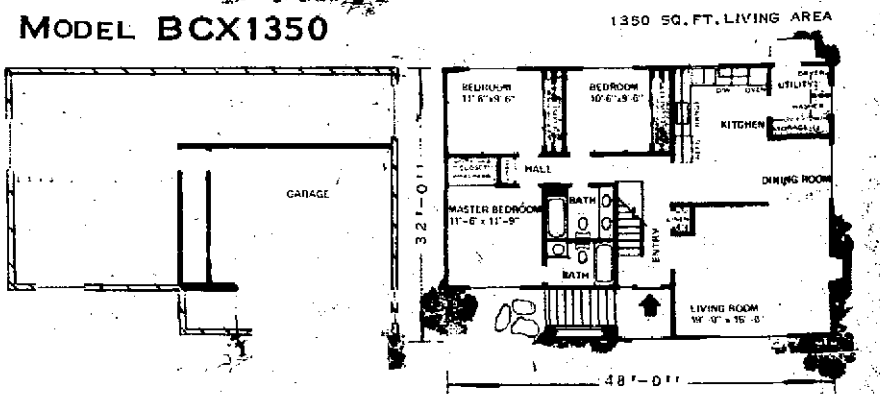

Another major reason for hiring a real estate appraiser is the matter of tax assessments. For example, a number of Chicago homeowners felt that their taxes were excessive and that their homes were overassessed. After obtaining real estate appraisals which supported their claims, many of the homeowners were able to secure major reductions in their tax bills.

If a government agency plans to take your property for a public improvement like a highway, for example, it might save you a good deal of money to hire an appraiser who is experienced in condemnation work. When the appraiser's estimate is higher than the government's offer, you stand a better chance of getting more money for your property from the condemning agency or from a court of law if you have a fully-documented appraisal.

To hire an appraiser, contact your local chapter of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers or check the Yellow Pages of the telephone directory. Members of the Institute hold the MAI or RM designations, which means that they have successfully completed numerous appraisal education courses, passed written examinations, and completed years of professional appraising experience.

All Institute members subscribe to a strict code of ethics and standards of professional conduct. RM members specialize in appraising single-family residences; MAI members are qualified to appraise all kinds of real estate properties.

House Plan Offers Split Level Effect

By LARRY FARNSWORTH

This three-bedroom house makes the most of any size lot by capitalizing on the space-saving techniques of the traditional two-story home. Yet it also offers the selective homeowner the advantages of all-in-one-floor living areas, plus room for further expansion adjacent to the ground-level garage.

The entrance stairs behind the tall planter lead to a compact, wrought-iron-trimmed front porch. Inside, a generous entry insures both privacy and a smooth traffic flow pattern to the living areas and the garage level as well.

The living room is fully separate, yet the floor plan allows it to derive extra dimension from the adjacent dining room. And an offset arrangement gives the dining room an equal feeling of separateness, although it is actually combined with the kitchen in an open plan.

The L-shaped kitchen work area and an adjacent laundry storage - utility room with an outside exit are added dividends for the efficiency-minded homemaker.

Cost conscious builders will recognize and appreciate the back-to-back placement of the main and master baths, and comfort lovers will approve the double lavatories in the former and the latter's full bath, a feature all too seldom found in the master bath of a medium size home.

Bedroom size and bedroom closet size are also calculated to please the home planner.

The exterior of this plan, with its gables and blend of brick and vertical siding, has an air of dignity and substance.

The homebuilder who selects this model selects a home plan which provides for comfortable living, both in the present and — through its potential for expansion — in the future as well.

You may purchase complete working drawings, material lists and plan books from Larry Farnsworth, P.O. Box 1841, Las Vegas, Nevada 89101.

In 1970, 8 per cent of the people lived in overcrowded conditions, but the rate of improvement in the situation slowed considerably after 1973 when former President Richard M. Nixon put a lid on federal aid.

Analysts disagree on the cause of the regression in housing. Weiner called it "a direct result of the housing policies of the last eight years."

But others place more blame on the recession of 1974, which slowed housing construction generally.

Nixon inherited from the Johnson administration a federal commitment to aid in the construction of housing for low-income families and to help them afford housing once it was built.

From 1969 to 1973, the nation added 400,000 public housing units to its inventory, pushing the number of units to 1.4 million. But many of the projects encountered financial difficulty and went into default.

In January 1973, Nixon shut off any further federal subsidies for public housing. He said those programs were unmanageable.

The Nixon approach was to guarantee to individual renters the subsidy they would need to find housing. It included a guarantee of a certain number of subsidized renters for builders of new projects. But it was only this year that that program resulted in any appreciable construction activity.

A house that is on the market too long could become a white elephant and very difficult to sell. Few real estate salesmen know how to make a sound appraisal of a residential property.

Another major reason for hiring a real estate appraiser is the matter of tax assessments. For example, a number of Chicago homeowners felt that their taxes were excessive and that their homes were overassessed. After obtaining real estate appraisals which supported their claims, many of the homeowners were able to secure major reductions in their tax bills.

If a government agency plans to take your property for a public improvement like a highway, for example, it might save you a good bit of money to hire an appraiser who is experienced in condemnation work. When the appraiser's estimate is higher than the government's offer, you stand a better chance of getting more money for your property from the condemning agency or from a court of law if you have a fully-documented appraisal.

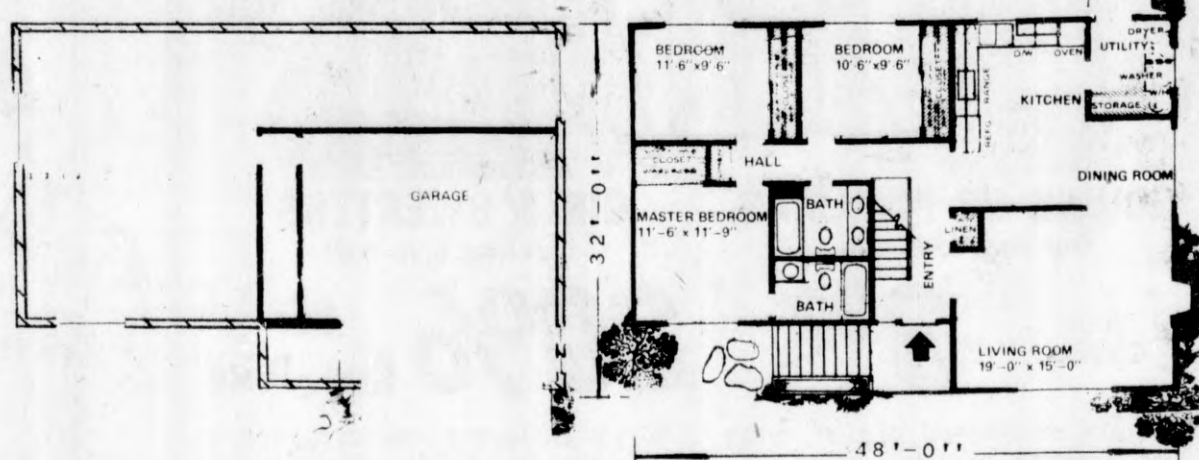

To hire an appraiser, contact your local chapter of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers or check the Yellow Pages of the telephone directory. Members of the Institute hold the MAI or RM designations, which means that they have successfully completed numerous appraisal education courses, passed written examinations, and completed years of professional appraising experience.

All Institute members subscribe to a strict code of ethics and standards of professional conduct. RM members specialize in appraising single-family residences; MAI members are qualified to appraise all kinds of real estate properties. The cost of a home appraisal

1350 SQ. FT. LIVING AREA

House Plan Offers Split Level Effect

By LARRY FARNSWORTH

This three-bedroom house makes the most of any size lot by capitalizing on the space-saving techniques of the traditional two-story home. Yet it also offers the selective homeowner the advantages of all-in-one-floor living areas, plus room for further expansion adjacent to the ground-level garage.

The entrance stairs behind the tall planter lead to a compact, wrought-iron-trimmed front porch.

Inside, a generous entry insures both privacy and a smooth traffic flow pattern to the living areas and the garage level as well.

The living room is fully separate, yet the floor plan allows it to derive extra dimension from the adjacent dining room. And an offset arrangement gives the dining room an equal feeling of separateness, although it is actually combined with the kitchen in an open plan.

The L-shaped kitchen work area and an adjacent laundry storage - utility room with an outside exit are added dividends for the efficiency-minded homemaker.

Cost conscious builders will recognize and appreciate the back-to-back placement of the main and master baths, and comfort lovers will approve the double lavatories in the former and the latter's full bath, a feature all too seldom found in the master bath of a medium size home.

Bedroom size and bedroom closet size are also calculated to please the home planner. The exterior of this plan, with its gables and blend of brick and vertical siding, has an air of dignity and substance.

The homebuilder who selects this model selects a home plan which provides for comfortable living, both in the present and — through its potential for expansion — in the future as well.

You may purchase complete working drawings, material lists and plan books from Larry Farnsworth, P.O. Box 1841, Las Vegas, Nevada 89101.

ST. MARYS, Alaska (AP) - The Alaska National Guard hasn't been in business as long as Santa, but it's made Christmas brighter for as long as children here can remember. For the 20th consecutive year, the guard has delivered gifts to the tiny Yukon River community 450 miles northwest of Anchorage. The guard took 4,000 pounds to St. Marys and 2,000 pounds to the Bethel area. Next week it will deliver gifts to Nome.

The guard tried to make the delivery to St. Marys last Saturday, but bad weather prevented a landing until Wednesday. The men rode in open trucks the five miles from the airstrip to the high school, where youngsters repaid the kindness with a show of Eskimo dances and music.

OIL WROTE SCRIPT

Stocks Uncertain As OPEC Closes

By CHET CURRIER
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market gave a mixed performance this past week with the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries writing the script.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks managed a 5.91 gain to 979.06.

But Standard & Poor's 500-stock composite index dropped 44 to 104.26, and the New York Stock Exchange's composite of more than 1,500 common stocks lost .08 to 56.24.

Big Board volume averaged 25.35 million shares a day, lagging just a bit behind the previous week's 26.66 million pace.

market had been buoyed by a wide range of domestic developments, ranging from falling interest rates to speculation over a possible push by President-elect Carter for a tax cut early in his administration.

In the past week, however, the financial community's attention turned directly to the oil-price outlook as OPEC oil ministers met in Qatar.

The outcome of that gathering — an unexpected split-level price — left the market in an uncertain mood at the weekend.

Eleven of the oil cartel's members declared a price increase of 10 per cent. But Saudi Arabia, the leading oil producer in the group, and the United Arab Emirates demurred, posting only 5 per cent hikes. And Saudi Arabia said it would remove limits it has imposed on its oil production schedules.

At first, on Friday morning, the market greeted the news with jubilation, figuring a significant crack had appeared in the united front OPEC has presented to the industrialized nations for the past several years.

The Dow jumped more than 5 points in the first half hour of Friday's session. But it quickly turned back again, finishing the day with a 2-point loss.

Brokers said investors seemed to want some additional questions answered before reaching any conclusions about the OPEC situation.

Stocks of the international oil, like the market as a whole, presented a mixed pattern.

Gleaner stocks, meanwhile, continued their recent declines, with analysts theorizing that some investing institutions were tightening their holdings in that sector before year-end reporting time.

Highs for the year totaled 380 against 17 lows.

The Associated Press 60-stock average moved up 2.3 to 327.0.

Legislature Boosts Pay Of Top State Officials

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The governor's top aides and state department chiefs got a pay boost Friday before Michigan lawmakers ended their two-year session.

The bill cleared the House 77-5.

The Senate passed the pay raise bill Thursday night in a marathon meeting that lasted until 3:30 a.m. Friday. But not enough House members remained in the early-morning hours to give it the two-thirds vote needed for passage.

The House met at 11 a.m. and instituted a rare "call of the House" to make sure enough lawmakers showed up. "The sergeants will lock the doors and bring in the absent members," ordered presiding Rep. George Edwards, D-Detroit.

The bill was whisked through with three votes more than needed. It also contains almost $700,000 in state money to institute legislative pay raises as approved by the Officers Compensation Commission.

The money was contained in a $55 million appropriation bill. Milliken and legislative leaders argued that state officials had gone several years without a pay increase, and the state needed to keep up with salaries in private business.

"We're competing with the private sector," Milliken said Friday. "It's important to hold competent people." Some of the top officials made less than some subordinates.

The bill, which contains $683,000 in state funds for pay hikes for 107 executive branch officials and seven new positions, totals $731,000 with restricted and federal funds added.

Some of the majority Democrats balked at approving pay raises for Republican officials. And for a time Thursday night, it appeared the Senate might torpedo the pay raises in return for House refusal to enact a legislative retirement increase.

The bill also contains $16,500 for former Sen. Charles Youngblood, who resigned his Senate seat in 1974 after being convicted of liquor bribe conspiracy charges. His conviction was later overturned by the Court of Appeals, and the Senate voted to provide him with the rest of his 1974 salary, which he had stopped receiving when he resigned.

In addition to raises for top officials, the bill provides thousands of dollars in pay hikes for assistants, aides, secretaries and other lower-echelon employees.

Under the bill, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and Secy. of State Richard Austin will make $47,000, up $2,000; State Police Director Col. George Halverson will get $38,250, up $4,650; Milliken's top aide George Weeks will get $41,250, up $5,750; budget director Gerald Miller will get $41,250, up $6,250; and natural resources Director Howard Tanner will get $38,250, up $7,590. Other department heads showed similar increases.

State Employees To Get Average 6% Pay Raise

By LARRY McDERMOTT
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's 58,000 classified state employees are in for an average 6 per cent general wage increase, according to the Civil Service Commission.

The Commission also said Friday that the current cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) will be replaced by a 9-cent an hour increase in base rates. That adjustment will not cost the state anything, a spokesman said.

The package takes effect Oct. 1, 1977.

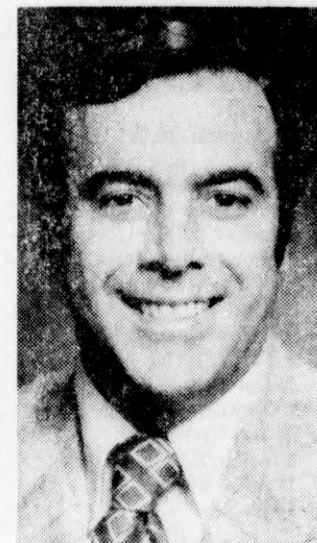

The increase in pay and fringe benefits is expected to cost the state $54.8 million. Gov. William Milliken said he will incorporate the pay package into his 1977-78 budget recommendations.

"The compensation panel, after a thorough study of the situation and of the competitive pressure, proposed this raise, and I will accept its judgment," the governor said.

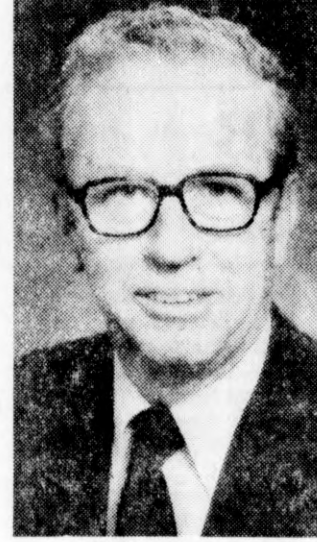

An additional 5 per cent wage increase will go to the labor and

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Real Estate Can Be Very Risky, Too

By SAM SHULSKY
Q. A writer on real estate makes the comment that stocks and bonds are very risky now and, secondly, offer no tax shelter. Your comments, please.

A. Stocks and bonds are risky in December; also in November, October, September, August, July, June, May, April, March, February and January. So is real estate.

Bonds do offer no tax shelter (unless, of course, you buy municipals). Stocks which pay a small dividend but have a good record of growth do offer some tax shelter insofar as their long-term gains are taxed at only one-half normal income tax rates. Stocks held mainly for generous dividend income offer no tax shelter after the first $100 exclusion to which each investor is entitled.

Now don't get me wrong: I grant you that fortunes have been made in real estate — by those who know how to operate real estate. And have been lost by those who don't.

Investors who bought quality growth stocks without knowing one end of a camera, or computer, from the other have made fortunes. Investors who have "dabbled" in stocks without knowing anything about the market have lost fortunes.

You'll have to take it from there.

Q. I bought some stock in June, received dividends from the broker and, finally, after many requests, received the stock certificate itself dated September. Is this legal? Were the shares not registered in my name until September?

A. There's nothing illegal about all this. Just a bit of back office inefficiency, or lack of communication.

The stocks were registered in the broker's name until September and then transferred to your name. However, you've been the full, complete owner since the purchase in June.

Q. I am a young college graduate with a debt on which I pay 7 per cent interest. Do you see any reason to speed the repayment?

A. A 7 per cent debt is no big deal for a young person. All other things being equal you could begin a long-term period of stock acquisition even though you owe money.

Q. I am in the 16 per cent income tax bracket and have been told it does not pay me to buy tax-free bonds. Why?

A. On the day your letter arrived, a high quality tax-exempt bond could be bought to yield 5 1/2 to 6 per cent, or $55 to $60 from each $1,000 invested. A corporate (taxable) bond could be bought to yield $85. If you pay 16 per cent on the $85 interest, you reduce your net to $71.40; $71.40 is more than $55 or $60.

Q. How can we be sure a broker is giving us the correct bond rating? Do bond ratings vary among the various investment services?

A. Bonds are rated by Standard & Poor's, Moody's and Fitch whose manuals are found in most brokerage firms, banks and large libraries. So you can always look up a rating. I doubt that any reputable brokerage firm would misrepresent the rating on a bond. There may be slight variation among the three rating agencies — but in most cases they agree.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Assassinations has made an unsuccessful attempt to have James Earl Ray waive his attorney-client privilege with the lawyer who negotiated his guilty plea to the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King.

The waiver was sought by committee investigators in an effort to question Percy Foreman, the Houston attorney who represented Ray at his brief trial and sentencing in March 1969, according to James Lewis, Ray's present attorney.

Panel Fails To Get Ray Waiver

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Assassinations has made an unsuccessful attempt to have James Earl Ray waive his attorney-client privilege with the lawyer who negotiated his guilty plea to the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King.

The waiver was sought by committee investigators in an effort to question Percy Foreman, the Houston attorney who represented Ray at his brief trial and sentencing in March 1969, according to James Lesar, Ray's present attorney.

OATH ADMINISTERED: State Rep. Mark Siljander, (R-Three Rivers) received oath of office Friday morning in ceremony in St. Joseph county courthouse in Centreville. Oath was administered by Judge Mary Coleman of state supreme court. Ceremony was unusual since most legislators taking office in January will be sworn-in in ceremonies in Lansing. Siljander was elected to his first term in Nov. 2 election and will succeed DeForrest Strang who did not seek re-election. Siljander, 25, is real estate agent and distributor of pre-cut homes. ## Troopers Arrest Two Drivers After Speedy Chase On US-33

Two state troopers of the Benton Harbor post reported they arrested two drivers almost simultaneously early Friday, stopping one with their patrol car and flagging the other down on foot. Sgt. Jacob Toering and Trooper Greg Fouty said they were in a patrol car on US-33, Hagar township, when they clocked two cars going 74 miles an hour. One of the speeding cars then passed the other and the troopers said they pursued the passing car at speeds in excess of 100 miles an hour. Toering and Fouty reported they stopped the car, then the second car came on the scene and Fouty stepped into the road, signaled it to stop, and the car pulled over.

David Erb, 19, of 1020 Morrison avenue, St. Joseph, was charged with fleeing and eluding police and reckless driving. He pleaded guilty to both charges in Fifth District court Friday and was placed on presentence investigation. Judge John T. Hammond set total bonds of $2,000.

Karlyle Fonger, 22, of 1065 Lawrence drive, Benton township, identified as the driver of the car flagged down, pleaded innocent to charges of speeding and driving while license was suspended. He was released on $500 personal recognizance bond.

AREA POLICE ROUNDUP

Man Named In Warrants Booked On New Charge

A St. Joseph township man sought on two warrants stemming from alleged phone call threats to a woman was arrested in St. Joseph Friday afternoon following a reported attack on the woman in an automatic laundry, according to city police.

Police said Michael D. Koehler, 26, of 3941 Laukus lane, was booked on a charge of assault with intent to commit great bodily harm less than murder, in connection with the reported attack shortly before 2 p.m. at Laundry and Cleaning Village, 700 Midway drive. He was arrested at 2:56 p.m. in a house on Harrison street, police said.

Treated for facial bruises and released from Memorial hospital was Nancy Jo Neal, 20, of 906 Court street, St. Joseph. Police said two witnesses, an elderly man and an elderly woman, reported that a man knocked a woman down, kicked and beat her with fists.

Police said they held two warrants for Koehler, issued by Magistrate Joyce Bucher. Police said the warrants accuse Koehler of making threatening phone calls to Miss Neal on Dec. 1 and Dec. 5 at her place of work. Police said they were told Koehler and Miss Neal dated each other at one time.

Benton township police at 9:43 p.m. Friday investigated a report that gunshots were heard in a parking lot of Briarwood apartments off Union street, Fairplain. Police said they found nothing suspicious.

State police at the Benton Harbor post said Frank L. Gray, 26, Gary, Ind., was booked on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon when a pistol was seized from an auto stopped for speeding on I-94, Lincoln township about 2:15 p.m. Friday.

Frank Reed told Benton Harbor police Friday that a phonograph turntable and stereo equipment valued at $389 was stolen from his room at Milner hotel, 250 East Main street.

GOODS RECOVERED: An estimated $2,000 worth of items taken in break-in of Gerald Wilson residence, 5629 Benson Terrace, Coloma township, were recovered minutes after burglary was reported to township police yesterday about 2:30 p.m. Township Chief Robert Cottier views some items recovered including fish detector, binoculars, old coins and silver service. Cottier trailed footsteps from Wilson house approximately 200 yards north and found stolen items in old cottage. No arrests have been made and investigation continues. Entrance was gained to Wilson house by prying open window, according to police. (Cliff Stevens photo)

They'll Proceed Anyway

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP) — Federal officials have said they will proceed with funding plans which will create a controversial Indian reservation inside the city limits. At a public hearing, Robert Anderson, a federal housing official, said that the city commission's approval of the project is not required in order to proceed with the project. Plans include a $2.8 million housing development funded by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development in the Mar-Shunk area of the city. The city commission has voted 5-1 to disapprove the project, saying it did not wish to have a separate tribal government inside the city. But Anderson, a housing specialist for HUD, said enough support was received from the Indian community to warrant the project.

Today In MICHIGAN

School Lunch Bill

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — All Michigan schoolchildren would be provided a nutritious lunch, milk and in some cases breakfast under a bill just approved by the House and expected to get Gov. William Milliken's signature. Some 85 per cent of Michigan school districts already offer lunches in some or all of their schools, funded by a combination of student fees and state and federal subsidies. The bill would require all school districts to offer lunch programs beginning next Oct. 1. For one year, however, a school could meet that requirement by simply offering a place for students to eat bag lunches. The lunches would not have to be hot, and could be served from vending machines. Some students would qualify for free or reduced price lunches under the bill. Certain schools with high percentages of needy students also would have to offer hot breakfasts beginning next October. The bill exempts some rural school districts from that requirement. Milk also would have to be provided for sale to students.

Liquor At The Center

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state legislature has given final approval to a bill allowing university conference centers to sell liquor to guests at conventions and other meetings. The House voted 77-21 and the Senate 24-8 Thursday for the bill, which also would increase dramatically liquor license fees to beef up enforcement of the state's liquor laws. Under the bill, university governing boards could get permanent liquor licenses for the schools' conference centers. Day-to-day sales from a bar would be prohibited, though alcoholic beverages could be served to conferees. Under a recent attorney general's ruling, liquor cannot now be served at state universities. Unsuccessful moves have been made in the past to allow liquor sales in university snack shops and unions. The bill would apply to five universities with conference centers — Eastern Michigan, Michigan State, Wayne State and Oakland universities and the University of Michigan.

Cutting Speed At Schools

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Speed limits on roads near schools would be reduced to 25 miles an hour under legislation on its way to the governor. The bill, which won final House approval on an 85-5 vote, would require those limits to be enforced on roads within 500 feet of school property lines for 30 minutes before and after regularly scheduled school sessions. The limits would take effect immediately after the bill is signed and signs announcing the limits are posted. Exempted from the speed limit would be limited access highways or those with pedestrian overpasses. Sponsor Rep. Philip Mastin, D-Hazel Park, said the bill would help protect schoolchildren from deaths or injuries. He said the state highways department and county road commissions are reluctant to reduce speed limits on state and county roads. This bill would force the speed reduction.

Driver To Stand Trial

DETROIT (AP) — A school bus driver has been ordered to stand trial for allegedly pulling a gun on a busload of unruly students and forcing them off the bus. Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Samuel Gardner ordered Van Esther Cobb, 21, bound over for trial on felonious assault charges. According to police, Miss Cobb was driving a busload of students to Cerveny Middle School in Detroit on Dec. 3, when some of her 11-to-14-year-old passengers started making noise. Witnesses told police Miss Cobb stopped the bus and ordered all the children off. When some of the students began pushing and shoving, witnesses said, Miss Cobb pulled a gun. Students told officers a woman bus aide stepped between the youngsters and the driver and convinced the woman to put the gun away. No shots were fired and there were no injuries.

Beer Bill's On Its Way

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Legislation to reduce competition among beer wholesalers in rural areas of Michigan is on its way to the governor. The House voted 59-31 Thursday to agree with Senate changes in the bill. The measure would grant beer wholesalers exclusive sales territories. Now, territories may overlap and cause what sponsors call "unfair" competition. The bill would require manufacturers and sellers of beer or malt beverages in non-urban areas to give each of their wholesalers an exclusive territory. The wholesaler then would be the sole distributor of the manufacturer's brand. A manufacturer could grant different wholesalers the right to sell different brands of its products within the same territory.

Dies In Rush For Help

HARTLAND, Mich. (AP) — A man who was the only person to see a golf club burn Friday died after suffering a heart attack as he rushed for help. State Police said Max Richardson, 58, of Pontiac, was working alone at the Hartland Glen Golf club when the fire began. He drove his car to a nearby home to call for help, but witnesses said he collapsed when he got out of the car, according to police. Richardson was dead on arrival at a Howell hospital.

Canal's Open For 'Saltie'

DETROIT (AP) — The Iroquois Canal west of Montreal will be kept open past its winter closing date so a 538-foot Liberian "saltie" with a 17-foot hole in its bottom can reach Montreal, officials say. The ocean-going vessel Attica left Detroit at 7 a.m. today. It was being escorted by tug to Montreal, where the Attica will be able to drydock for permanent repairs at the year-round port. Officials said the canal, 130 miles west of Montreal, had been scheduled to close at 8 a.m. today and seal the Great Lakes to ocean-going traffic for the winter. Coast Guard inspectors at Detroit said the ship's cargo, which was not known, had been adjusted and they had declared the vessel seaworthy.

Oakland Pact Ratified

ROCHESTER, Mich. (AP) — A three-year contract has been ratified by the Oakland University chapter of the American Association of University Professors. AAUP spokesman Don Morse called the pact "without precedent in American higher education" because it provides multi-year coverage of both salaries and fringe benefits. The faculty went on strike for three days at the start of the fall term in early September. On Nov. 30, the school's trustees gave preliminary approval to the pact. The AAUP vote was 141-53 in favor of the agreement.

Strikebreaker Santa?

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — Santa Claus is a rotten boss and elves should stand up for their rights, says a self-appointed union organizer. In a tongue-in-cheek memorandum, state Sen. H.A. Goltz, a Democrat from Bellingham, announced that this Christmas, a 1,976-year contract between Santa Claus World Wide Enterprises, Inc., and the elves will expire. He said the American Federation of Elves has unionized Santa's tiny helpers and is agitating for better working conditions and benefits. Goltz' memorandum urged that "our agents negotiate a new agreement at the earliest possible date to assure that there shall be no interruption of Christmas festivities, delivery of gifts, and the spreading of seasonal joy across the earth in 1977." Goltz's North Pole Local No. 1 says elves are disclosing various "negotiable items" including demands for salaries, warmer working conditions, limits on use of dangerous hammers and saws, and affirmative action to hire more female elves.

TWIN CITIES AREA CHAMBER of COMMERCE

JOHN P. BANYON, PRESIDENT, TWIN CITIES AREA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE: We wish to take this opportunity to report to the public on our past years activities and programs. We wish to identify and acknowledge our Chamber members and thank them for their support.

We also wish to identify our activities and accomplishments and to encourage non-member firms to join our list of members in supporting our community. We wish to acknowledge the Berrien County Board of Commissioners for their cooperation and support in making possible the economic and manpower programs.

CHAMBER ACTIVITIES and PROGRAMS

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Organized the Economic Development Corporation of the County of Berrien to encourage industrial, commercial and tourism development. This corporation is able to assist in financing construction through the sale of tax exempt revenue bonds.

Has assisted thirty-one local industries in obtaining Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificates resulting in an increase in local taxes of $143,424, creating 616 new jobs directly and an additional 739 indirectly. This created an annual payroll of over $12,000,000 and led to the retention of an additional 5,885 jobs. Over the next twelve years, the thirty-one firms that have received these certificates should save well over three million dollars in local property taxes.

Assisted six companies in obtaining industrial revenue bonds resulting in over 8,000,000 dollars in capital improvements.

Activated the marketing program for Berrien County recently completed by the Fantus Company, an internationally known plant location consulting firm, to attract business and industry to the area. Twelve target industries were selected as the most suitable to locate and operate successfully in Berrien County. The companies are being provided with information on the area and the advantages we offer as an industrial location.

Construction has been completed on two speculative buildings located in the Pipestone Industrial District. One is 42,400 sq. ft., the other is 21,000. The buildings, located on ten acre sites, are available for sale or lease.

Conducted a quarterly Cost of Living Survey and published a Twin Cities Economic Review in addition to a Berrien County Directory of Manufacturers and Processors. The Department also maintains a site and building inventory.

Coordinated meetings for developers of the Pipestone Industrial Mall with representatives of local municipalities and firms interested in locating in the mall.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Worked with an area governmental transportation committee known as TWIN CATS in the development of an overall transportation plan and the development of project priorities for the Twin Cities and Berrien County.

A survey is being conducted to determine air service needs from Ross field to eastern destinations.

Continuing to make progress in obtaining the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area designation by meeting with officials from the Office of Management and Budget in Washington D.C. and by cooperating with the Planning Commission and the Regional Planning Commission.

Organized a Business-Education Council to implement programs in the business and educational communities in the following areas: career awareness, economic and consumer education.

The Career Awareness program initially involved only the Benton Harbor High School, but this year includes Berrien Springs, Bridgman, Coloma, and St. Joseph. It is in its third year, and approximately 1,900 students have completed the program.

The Business Education Council assists in the Olivet Economic Education workshops. The workshop is held locally with a 10-week course designed to give teachers a better awareness of our free enterprise system.

Assisted in the development of Project Foresight undertaken by the St. Joseph Business Association to develop a marketing master plan for the downtown St. Joseph area including the improvement of the aesthetic appearance of the downtown area by rehabilitation and construction to create a shopping center atmosphere; public relations and consumer services.

TWIN CITIES AREA CHAMBER of COMMERCE

JOHN P. BANYON, PRESIDENT, TWIN CITIES AREA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE: We wish to take this opportunity to report to the public on our past years activities and programs. We wish to identify and acknowledge our Chamber members and thank them for their support.

We also wish to identify our activities and accomplishments and to encourage non-member firms to join our list of members in supporting our community. We wish to acknowledge the Berrien County Board of Commissioners for their cooperation and support in making possible the economic and manpower programs.

CHAMBER ACTIVITIES and PROGRAMS

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Organized the Economic Development Corporation of the County of Berrien to encourage industrial, commercial and tourism development. This corporation is able to assist in financing construction through the sale of tax exempt revenue bonds.

Has assisted thirty-one local industries in obtaining Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificates resulting in an increase in local taxes of $143,424, creating 616 new jobs directly and an additional 739 indirectly. This created an annual payroll of over $12,600,000 and led to the retention of an additional 5,995 jobs. Over the next twelve years, the thirty-one firms that have received these certificates should save well over three million dollars in local property taxes.

Assisted six companies in obtaining industrial revenue bonds resulting in over 8,000,000 dollars in capital improvements.

Activated the marketing program for Berrien County recently completed by the Fantus Company, an internationally known plant location consulting firm, to attract business and industry to the area. Twelve target industries were selected as the most suitable to locate and operate successfully in Berrien County. The companies are being provided with information on the area and the advantages we offer as an industrial location.

Construction has been completed on two speculative buildings located in the Pipestone Industrial District. One is 42,400 sq. ft., the other is 21,000. The buildings, located on ten acre sites, are available for sale or lease.

Conducted a quarterly Cost of Living Survey and published a Twin Cities Economic Review in addition to a Berrien County Directory of Manufacturers and Processors. The Department also maintains a site and building inventory.

Coordinated meetings for developers of the Pipestone Industrial Mall with representatives of local municipalities and firms interested in locating in the mall.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Worked with an area governmental transportation committee known as TWIN CATS in the development of an overall transportation plan and the development of project priorities for the Twin Cities and Berrien County.

A survey is being conducted to determine air service needs from Ross field to eastern destinations.

Continuing to make progress in obtaining the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area designation by meeting with officials from the Office of Management and Budget in Washington D.C. and by cooperating with the Planning Commission and the Regional Planning Commission.

Organized a Business-Education Council to implement programs in the business and educational communities in the following areas: career awareness, economic and consumer education.

The Career Awareness program initially involved only the Benton Harbor High School, but this year includes Berrien Springs, Bridgman, Coloma, and St. Joseph. It is in its third year, and approximately 1,900 students have completed the program.

The Business Education Council assists in the Olivet Economic Education workshops. The workshop is held locally with a 10-week course designed to give teachers a better awareness of our free enterprise system.

Assisted in the development of Project Foresight undertaken by the St. Joseph Business Association to develop a marketing master plan for the downtown St. Joseph area including the improvement of the aesthetic appearance of the downtown area by rehabilitation and construction to create a shopping center atmosphere; public relations and consumer services.

CONVENTION and VISITOR DEVELOPMENT

Established a Convention and Visitors Bureau with a full time director and secured a State grant for $9,286.00 for development of a promotional program for the area. Assisted 32 groups with over 3,252 delegates representing an economic impact for local business of approximately $452,434.00; also assisted 125 tours with an average of 50 people per bus creating an additional economic impact of $159,375.00 with total visitor impact of $611,809.00.

Secured many conventions including the 1977 State American Legion Convention with over 1,000 delegates, which will result in 1.4 million dollars income to the area from their two and a half day convention.

Published the Convention and Visitors Guide for Southwestern Michigan and a Fun-n-Action brochure.

Testified in Lansing on tourism and park legislation affect on Berrien County.

SMALL BUSINESS ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

Since its inception has assisted approximately 600 existing and proposed new businesses with professional advice. In the past year interviewed over 200 individuals seeking some type of small business assistance. As a result thirteen business loans have been completed with fourteen others in process. In addition, eight Economic Injury Loan applications covering crop damage are in progress.

Thirty-eight new or existing businesses have been assisted with their business proposals in preparing financial information, obtaining bond guarantees and franchise information.

Assisted the Benton Harbor Community Businessmen's Association, a minority group, who are interested in developing a cooperative business venture.

GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS

Continued work with the Inter-Governmental Council consisting of the mayors and city managers of the Twin Cities, the supervisors of Benton, St. Joseph, Hagar, Royalton, Lincoln and Sodus townships.

Testified before legislative committees on the Single Business Tax, Workers Compensation, and Welfare Reform.

Conducted a "Meet Your Candidate" evening and held "Eye-Opener Breakfasts" with representatives from the State Chamber and the State Legislature.

Attended TWIN CATS and other transportation planners meetings and provided input to assist in the planning for a more effective business transportation package.

INDUSTRIAL AND BUSINESS RESOURCES

Published an annual wage and benefit survey that is used in the economic development program.

Held numerous breakfast meetings on topics to assist business such as the Single Business Tax, Workers' Compensation, Banking In The Future and Accounting for Small Businesses and the Keys To Business Success.

MANPOWER PROGRAMS

Administered the Berrien County Job Development-On-the-Job Training Program resulting in 172 disadvantaged individuals being placed in on-the-job training with local businesses.

The Vocational Education Program, another part of the Berrien County Manpower Programs, placed 212 disadvantaged individuals in technical and vocational schools.

1976 SUMMER YOUTH PROGRAM

With the completion of the program on September 3, 1976, 213 direct placements were made for area youth ages 14 - 21, with 180 from Benton Harbor.

INDUSTRIAL MANAGEMENT TRAINING PROGRAM

The Industrial Management Training Program conducted a successful fall and Spring Semester, with 33 classes and 450 enrollees for 1976.

In October an executive Seminar on "Strategic Management and Long Range Management" was held for local industries.

ORGANIZATIONAL AFFAIRS

Obtained reaccreditation by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, which means our Chamber is cited as an organization meeting required standards of performance in every phase of its work. Approximately 10% of all Chambers of Commerce affiliated with the National Chamber are accredited and less than 10% are reaccredited.

Organized a Chamber membership blitz that ran from June 15 through June 25 for new members.

Published an area map and numerous Chamber brochures. Produced a weekly Chamber radio program, "Action Line On The Air" in addition to public service spots on "Where to Go and What to See in Southwestern Michigan."

ASK THEM YOURSELF

Send the question, on a postcard, to "Ask," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. We'll pay $5 for published questions. Sorry, we can't answer others.

FOR SAM ERVIN, former Senator

At this Bicentennial Christmas, do you think the founding fathers would be pleased with what we have accomplished? What would they find irritating about our system of government?—J.M., Washington, D.C.

● I think they would be delighted with what we have accomplished. During the last two centuries, we have attempted to keep as close to their concepts as is humanly possible. I'm sure they would be pleased that the country which they founded has grown and prospered the way it has. But I'm positive they would deplore the fact that the Government has adopted a welfare program which often robs people of their incentive to strive for financial independence.

FOR CAROL BURNETT, comedienne

As a child, what convinced you there was a Santa Claus?—M.B., Joliet, Ill.

● We'd just moved, and I couldn't figure out how to let Santa know where I was. I hoped when he got to our old home, he'd find the note I left for him with our new address. On Christmas morning I rushed to the tree to see what was there. I wasn't disappointed. There was a tiny box for me with a 25-cent patent leather coin purse inside. That was my best Christmas ever—I knew Santa was smart and that he cared.

FOR FRANK GIFFORD, ABC sportscaster

What was your funniest Christmas experience?—L.R., Flint, Mich.

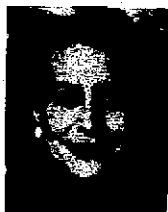

● Don Klosterman and I were playing in a college all-star football game on the West Coast. Christmas Eve we went partying in San Francisco and stayed out until 6:00 A.M. As we were creeping into our dorm, we came face to face with the coach. "Where have you been?" he demanded. We said very innocently: "Not where have we been—it's where are we going? It's Christmas morning, and we're off to Mass." We ended up in church.

FOR CLEVELAND AMORY,

founder of The Fund for Animals

Why doesn't your organization run a campaign at Christmas encouraging parents to buy pets for their children?—A. Somerville, Fort Myers, Fla.

● Never! A pet is not a toy for children to play with, then tire of, as they do with dolls and building blocks. However, if the parents seriously believe their child will help be responsible for the pet's welfare, I urge you to make your choice at your local animal shelter. The best pet on earth is a mutt or an alley cat.

FOR BARBARA WALTERS,

co-anchor of the ABC Evening News

This year I'm giving my first big Christmas party. Any tips to help me make it a success?—R.J., Elmhurst, N.Y.

● If it's a buffet, I like to serve things that can be eaten without a knife. Put lots of snack tables around, so your guests don't have to balance trays or plates on their laps. See that every couple knows at least one other pair. At a sit-down meal, I like to shuffle my guests around for dessert (there's nothing wrong with two women or two men sitting together), just for a change of scene.

FOR JULIA CHILD, gourmet

Did you ever "goof up" on a Christmas dinner?—P.N., Altoona, Pa.

● The year we entertained two sets of nieces and nephews. One niece is a fine cook, but the other niece and her family are exactly opposite—they eat mostly convenience foods. Well, I started out with cheddar cheese soup, and the gourmets enjoyed every mouthful. The others said, "Ugh, what's that," and pushed it away. Same with goose and red cabbage; one set wolfed it down; the others looked like they were going to be sick.

FOR DON KIRSHNER, rock impresario

Do teenagers still love carols the way they did when I was a kid?—B.Z., Rome, Ga.

● All in all, I'd say they go for it. As with most things, it's a matter of taste. There's a wider variety of musical styles for youngsters to choose from than ever before. Some enjoy nostalgia, while others favor a modernized version of a traditional carol. Also, newly recorded carols often attract fans because of the artist recording it.

FOR SHELLEY WINTERS, actress

What was your most poignant Christmas?—B.C., Clarksville, Tenn.

● It was during the Depression. My girl friend and I were longing to make our homes look pretty and colorful, and we were flat broke. We "borrowed" a few gold trinkets from our homes and hocked them. We never got to buy the tinsel and stuff, however, because we were discovered before we could spend a cent. And our parents made us get back the stuff we'd pawned.

FOR RONA JAFFE, author of The Last Chance

Do you think people who aren't avid readers appreciate receiving books as Christmas gifts?—S.A., Yuma, Ariz.

● Yes, because they are the ones who would never buy books for themselves. Non-bookworms appreciate books in their area of interest (cookbooks, stock-market reports, for example). Anything in the "how to" field or a best-selling novel is a good bet. If you're really stumped for ideas, give a gift certificate. Even if I weren't a writer, I'd still give books because they endure.

FOR THE "ASK THEM YOURSELF" EDITOR

I'm fascinated by ghost stories. Do you have a nice Christmas one for my collection?—B.G., Waco, Texas

● We sure do. Heard this from Catherine Schell of TV's Space: 1999. A few years ago she spent the holidays on a huge Virginia estate. Christmas Eve night, Catherine was awakened by the odor of smoke. She went out to the corridor but found nothing smoldering. She went back to sleep, but again she awoke. The smoke fumes were overpowering, but the room was clear. Then, to her horror, she saw the face of a man who was rapping at the window. Behind him was a wall of flame. Catherine rushed to the window, but the vision faded. Next morning she learned that many years ago the wing of the house where she slept had burned down. The cook had rushed through the house, waking the family and hastening them to safety. He, however, perished in the flames.

ASK THEM YOURSELF

Send the question, on a postcard, to "Ask," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. We'll pay $5 for published questions. Sorry, we can't answer others.

FOR SAM ERVIN, former Senator

At this Bicentennial Christmas, do you think the founding fathers would be pleased with what we have accomplished? What would they find irritating about our system of government?—J.M., Washington, D.C.

● I think they would be delighted with what we have accomplished. During the last two centuries, we have attempted to keep as close to their concepts as is humanly possible. I'm sure they would be pleased that the country which they founded has grown and prospered the way it has. But I'm positive they would deplore the fact that the Government has adopted a welfare program which often robs people of their incentive to strive for financial independence.

FOR CAROL BURNETT, comedienne

As a child, what convinced you there was a Santa Claus?—M.B., Joliet, Ill.

● We'd just moved, and I couldn't figure out how to let Santa know where I was. I hoped when he got to our old home, he'd find the note I left for him with our new address. On Christmas morning I rushed to the tree to see what was there. I wasn't disappointed. There was a tiny box for me with a 25-cent patent leather coin purse inside. That was my best Christmas ever—I knew Santa was smart and that he cared.

FOR FRANK GIFFORD, ABC sportscaster

What was your funniest Christmas experience?—L.R., Flint, Mich.

● Don Klosterman and I were playing in a college all-star football game on the West Coast. Christmas Eve we went partying in San Francisco and stayed out until 6:00 A.M. As we were creeping into our dorm, we came face to face with the coach. "Where have you been?" he demanded. We said very innocently: "Not where have we been—it's where are we going? It's Christmas morning, and we're off to Mass." We ended up in church.

FOR CLEVELAND AMORY,

founder of The Fund for Animals

Why doesn't your organization run a campaign at Christmas encouraging parents to buy pets for their children?—A. Sommerville, Fort Myers, Fla.

● Never! A pet is not a toy for children to play with, then tire of, as they do with dolls and building blocks. However, if the parents seriously believe their child will help be responsible for the pet's welfare, I urge you to make your choice at your local animal shelter. The best pet on earth is a mutt or an alley cat.

FOR BARBARA WALTERS,

co-anchor of the ABC Evening News

This year I'm giving my first big Christmas party. Any tips to help me make it a success?—R.J., Elmira, N.Y.

● If it's a buffet, I like to serve things that can be eaten without a knife. Put lots of snack tables around, so your guests don't have to balance trays or plates on their laps. See that every couple knows at least one other pair. At a sit-down meal, I like to shuffle my guests around for dessert (there's nothing wrong with two women or two men sitting together), just for a change of scene.

FOR JULIA CHILD, gourmet

Did you ever "goof up" on a Christmas dinner?—P.N., Altoona, Pa.

● The year we entertained two sets of nieces and nephews. One niece is a fine cook, but the other niece and her family are exactly opposite—they eat mostly convenience foods. Well, I started out with cheddar cheese soup, and the gourmets enjoyed every mouthful. The others said, "Ugh, what's that," and pushed it away. Same with goose and red cabbage; one set wolfed it down; the others looked like they were going to be sick.

Anna Moffo

By Neal Ashby

ANNA MOFFO has gone from Wayne, Pa., where she grew up as the daughter of a shoemaker, to sing in the opera houses of the great cities of the world—Vienna's Staatsoper, London's Covent Garden, the Teatro de Colon in Buenos Aires, our own Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

"At the age of 20, I was spending my first Christmas away from home, studying voice with the Rome Opera on a Fulbright scholarship. It was a melancholy time for a girl who'd had a sheltered childhood in a small town. To make matters worse, I couldn't find a Christmas tree to give some holiday atmosphere to my tiny apartment. In Rome, decorated Christmas trees weren't the custom.

"Back in November I had auditioned for singing work at a Rome radio station. But I was never called back and was convinced I wouldn't be. Then, a couple of days before the holiday, the station did call. 'Come over tomorrow morning,' a man said, 'we're going to have a hookup with a lot of stations in the United States, and we want you to sing 'Silent Night' to Italians in America.'

"I rushed over, and they put me in this bare studio with an announcer.

"When I finished 'Silent Night,' someone came in and put earphones on me, and there was the voice of my mother back in Pennsylvania, saying, 'Dear, you sang like an angel!' Mother and I laughed, talked and cried while audiences in Italy and the U.S. listened.

"I didn't have a tree that year, but it was a wonderful Christmas just the same."

JIMMY DEAN, country singer, worked as a field hand and cleaned chicken houses at the age of 10 to help ease the poverty of his family in Plainview, Texas. In his teens, his mother taught him to play the piano, and in the Air Force he blossomed as an entertainer who could also tell country jokes and whimsical stories. His recording of "Big Bad John," which he wrote, was the first of several hit records. Dean has had his own network TV programs and is in demand on talk shows and at state fairs, rodeos and Las Vegas hotels.

THE CHRISTMAS I'LL NEVER FORGET

Funny, sad, touching, joyous—here are the unforgettable Christmas memories of some of our best-loved celebrities.

Jimmy Dean

Mary Welsh Hemingway

Melba Moore

"At home in Plainview we were really poor—sugar-sack shirts and all that. Treats that cost money were pretty scarce, and a Christmas tree was a treat! We never had one; just saw them through other people's windows. On Christmas Eve, Mom gave my brother Don and me a stocking to hang up, and on Christmas morning we usually found some hard candy, an orange and maybe one toy in our stockings.

"I finally caught up, and bought my first Christmas tree just after I was married. My wife Sue and I had taken a little place in Seat Pleasant, Md. I went out and bought the biggest tree I could find. We covered it with tinsel and ornaments, but that wasn't enough for me. I added a load of that fluffy, white angel hair. I wanted a tree I'd never forget. And I never have forgotten it, though our trees have been more modest since that first one."

MARY WELSH HEMINGWAY was a magazine reporter in Paris when she met Ernest Hemingway, already a famous author. They married not long after and for 15 years lived an eventful life in Africa, Cuba and Idaho, until his death at 62 in 1961. Ms. Hemingway describes their years together in a new book, How It Was (Knopf).

"I've spent Christmases in Minnesota, where I grew up, in New York City, London, Venice, Paris, Havana and Ketchum, Idaho. But the most unusual one was observed at a place called Kimana Swamp, in Kenya, at the base of Mt. Kilimanjaro, in 1953. Ernest and I were on a six-months' safari, hunting lions, jaguars, antelopes, eland, wildebeest—whatever we chanced to find. As Christmas approached, I thought of the grove of umbrella thorn trees I'd seen a few miles from our tent camp. They had white spiky thorns on them that were at least an inch long. One of those thorn trees would be our Christmas tree, I decided. We dug one up and transplanted it outside our tent.

"I flew into Nairobi with our pilot in our little plane and bought tinsel, old-fashioned wax candles that you clamp on the tree and Christmas presents for Ernest and the 21 tribesmen who were our guides, gun bearers, trackers, skinners and cooks.

"On Christmas Eve we gathered everyone beside the decorated thorn tree, and I made my little speech in horrible Swahili. The men were all Moslem, and I told them this was one of our important Christian celebrations, and I hoped they wouldn't mind. They all stood quite respectfully and quietly in their green kanzas, which are like nightgowns. I had wrapped the gifts in Christmas paper and ribbon; a suede vest for Ernest and, for each of the men, a prized pound of lard, pound of tea, pound of rice and a hunting knife. They were all delighted.

"Ernest gave each of us a big bear-hug. It was a very joyous Christmas!"

MELBA MOORE, pop vocalist well-known to television and record audiences, has sung in Broadway musicals and for the President's guests at the White House. Most recently, she's appeared at Paris' famed Olympia Theater and presented a one-woman show at the Metropolitan Opera House, the first woman to do so at the Met.

"I always remember three or four Christmases that were very much alike when I was a little girl growing up in Harlem. My mother was a singer in cocktail lounges and nightclubs, under the name of Bonnie Davis. She was always working at Christmas time. On Christmas Eve, I'd be in our apartment with our housekeeper, a wonderful woman I called Mama Lu. The two of us would work late into the night preparing for the next day. We would clean, iron linens, wax floors, fry chicken and bake pastry until after midnight. I loved all of it, but I'd always be worrying that Santa Claus would walk in on us. Fortunately, he never did.

"The next morning, after a few hours' sleep, I'd get up to find a lot more had been done. The apartment was all decorated, and a lighted Christmas tree was there. And, what was the grandest gift for me, my mother was home to spend Christmas with us."

PHYLLIS DILLER has become probably the nation's top-ranking female standup comic though she never set foot on a stage until she was 37. She's gone far and fast with her bumbling housewife gags, each followed by her raucous laugh. Diller has played all the major supper clubs and TV variety shows, has written books and has acted in plays and in nine films.

"When I was a student at Sherwood Music Conservatory in Chicago after high school, the highlight of my year came one Christmas time. I was hired to sing soprano in a chorus that was to perform Handel's Messiah before a large studio audience and over the radio at a big Chicago station.

"All of the girls in the chorus were to wear long white dresses. I didn't have one. And there wasn't much time to get one. Luckily, a friend said she could lend me a white dress and would leave it for me in the Conservatory cloakroom.

"I rushed in on the day of the performance, grabbed the big box left in my name and dashed to the studio. Dressing with the other girls, I opened the box—and my gown was black! I would have been the wicked witch among the angels!

"All I could think of was to rush around the corner to a department store and buy a white sheet. The girls pinned me into it. A Halston it wasn't, but, in the back row, I guess I blended in passably well.

"I was thrilled to be a part of the performance. But I couldn't laugh about the shock of seeing the black dress until years afterward!"

This lovely lady—Rachel Carr, author of "Yoga For All Ages"—IS REPLACING DEADLY TENSION WITH SOARING NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY! Yet, to an outside observer, it looks as though she is doing nothing at all! This is the great marvel of Healing Yoga—that it produces such phenomenal return in beauty, strength, appearance and vitality for such a tiny investment in time or energy! No wonder it can be enjoyed by 80-year-olds, or arthritics, as well as robust teenagers! No wonder its simple postures (like this one) seem to "smooth away" both years and pounds from the very beginning! Why not try these incredibly easy "body-resapers" and "revitalizers" today—without risking a penny!

IS THIS THE # World's Easiest Yoga?

So incredibly easy that anyone can master it! And yet so powerful that it may cut years off your appearance...recharge your body with youthful energy... turn back on sleeping "Health Glands" inside your body! And do it all—in just a few glowing minutes each day!

Call It, If You Will, "Healing Yoga!" Made Up Of SIMPLE HEALING POSTURES THAT REDIRECT THE ENERGY FLOW WITHIN YOUR BODY To Help You To:

1) Gently stretch "weak muscles" strong again! So that they gain new strength, new power, new slimming control—not by agonizing effort—but by the super-nourishing blood-flow that these stretches pour into those muscles!

2) Flood with the same super-nourishment the tragically-neglected upperbody tissues of your face, neck and hair—and thus retard the drying and collapsing process that is aging your appearance faster and faster every year!

3) Revitalizes dormant "Youth Glands" inside your body! Put gentle, soothing pressure on them for a few blissful moments each day, so they automatically burn more of the food-fuel you put into your body! So you use the fat stored on your waist, hips and thighs as a brand-new supply of energy, to ward off fatigue and sluggishness at the same exact time that you look slimmer and feel younger than you have in years!

And—perhaps most important of all—

4) Attack directly—with Nature's own health powers—unnecessary sicknesses and breakdowns that may be torturing you today! So that you feel for yourself the effect of these simple postures on such agonizing trippers as arthritis... rheumatism... respiratory illnesses... high blood pressure... back troubles... insomnia... shattered nerves... and a dozen more!

Such startling relief, in fact—so quickly—that the author must share it with you, in these joy-filled words:

"At first I found the sudden intake of oxygen a little startling. I experienced a surge of vitality as though I had opened the window for a breath of fresh air; yet the quieting effect it had in my mind was hypnotic... My step took on bounce, and a wonderful sensation of well-being stayed with me. The pain in my joints and back, which had plagued me for years, subsided. With relief I discarded the traction device I had used nightly..."

And All These Benefits Come From Simple Postures That May Seem, At First, Too Easy For You! In Fact, You May Actually Laugh At Them—UNTIL YOU FEEL THE SURGE OF NEW ENERGY COURSE THROUGH YOUR BODY!

Once again, this new, simplified, streamlined Yoga works on the proven scientific principle that you cannot force... you cannot strain!... you cannot torture your body into releasing again the buried reserves of strength and vitality that are now trapped within it!

For example, you know perfectly well how exhausted you feel after ordinary strenuous exercises... how they become progressively more and more difficult to practice... how your body finally forces you to give them up, and sink right back again into ever-increasing floppiness, sagging facial and body tissues, an ever-growing sense of feeling "old and beaten" by life!

But—right now—do you have the energy to simply lie on the floor, and breathe in and out five times in a brand-new way? It takes only minutes to learn the method! You may chuckle at it at first! Until you feel the surge of super-charged oxygen revitalizing every tired tissue of your body!

And then, do you have the energy to simply raise your arms over your head—in the special way we show you while you are lying on the floor—and stretch your body gently and luxuriously from head to toe! And feel

This lovely lady—Rachel Carr, author of "Yoga For All Ages"—IS REPLACING DEADLY TENSION WITH SOARING NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY! Yet, to an outside observer, it looks as though she is doing nothing at all! This is the great marvel of Healing Yoga—that it produces such phenomenal returns in beauty, strength, appearance and vitality for such a tiny investment in time or energy! No wonder it can be enjoyed by 80-year-olds, or arthritics, as well as robust teenagers! No wonder its simple postures (like this one) seem to "smooth away" both years and pounds from the very beginning! Why not try these incredibly easy "body-resapers" and "revitalizers" today—without risking a penny!

IS THIS THE World's Easiest Yoga?

So incredibly easy that anyone can master it! And yet so powerful that it may cut years off your appearance...recharge your body with youthful energy...turn back on sleeping "Health Glands" inside your body! And do it all—in just a few glowing minutes each day!

Call It, If You Will, "Healing Yoga!" Made Up OF SIMPLE HEALING POSTURES THAT REDIRECT THE ENERGY FLOW WITHIN YOUR BODY To Help You To:

1) Gently stretch "weak muscles" strong again! So that they gain new strength, new power, new slimming control—not by agonizing effort—but by the super-nourishing blood-flow that these stretches pour into those muscles!

2) Flood with the same super-nourishment the tragically-neglected upperbody tissues of your face, neck and hair—and thus retard the drying and collapsing process that is aging your appearance faster and faster every year!

3) Revitalizes dormant "Youth Glands" inside your body! Put gentle, soothing pressure on them for a few blissful moments each day, so they automatically burn more of the food-fuel you put into your body! So you use the fat stored on your waist, hips and thighs as a brand-new supply of energy, to ward off fatigue and sluggishness at the same exact time that you look slimmer and feel younger than you have in years!

And—perhaps most important of all—

4) Attack directly—with Nature's own health powers—unnecessary sicknesses and breakdowns that may be torturing you today! So that you feel for yourself the effect of these simple postures on such agonizing cripplers as arthritis... rheumatism... respiratory illnesses... high blood pressure... back troubles... insomnia... shattered nerves... and a dozen more!

Such startling relief, in fact—so quickly—that the author must share it with you, in these joy-filled words:

"At first I found the sudden intake of oxygen a little startling. I experienced a surge of vitality as though I had opened the window for a breath of fresh air; yet the quieting effect it had in my mind was hypnotic... My step took on bounce, and a wonderful sensation of well-being stayed with me. The pain in my joints and back, which had plagued me for years, subsided. With relief I discarded the traction device I had used nightly..."

And All These Benefits Come From Simple Postures That May Seem, At First, Too Easy For You! In Fact, You May Actually Laugh At Them—UNTIL YOU FEEL THE SURGE OF NEW ENERGY COURSIING THROUGH YOUR BODY!

Once again, this new, simplified, streamlined Yoga works on the proven scientific principle that you cannot force... you cannot strain... you cannot torture your body into releasing again the buried reserves of strength and vitality that are now trapped within it!

For example, you know perfectly well how exhausted you feel after ordinary strenuous exercises... how they become progressively more and more difficult to practice... how your body finally forces you to give them up, and sink right back again into ever-increasing flabbiness, sagging facial and body tissues, an ever-growing sense of feeling "old and beaten" by life!

But—right now—do you have the energy to simply lie on the floor, and breathe in and out five times in a brand-new way? It takes only minutes to learn the method! You may chuckle at it at first! Until you feel the surge of super-charged oxygen revitalizing every tired tissue of your body!

And then, do you have the energy to simply raise your arms over your head—in the special way we show you while you are lying on the floor—and stretch your body gently and luxuriously from head to toe! And feel so much trapped tension drain out of that body that you may actually want to dance around the floor in sheer delighted joy!

How the Real-Life Walton Kids Spend Christmas

JOHN BOY

"In real life, I'm the Christmas cook!"

Richard Thomas practically grew up backstage at his parents' ballet company in New York. Christmas was considered "special" by the Thomases; a day when they were all together.

This Christmas, Richard and his wife Alma will celebrate their second Christmas together. Continuing in the Thomas tradition, Richard himself will buy and cook the Christmas dinner. "We're going to have Roast Goose," he says, "with my own 'secret' stuffing as the star of the menu. Then I think we'll top it off with Plum Pudding and Hard Sauce—and, of course, steaming hot coffee."

MARY ELLEN

"This year I'm roasting my very first turkey!"

A native Californian, Judy Norton/Taylor really enjoys being on "The Waltons." "It's given me a better idea of what life was like in the Depression years of the 1930's." She has learned that if families "stick together in good or bad times, things can be worked out."

Christmas means a lot to Judy, too...especially those fabulous holiday dinners. As a newlywed, she's looking forward to Christmas '76, and plans to continue the family tradition with her very first roast turkey dinner.

JASON

"I love Yorkshire Pudding!"

English-born Jon Walmsley is a serious young actor and versatile musician...as well as a gifted soup artist. After late evening jam sessions, he'll frequently serve up some hot soup, blending two or three varieties.

At Christmas, Jon joins his parents for a traditional Walmsley English dinner.

"Mother's specialty is Yorkshire Pudding," says Jon, "which she serves with roast beef and garden fresh vegetables."

ERIN

"When I think of Christmas, I think of cakes!"

Believed to be a descendant of Andrew Jackson, Mary McDonough's family heritage goes back a long way. So Christmas is a time for reunion. Long tables are set up, and every family contributes to the meal. "We have turkey, ham, salads, vegetables, and all kinds of cakes. My mother is famous for her Poppy Seed Cake. I can make it, too!"

Of course, the McDonoughs aren't the only ones that have to eat. So every Christmas Eve, just before going to bed, the children set out cookies and milk for Santa, and a carrot for Rudolph.

From the angel's hair to the candy canes, the Walton kids enjoy decorating their special Christmas tree.

BEN

"My mother is a cookie specialist!"

18-year-old Eric Scott is one of those special people born right in Hollywood. "I think being raised in a show business atmosphere makes you more sensitive to other people," he says.

At Christmas, Eric enjoys being at home with his family and the good spirits the holiday brings. Not to mention the cookies. According to Eric, Mrs. Scott is an expert cookie baker. "My favorite is something Mom calls Spicy Gumdrops Hermits," he says. "She makes them every Christmas."

JIM-BOB

"Ever eat a Candy Cane Sundae?"

As one of the youngest members of the cast, 15-year-old David S. Harper seems almost unaware of his actor status.

Ask him about Christmas, and David will tell you it's great because "there's no school and you have more time to come up with all kinds of gooey ice-cream concoctions." One of his specialties is to crush peppermint candy canes on top of vanilla ice-cream, topped with chocolate sauce, whipped cream and cherries!

ELIZABETH

"I help my mother give 'finger-food' parties!"

Since both her parents work, Kami Cotter's family makes every effort to relax and see friends at Christmas. Mrs. Cotter likes to serve "finger-food" buffet parties and Kami enjoys helping. One of Kami's holiday specialties is to fill pitted dates with peanut butter and roll them in sugar. "If you roll some in colored sugar and some in white sugar, you can design them in a box and give them as a present," Kami explains.

Be sure to watch "The Homecoming"—a Christmas story—a special episode of "The Waltons" on Friday, December 24, at 9:00 PM (EST) on CBS.

Why do we use holly? What is "hackin"? What favorite Christmas character is a "squeezing old sinner"?

By Bill Colson

Q. Where did the tradition of trimming the Christmas tree begin?

A. Trimming a tree with ornaments dates as far back as ancient Rome, but Christmas-tree decorations, as such, probably originated in Germany in the 16th century, where trees were adorned with gilded nuts, apples, sugar figures, dolls and shepherds.

Q. How did the custom of sending cards at Christmas originate?

A. It most likely began in England in the early 19th century among the upper classes. Then, when reforms in the British postal system permitted cards to be sent at a uniform penny rate, the custom quickly spread.

Q. Why is St. Francis of Assisi important to Christmas?

A. He began the transformation of the carol from a solemn hymn to a festive song celebrating Christ's birth and is thought to have created the crèche.

Q. According to tradition, what is the proper way to kiss under the mistletoe?

A. Each person kissed is supposed to remove a berry. After the last berry has been picked, the kissing should end.

Q. The carol, "Joy to the World," is based on two famous sources. What are they?

A. The text of the carol is a paraphrase of Psalm 98, and the music is taken from various sections of Handel's The Messiah.

Q. What is the symbolic significance of holly?

A. The red berries symbolize Christ's blood; the sharp thorns His painful crown.

Q. What major American novel of the 1950's is also the title of a famous Christmas song?

A. Go Tell It on the Mountain, by James Baldwin.

Q. Who levied a fine for "observing any such day as Christmas"?

A. The Puritans of the Massachusetts Bay Colony.

Q. What is "hackin"?

A. Until the 18th century, plum pudding was known as "hackin" because its ingredients were hacked (chopped) before being mixed into the dessert.

CHRISTMAS QUIZ

Q. Which is the only Gospel to mention the Wise Men?

A. Matthew. Not mentioned, however, is how many Wise Men there were. The number is usually set at three because of the three gifts they brought to the Christ child (gold, frankincense and myrrh), but in some paintings and historical writings their number ranges from two to twelve.

Q. What Christmas plant was named after a United States ambassador?

A. The poinsettia was named after Dr. Joel Poinsett (1851), who served as U.S. Ambassador to Mexico. A native plant of Central America, it was brought by Dr. Poinsett to South Carolina, where it flourished.

Q. What Christian churches do not celebrate Christmas on December 25?

A. Many Eastern Orthodox churches throughout Russia and Eastern Europe follow the Julian rather than the Gregorian calendar and thus are thirteen days behind our dates. They celebrate Christmas on January 6.

Q. What do the following historical events have in common?

a) In 496 Clovis I, pagan king of the Franks, was baptized—an event which was the first real step toward the formation of the French nation.

b) In 800 Charlemagne was crowned Emperor of the West.

c) In 1066 William the Conqueror ascended England's throne.

d) In 1099 Christians celebrated the victory of the first Holy Crusade.

A. Each occurred on Christmas Day.

Q. According to the Bible, what animals were present at Jesus' birth?

A. The Bible mentions no animals at the birth, but later writers often added everything from donkeys to lambs—and even camels.

A. His sketch for Harper's Weekly in the 1860's (see illustration page 11) was largely responsible for transforming the Christmas-time gift giver from St. Nicholas, a slim austere patriarch in bishop's robes, to Santa Claus, the portly, figure in a red outfit.

Q. Who were Melchior, Balthasar and Caspar?

A. The three Wise Men were given these names around 900.

Q. How did Joseph and Mary know to take the infant Jesus to Egypt?

A. According to Matthew 2:13, an angel appeared to Joseph in a dream and said, "Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt . . . for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him."

Q. Name the author of the following passage, the work in which it appears and the person being described in it.

"Oh! But he was a tight-fisted hand at the grindstone . . . a squeezing, wrenching, grasping, scraping, clutching, covetous, old sinner! Hard and sharp as flint, from which no steel had ever struck out generous fire; secret, and self-contained, and solitary as an oyster. . . He iced his coffee in the dog-days; and didn't thaw it one degree at Christmas."

A. Charles Dickens; A Christmas Carol; Scrooge.

Proof of temporary relief from minor arthritic pain

PHILADELPHIA—Tests at a Philadelphia nursing home have shown that Mentholatum Deep Heating Rub brings hours of temporary relief to minor arthritic pain, and can help improve mobility. The tests were conducted at The Presbyterian Home for Widows and Single Women, with an instrument designed to measure grip strength. Each woman first tested her grip; then applied Mentholatum Deep Heating Rub. Its greaseless, stainless formula warms deep, eases stiffness, soothes pain. Hours later when tested again, the grip strength of most of those tested had significantly improved. Use as directed.

ON THIS WEEK'S COVER, A SPECTACULAR CHRISTMAS TREE

When Loretta Hines Howard presented her precious collection of Neapolitan Christmas crèche figures to New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art, little did she realize that its yearly installation at the foot of the Museum's giant tree would become a cherished event for people around the world. That angel on our cover is only one of 50 equally elegant and heavenly creatures—clad in swirling pastel draperies, their hair knotted by a mystical wind—who, seemingly by magic, hover suspended in adoration over the birth of the Christ child.

There are also shepherds carved to look like the real peasants they were modeled on, dozens of dimpled cherubs, hosts of country people, horses, sheep, oxen, goats—even an elephant. The three Magi are there—splendidly attired in long cloaks of silk embroidered with silver, gold and sequins. The figures are made of terra cotta and wood and are 12 to 15 inches high.

Because in the 18th century the queen of Naples and her ladies were often given the task of clothing the human figures, each is outfitted in exquisite detail. Even the buttons on cloaks and boots are tiny semi-precious stones. The Howard crèche combines two European traditions: the Northern European practice of decorating the Christmas tree, and the custom of Southern Europe, which calls for a reenactment of the Nativity scene.

Christmas crib building first made its appearance in Italy sometime around 1670. It was the favorite pastime of the leading families of the artocracy. The beautiful creatures of the Howard crèche may once have belonged to a crib set up by a famous Neapolitan family. But this year, they are in the Sculpture Garden of the Metropolitan Museum spokeswoman Maggie Burton says, "It's very beautiful, but it's more than that; it's an ideal stage setting for the most powerful drama ever—and in a perfect kind of theater."

It's handmade in Bavaria and the only one of its kind in the U.S.A. In front of the entrance is a lawn setting with a horse-drawn carriage waiting at its edge. Inside, there's a fully lighted hall of mirrors in which miniature dancing figures in 17th-century costumes cavort to the strains of "A Little Night Music."

If fun for the whole family is more what you had in mind, how about really surprising them on Christmas day with Your Own Amusement Park at just $2,000,000 an acre? You provide the land, and the fantasy spot is yours. Price tag includes a former Disney designer, parking, electricity and water. For those more interested in heritage than in high living, you now have the perfect gift—an autographed letter from President Thomas Jefferson to Col. John Taylor, dated March 14, 1821. A steal for only $8,500. It's said that one needs even heat distribution to make a good omelet. So be the hit of your neighborhood with this stocking present—solid-gold omelet pan for $30,000. We only hope it lives up to its promise to create the ultimate omelet each and every time. It features a rose-wood handle and a French oak box.

A Castle for Grownups at $835,000

Also includes four pounds of white truffles, four dozen double-yoked eggs and a documented essay on the omelet pan.

"Around the World in 80 Days" your secret fantasy? Do it after New Year's with a balloon trip to wherever your heart desires. May we suggest some sensational soaring above the Grand Canyon for $6,000? Includes an FAA licensed balloon pilot, limousine to the balloon and champagne.

You will, of course, want to move now that you're so rich. How about a revolving, round house? It's a steal at $835,000. The entire house can rotate to change the view at will or to follow—or elude—the sun. If you want to check the realtor, take a look at the houses of some of his ex-clients such as Bing Crosby, Bette Davis, various Rockefellers, Jackie Gleason, Guy Lombardo, Dean Martin, Jimmy Stewart, the late Billy Rose, Edmund de Rothschild, the late Duke of Windsor, Mary Martin, Charles Schultz and—last but not least—the Bank of New York.

ON THIS WEEK'S COVER, A SPECTACULAR CHRISTMAS TREE

When Loretta Hines Howard presented her precious collection of Neapolitan Christmas crèche figures to New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art, little did she realize that its yearly installation at the foot of the Museum's giant tree would become a cherished event for people around the world.

That angel on our cover is only one of 50 equally elegant and heavenly creatures—clad in swirling pastel draperies, their hair knotted by a mystical wind—who, seemingly by magic, hover suspended in adoration over the birth of the Christ child.

There are also shepherds carved to look like the real peasants they were modeled on, dozens of dimpled cherubs, hosts of country people, horses, sheep, oxen, goats—even an elephant. The three Magi are there—splendidly attired in long cloaks of silk embroidered with silver, gold and sequins. The figures are made of terra cotta and wood and are 12 to 15 inches high.

Because in the 18th century the queen of Naples and her ladies were often given the task of clothing the human figures, each is outfitted in exquisite detail. Even the buttons on cloaks and boots are tiny semi-precious stones. The Howard crèche combines two European traditions: the Northern European practice of decorating the Christmas tree, and the custom of Southern Europe, which calls for a re-enactment of the Nativity scene.

Christmas crib building first made its appearance in Italy sometime around 1670. It was the favorite pastime of the leading families of the aristocracy. The beautiful creatures of the Howard crèche may once have belonged to a crib set up by a famous Neapolitan family. But this year, they are in the Sculpture Garden of the Metropolitan. Museum spokeswoman Maggie Burton says, "It's very beautiful, but it's more than that; it's an ideal stage setting for the most powerful drama ever—and in a perfect kind of theater."
